YELLOW IS MELLOW

Kissinger Runs Into Tap Problem

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Henry A. Kissinger declined today to tell senators the results of taps on telephones of 17 of his aides beginning in 1969. Two members of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee said they would attempt to block his confirmation as secretary of state until they got an FBI report on the matter.

Testifying before a congressional committee for the first time in his 4 ½ years as President Nixon's top foreign affairs adviser, Kissinger was questioned closely and at length about surveillance of his White House national security staff.

Kissinger presumably acknowledged approving the wiretaps as part of a general White House effort to find the source of news leaks of sensitive matters.

Kissinger testified that some security leaks from his staff were discovered and "appropriate action was taken." But he said "I would prefer not to go into individual cases" —even in executive session.

He contended that the decision whether to make the information available rested with the FBI and the Justice Department.

Chairman J. William Fulbright, D-Ark., said he asked the FBI previously for a written summary it had prepared on the wiretaps and his request was turned down.

Sen. Clifford P. Case, R-N.J., told Kissinger if the FBI report is not provided, "it should be clear the committee will not be in a position to act on the nomination." Fulbright said he agreed.

Sen. George D. Aiken, R-Vt., urged the committee not to delay confirmation. He noted that the United Nations convenes at the end of September and Kissinger's presence will be required there.

In a six-page statement at the outset of the hearing, Kissinger said that although the Nixon administration differs with the congressionally ordered halt of U. S. bombing of Cambodia "it will not attempt to circumvent it."

Seeking a speedy confirmation as successor to William P. Rogers, Kissinger also outlined his position on executive privilege since he will also retain the title of national security affairs adviser to the President.

"In my new capacity," he said, "I shall be prepared to testify formally on all my activities. In other words, I shall testify with respect to all matters traditionally covered by secretaries of state and on my duties as assistant to the president concerning interdepartmental issues.

"I will not claim executive privilege in either capacity except for the one area customarily invoked by cabinet officers, that is, direct communications with the President or the actual

A Severe Setback Given Oceanside Suburban Sprawl

Coastal Panel Action Could Affect Thousands Of Lots

By PAUL E. PETERZELL

Development of subdivisions that would interfere with westward views from Shoreline Highway was banned last night by the North Central Coast Regional Commission in its toughest conservation vote to date. (See related story, page 11.)

The action, with only one vote to spare, broadened the commission's previous ban on homes that would block direct views of the ocean. The decision could affect thousands of lots, many of them already sold.

Commissioner Melville Owen of Kentfield objected to the move, calling it was "overkill." If the commission is too tough now, it will hurt the chance of creating a permanent commission after the current one goes out of existence in three years, he said.

A majority of his colleagues, however, insisted it was time to halt development of subdivisions that threatened the coast with suburban sprawl. Unless the density of proposed subdivisions is slashed, several argued, no more homes should be permitted.

Commissioner Kenneth M. Stocking of Santa Rosa, who called for the ban, brushed aside as "irrelevant" contentions by those who said it could mean the state would have to buy up undeveloped lots.

At issue were two applica-

Guerrillas Agree To Exit Kuwait

KUWAIT (UPI) — Five Arab guerrillas agreed to leave Kuwait today on the same plane that brought them here, the Middle East News Agency said, and a Palestinian guerrilla negotiator said he was "optimistic the crisis is about to be "solved."

The agreement came after the commandos threatened to throw their five Saudi Arabian hostages out of an airborne plane unless Kuwait and Saudi Arabia pressured Jordan into releasing a jailed Palestinian guerrilla leader within the next 12 hours.

The news agency said a representative of the Palestinian Liberation Organization (PLO) convinced the guerrillas to transfer from their Kuwait Airlines Boeing 707, where they spent the night and most the day on the ground except for a 3 ½ hour flight over Saudi Arabia, to the same Syrian jet which flew them from Paris.

Ali Yassin, the PLO representative, talked with the guerrillas a few minutes.

Afterward he said, "I am optimistic the crisis is about to be solved." Yassin negotiated with the commandos on the tarmac of the airport here, the agency said.

The commandos refused a Kuwaiti offer of safe conduct, but Yassin said he would negotiate futher with Kuwaiti government officials.

"The commandos have agreed to leave Kuwait with their hostages aboard the Syrian plane after I hold negotiations in this connection with Kuwaiti officials," Yassin said.

Death Penalty Passes Assembly

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — Legislation restoring capital punishment in California and making death mandatory for 11 crimes returned to the Senate today for expected easy final passage to Gov. Ronald Reagan.

The bill, by Sen. George Deukmejian, R-Long Beach, represented the efforts of law enforcement officers statewide to reinstate the ultimate penalty after it was ruled unconstitutional last year by the state Supreme Court.

The measure (SB450) cleared its last major hurdle yesterday when the Assembly overwhelmingly approved it 52-25 after three hours of debate and sent it to the Senate for concurrence in amendments.

Assemblyman William T. Bagley, R-San Rafael, was among those voting in favor.

Assembly Republican leader Robert Beverly of Manhattan Beach implored his colleagues to pass the bill to "save your sister, or mother, or daughter" from criminal attack. Opponents declared it paved the way for "parading hundreds of people to the gas chamber."

The bill calls for mandatory death of hired assassins; police slayers; mass murderers; life termers who kill prison guards; train wrecking resulting in death; persons who commit murder during rape, robbery, kidnaping, burglary and lewd acts; and those who kill witnesses to crime.

Death already is automatic in case of treason or perjury resulting in the execution of an innocent person.

Attorney General Evelle Younger hailed Assembly approval of the bill as a "solid victory" for death penalty advocates while Democratic Assembly Sepaker Bob Moretti, an opponent, accepted the defeat stoically.

"It is the will of the people and the majority of the Legislature," said Moretti, a gubernatorial contender who had been accused by death penalty supporters of stacking the Criminal Justice Committee so it would kill the proposal.

The state court ruled capital punishment was "cruel and usual" punishment.

Admission Day Closings Are Listed

Most state, county and city offices, libraries, schools and banks will close Monday in observance of Admission Day. All federal offices and most business firms will remain open. However, most schools will not begin classes until Tuesday.

Corte Madera, Novato and Petaluma city offices will remain open, as will the Petaluma library.

Marin and Sonoma County courts will be closed, but the state holiday won't affect mail deliveries.

The Independent-Journal will publish as usual.

Corte Madera Planning Commission, 7:30 p.m., town hall.

Marinwood Fire Commission, 7:30 p.m., community center.

Mill Valley School District board, 8 p.m., Middle School.

Giant Wholesale Jump In August

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Wholesale prices rose 5.8 per cent in August, the biggest advance in a single month since 1946, the government reported today.

Farm prices, freed from the restraints of the price freeze, shot up by 23 per cent —more than three times the previous record for a single month.

Grain prices and many animal feeds increased dramatically —in the case of grain by 70 per cent. This was viewed as an ominous sign for shoppers at the meat market since farmers paying higher costs for feed usually pass the burden along to consumers.

The wholesale price report by the Labor Department's Bureau of Labor Statistics (BLS) came five days before the scheduled lifting of ceilings on beef prices and bore out predictions by administration economic officials last month.

The report brought an instant denunciation of administration economic policies by AFL-CIO President George Meany. He called the latest figures "beyond belief" and attacked Pres-

Public Asked To Help Pick New Councilmen

The youthful Cotati City Council last night waved the olive branch to older community residents by inviting them to help select two new councilmen. (Another Cotati City Council story, page 8.)

The council called a town meeting for Sept. 16 at 7 p.m. so that all factions of the politically divided community can participate in interviewing candidates. Council members said they needed direction from all residents in making the appointments.

The three councilmen must find replacements for Councilmen Frank P. Dolinsek and Herbert T. Winter, who resigned after an attempt to recall the trio failed Tuesday.

Councilman Annette Lombardi pushed for a special election to fill the vacancies , but other council members said appointments would save money and take less time.

A special election could not be held until late this year and the persons elected would have to stand for reelection in April when the terms of Winter and Dolinsek expire.

Spending $1,800 on a special election, doesn't seem justified," Mayor Geoffrey Dunham said.

Dunham said council applicants must apply by next Friday and to be prepared to answer questions from the public at the town meeting.

"We're really in a bind," Miss Lombardi said. "We need strong opinions from a good cross section of the city if we're to make the right appointments."

Applicants must have been Cotati residents for at least a year. Applications may be submitted at city hall or to any of the councilmen, Dunham said.

Ramie Ahlstrom, one of the recall leaders, spoke against the meeting plan. "You'd only have more fights at a town meeting," she said. "People are still bitter and tension is high. Maybe it would be best for you just to go ahead and appoint people."

"We must become one town again and learn to forget sometime," Miss Lombardi said.

Cotati Tax Rate Will Stay Same

The Cotati City Council decided against last-minute budget cuts last night and set the city's 1973-74 tax rate at $1.25 per $100 assessed valuation —the same as last year's rate.

Councilmen had promised stringent budget reductions and a lower property tax rate two months ago, but found a tax cut to be impossible.

Mayor Geoffrey Dunham blamed the dilemma on bad bookkeeping by former City Mgr. Paul W. Salfen. "His over estimates of revenues in the budget make any tax reduction impossible," he said.

Councilman Annette Lombardi urged last minute reductions in city vehicles to reduce taxes, but won no support from her colleagues.

The $453,775 budget has not yet been formally adopted by the council, but state law requires the tax rate to be set before Sept. 15.

Street Repaving Delays Seen In San Rafael

Street repaving throughout San Rafael will cause brief delays for motorists next week, according to City Engineer Ely Caillouette Jr.

Streets involved are: Mission Street from Irwin Street to Grand Avenue; Maderly Road from Lichinvar Road to Lochness Lane; Dorian Way from Inverness Drive; Woodland Avenue from Lindaro Street to Lovell Avenue; Lincoln Avenue from Second to Irwin streets; Woodland Avenue from B Street to Mariposa Road, and San Rafael Avenue from Clark to D streets.

The project will continue for the next month.

Innocent Plea To Ellsberg Break-In

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — David Young, a White House aide who was close to Henry Kissinger, entered a plea of innocent today on charges of burglary in the break-in at the office of Daniel Ellsberg's psychiatrist.

Young appeared before Superior Court Judge James G. Kolts and after entering his plea was released without being required to post bail.

I-J FEATURING TIPS ON HOMES

Today's Independent-Journal presents its annual Parade of Homes Edition, a 28-page full-sized edition.

The edition contains pictures and descriptions of Marin and Sonoma homes and apartments and also provides ideas on home planning, site selection, decorating tips, landscaping and home improvement.

Faire, Birthday Fete Top Weekend Events

Rohnert Park's 11th anniversary birthday party and the Renaissance Pleasure Faire will highlight events planned in Marin and Southern Sonoma this weekend.

The Founders' Day celebration starts today with a pageant to select Miss Rohnert Park at 8 p.m. at the Rohnert Park Junior High School. Contestants from Rancho Cotate High School are competing for the title and the winner will reign over the birthday festivities.

Tomorrow the celebration will include a bicycle parade, games, booths, an antique show, art fair, hay rides and a dance.

Events scheduled Sunday are a breakfast, hot air balloon rides, contests and fireworks.

The Renaissance Faire, complete with gypsies, wandering minstrels, ancient crafts, pageants, parades and other entertainments, will continue tomorrow and Sunday from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m.

The re-creation of a 16th century harvest faire and market festival is held in an oak forest off Highway 37 near the Black Point area of Novato.

Other events on the entertainment calendar are:

TONIGHT

"Last of the Red Hot Lovers," by Novato Community Players, 8:30 p.m., Novato Community House.

TOMORROW

Musical "Jack and the Beanstalk," by the Sunshine Theater Company of Marin, 11 a.m. and 1 p.m. Community Congregational Church of Belvedere-Tiburon.

"Last of the Red Hot Lovers," 8:30 p.m., Novato Community Players, Novato Community House.

Krogh: Burglary Was A 'Mistake'

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — Egil (Bud) Krogh has pleaded innocent to the burglary of Daniel Ellsberg's psychiatrist, admitting he authorized the break-in but saying that at the time he was convinced the covert operation was "fully authorized and lawful."

The former White House aide to President Nixon surrendered himself to custody in a county court yesterday and was promptly released without being required to post bail.

Krogh was the first of the "Watergate West" defendants to appear for arraignment. Others indicted were John D. Ehrlichman, David Young and G. Gordon Liddy.

Curly haired and youthful in appearance, Krogh talked with reporters briefly in the corridor outside the courtroom after telling Superior Judge James G. Kolts that he was "not guilty."

Krogh said that he thought the burglary was a "mistake" immediately after he learned of the details and regretted it had occurred.

Government Will Not Enter Auto Rounds

DETROIT (UPI) — The federal government has no intention of "butting in" on contract talks between the United Auto Workers and Chrysler Corp. Although a possible strike is just a week away, Labor Secretary Peter Brennan said yesterday.

Brennan met with UAW President Leonard Woodcock for about 20 minutes, but denied there was any attempt to pressure the union leader. Chrysler and UAW bargainers are working under a strike deadline set for 11:59 p.m., Sept. 14, when the current contract covering 127,500 workers expires.

"I'm not here to try to pressure or ask Mr. Woodcock or anybody to do anything they feel is not fair and I'm sure he wouldn't do it anyway," Brennan told newsmen in the hallway of a downtown Detroit hotel.

The top company and union negotiators are continuing their discussions at the "little big table" of economic issues under a partial blackout on information to the news media.

Scientists Astounded By Quake Variations

BERKELEY (UPI) —Scientists recounted yesterday how newly developed instruments measured the variation of shaking within a five-mile radius during the San Fernando, Calif., earthquake of 1971.

"It has astounded me to see how widely varying motions produced by an earthquake can be," said Ray W. Clough, a University of California professor.

Clough spoke at a seminar of Japanese and U.S. engineering specialists.

The scientists were told that the damage in the Anchorage, Alaska, earthquake of 1964 and Japanese quakes of the same year did not seem to follow normal patterns.

H. Kobayashi of the Tokyo Institute of Technology said much of the damage in the Japanese quakes resulted from "a failure of soils" rather than weak construction. The quakes tilted some buildings at radical angles but left the structures intact.

Scientists were able to use new instruments developed after the 1964 experiences to measure the California earthquake in 1971.

It was found that ground motions at some points were twice the motions at other points within a five-mile radius, the scientists said.

The differences resulted from soil conditions, elevations and depressions as well as other geographical features.

WIRE NEWS BRIEFS From Everywhere

Young Climber

MADRID (UPI) — An eight-year-old Washington state girl has become the youngest known person to conquer 19,340-ft. Mount Kilimanjaro, Africa's highest peak, her parents said today.

Pigtailed Samantha White of Steilacoom, Wash., the daughter of a security policeman stationed at Torrejon Air Base, returned to Madrid with her parents after scaling the mountain last month.

Carrying souvenirs and rolls of film to prove their feat, Samantha's father Sgt. William White said he and his family, plus an African guide, reached Gillman's Point on the rim of Mount Kilimanjaro's crater after a three-day climb.

Chinese Rockets

LONDON (UPI) — China has deployed nuclear rockets that can reach Moscow and most parts of Asia, the International Institute for Strategic Studies said in its latest world defense survey yesterday.

It also said the Chinese have developed an intercontinental ballistic missile capable of reaching the United States.

The survey, entitled "The Military Balance 1973-74," said China continued to develop her nuclear armory while the Soviet Union had one quarter of its army divisions concentrated in the Chinese border areas.

Sun Pictures

HOUSTON (UPI) — The Skylab 2 astronauts snapped pictures yesterday of a violent sun erupting with the fury of 100 million earthquakes and relayed the photographs to delighted solar scientists on Earth.

"We will have more data and better data from this one Skylab mission than from the total of past missions," said Dr. Ed Reeves of the Harvard College Observatory, one of the researchers studying the pictures of the sun.

Khadafy Speech

ALGIERS (UPI) — Col. Moammer Khadafy, the fiery leader of Libya, told a meeting of nonaligned nations yesterday they would never reach a joint economic policy as a force against the industrialized world.

"It is impossible for this group to take any common economic action despite the suggestions made," Khadafy said. "What we should do and pledge is that none of us should associate economically with international monopolies. . .or get involved militarily with either of the two big blocs."

Khadafy's speech, which drew applause and sometimes laughter from the elegantly garbed chiefs of state, accused many of them in strong terms of hypocrisy for saying they were nonaligned.

Guerrilla Vow

BUENOS AIRES (UPI) — The Argentine government vowed last night to crush leftist guerrilla groups after a soldier was killed and two others wounded when raiders attacked an army supply depot.

The Peronist government, which freed imprisoned guerrillas as a goodwill gesture when it came to power May 25, issued a tough statement promising to throw the "full weight of the law" against guerrilla groups.

Cholera Spreads

NAPLES, Italy (UPI) — An outbreak of cholera blamed on tainted mussels from the Bay of Naples reached the northern Italian city of Bologna yesterday, health officials said.

The officials said a single case, confirmed by tests, was that of a man who had recently visited the stricken cities of Naples and Bari in the south and eaten mussels in Bari.

Viet Clash

SAIGON (UP) — The South Vietnamese command today said government and guerrilla forces clashed for the fifth day in a row in the Central Highlands, with 29 soldiers slain in a 19-hour battle.

The command reported 27 Communists and two Saigon soldiers killed in the heavy fighting yesterday around Kontum, 260 miles north of Saigon. Fourteen government soldiers were reported wounded.

Irish Slaying

BELFAST (UPI) — A man believed to be a part-time soldier was shot to death today near the border with Ireland.

A police spokesman said the shooting took place near Belcoo, in County Fermanagh, the same area where a farmer died in a land mine blast on Wednesday.

Berkeley School Strike Possible

BERKELEY (UPI) — Some 500 Berkeley Unified School District employes voted last night to initiate action which could lead to a strike to back demands for higher pay.

The balloting took place at a meeting of the Berkeley Alliance of School Employes.

Those on hand decided to recommend that their professional associations and unions consider a walkout in the event such an action was necessary to support their demands.

There are some 1,800 district employes and this number included 1,100 credentialed teachers. They had demanded a 5.75 per cent cost-of-living salary hike, but the district refused to grant this.

Hot Line For Health Is Opened

MOSCOW (UPI) — The United States and the Soviet Union inaugurated a hot line for health today to exchange information in their joint medical program.

A communique issued at the end of a five-day visit by Caspar W. Weinberger, the Secretary of Health, Education and Welfare, said also that the two countries agreed to add arthritis as a research field in the program.

The agreement on medical science and public health, signed by Soviet leaders and President Nixon during his May 1972 visit here, called originally for joint study on heart disease, cancer and environmental health.

The communique said the two sides would consider in the next year whether to add influenza to the program.

Weinberger and Soviet health minister Boris V. Petrovsky inaugurated the direct telex hotline to enable scientists to exchange information and data immediately. The communique was transmitted as the first message.

After the hot line was opened, Petrovsky and Weinberger held a news conference at which the Soviet minister was asked if he was aware of a U.S. Senate report on the alleged use of psychiatric treatment for political repression in the USSR.

Petrovsky said the report is "not serious and not based on any serious psychiatric study."

He said the report is "not useful to enhancing cooperation between our countries."

Price Cuts Draw Many Customers

By U. P. INTERNATIONAL

A supermarket group in Buffalo, N.Y., proved yesterday that one way to get customers is to lower prices.

The Harvest Supermarkets, 12 stores, cut prices across the board by 20 per cent because of a financial crisis.

Shoppers jammed the stores, some of them pushing as many as three carts, to take advantage of the price decrease. There were occasional arguments over goods in short supply.

Meats, eggs, tuna , milk, flour and some household goods were sold out by nightfall.

Harvest said it may be forced out of business because its principal bank is calling in its loans.

"You know," the assistant manager of one store said with a grin, "at least we're going out of business with a bang."

In other price news, Exxon Corp. raised its wholesale price of gasoline by one cent a gallon. In most cases, dealers cannot pass on the increase to motorists.

Exxon said it had to raise prices because of higher costs of importing oil.

Retail gasoline prices are frozen under Phase IV through today. After that stations can raise prices to a markup of 7 cents a gallon or to a markup equal to that of last Jan. 10, whichever is higher. Since many dealers already are at the 7-cent limit, they will not be able to pass along the increase.

Exxon also announced an increase in domestic prices of home heating oil and kerosene by 0.85 cents a gallon. This also most be borne by the retailers.

The New York City Consumer Affairs Department reported that costs for feeding a family of four last week fell by six-tenths of one per cent. Commissioner Betty Furness said the market basket of 37 grocery items cost $54.53 for the week ending Aug. 31, compared with $54.87 the week before.

The wholesale price of a pound of white bread in Hawaii will rise two cents next week.

Hog prices on Iowa markets dropped $5 to $6.50 per hundred weight. Market spokesmen said lack of demand and excessive supply were responsible.

Students Hijack, Burn Three Buses

NEW DELHI (UPI) —Police said Delhi University students protesting irregular bus service hijacked eight of the vehicles today and set three of them on fire.

Police said the rampaging students also set fire to a police radio control van.

Long Hair Rules Hurting Reserve

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Maj. Gen. J. Milnor Roberts, chief of the Army Reserve, says Army rules against long hair are making it harder for him to maintain his service's manpower level.

"It certainly doesn't help recruiting or retention," he said in an interview yesterday. The Army Reserves are 10 per cent under strength.

Gen. Roberts said he and other Reserve and National Guard officers tried but failed last fall to get the Army to relax its rules requiring close cropped moustaches and sideburns no lower than the earhole.

Israeli Passports Are Reported Stolen

TEL AVIV (UPI) —Police said today 132 Israeli passports were stolen from the Italian consulate three days ago. They said they have not discovered any motive for the burglary.

A consulate secretary told police that the consulate was burglarized when the offices were closed. Nothing else was stolen, police said.

An Encephalitis Case Is Reported

TRENTON, N.J. (UPI) —An 18-month old Hammonton, N.J., child has contracted Eastern Encephalitis—a severe illness transmitted from animals to humans by infected mosquitoes, the state Department of Health said yesterday.

The department said the unidentified child contracted the disease Aug. 22, and has been hospitalized.

Five cases of horses infected with the disease have been identified in New Jersey, the department said, but the chance of individuals contracting the disease is "infinitesimally small."

Terror Spree Being Probed

A third man may have been involved in the rape and robbery of two couples in Terra Linda and Lucas Valley late Wednesday night and early yesterday, San Rafael police said today.

"The possibility exists that more than two men" rampaged through the two homes, bound the husbands with electrical cord and raped the wives, according to Capt. Lincoln Borba. He did not elaborate.

Borba noted that both couples provided police with descriptions of only two men. Both the Terra Linda and the Lucas Valley victims said at least one of the men referred to a partner as "Bill" or "Billy".

Marin County Sheriff's deputies said they believe the names are false ones since the men used them repeatedly to refer to each other.

San Rafael police have described the two men who terrorized the Terra Linda couple as Caucasians, while sheriff's deputies have described one of the men who terrorized the Lucas Vlley couple as being a mulatto.

Borba said local police have no suspects and no new information on the case.

Borba urged residents to lock their doors, and not to open them to strangers at night.

KISSINGER

deliberations of the National Security Council," Kissinger said.

The question of Kissinger's dual role and past claims of executive privilege in discussions of administration diplomacy were touchy subjects facing Kissinger at the hearings, although his confirmation was expected.

He said that in the past four years "there were many delicate initiatives that required a high degree of secrecy and concentration of effort."

During that time he said "crucial foundations were laid" for a more permanent structure of peace which could be passed on to future administrations.

But now, he added, "there must be a closer relationship between the executive and legislative branches."

"It is the President's objective to make policy more accessible to the scrutiny and the views of Congress," he said.

Calling for a restoration of bipartisanship in foreign policy, Kissinger said: "We do not ask for rubberstamping and we cannot expect unanimity."

He said the administration "cannot give up basic principles," but said: "We shall work to shape a broad consensus on our national goals and to confine differences to tactical issues"

He promised "an open articulation of our philosophy, our purposes and our actions."

Dressed in a dark blue suit, Kissinger first sat through a five-minute lecture by Fulbright against "policies made in secret by executive fiat" and then walked to the witness stand to raise his right hand to take the oath. The first words he uttered were:

"I was born in 1923 in the city of Perth in Germany..."

Trial Ordered In Check Case

A San Rafael man already awaiting trial on a check fraud charge was bound over yesterday to Marin Superior Court for trial on a second bad check count.

Aldo Barberini, 41, waived his right to a preliminary hearing, at which a judge ordinarily determines if there is enough evidence to hold a defendant.

Municipal Judge David R. Baty then ordered Barberini to appear Tuesday in the higher court.

Barberini, awaiting trial on two counts of check fraud, is accused in the latest complaint of passing two bad checks totaling $244 in a San Rafael men's store Aug. 29.

Stocking and others pushed for the ban after viewing a photograph of the open meadow in which the two homes were proposed. Up to 200 homes eventually will fill up the meadow, based on existing plans.

Commissionrs voted 7-to-6 to approve the two permits, one vote short of the majority needed for approval. San Francisco Supervisors John L. Molinari was absent. Molinari generally sides with property owners seeking permits, but also generally is absent.

Clearly in the mind of many commissioners was the specter of the Sea Ranch after it is built to its subdivided capacity of 5,200 homes, roughly three-quarters of them between Shoreline Highway and the ocean. Only about 300 already have been built.

The development will be the largest community between San Francisco and Eureka.

The action also was the first that failed to support a staff recommendation for a permit.

Voting to grant the two permits were Marin County Supervisor Michael Wornum, Marin County Planning Commissioner Margaret Azevedo, Fairfax City Councilman Frank J. Egger, Dr. Bradford W. Lundborg of Santa Rosa, Owen, Sonoma County Supervisor Bob Theiller and Wanka Zankich of Bodega Bay.

Opposing the permits were Phyllis Faber of Mill Valley, Pleasant Hill Vice Mayor Lenard E. Grote, Ellen Johnck of San Francisco, Santa Rosa Vice Mayor Gregory Jones, San Francisco Supervisor Robert H. Mendelsohn and Stocking.

The vote came at almost midnight, five hours after the commission began its seven-hour session.

Reverdy Johnson, attorney for the Sea Ranch, said he assumed the denials will be appealed to the state coastal commission. He told the Independent-Journal that he could find no legal basis for the denials.

The commission showed it felt quite different about subdivisions on the other side of the highway when it unanimously approved permits for two homes in the Sereno del Mar subdivision north of Bodega Bay. Conservationists argued unsuccessfully the subdivision should be redesigned to reduce density, even though streets and utilities already have been completed.

Owen cautioned that cutting subdivision density will raise home costs so high that only "transients and rich people" will be able to afford to live on the coast.

Quick End Urged On Sewer Job

The San Anselmo Chamber of Commerce, learning that new delays are plaguing the downtown sewer excavation project, yesterday urged that the contractors finish the job by Oct. 1 or "move out" within five days.

The Ross Valley Sanitary District's contract with the Healy-Tibbitts Construction Co. called for completion of the first phase of the undergrounding project last Friday, but delays have stretched the project through this week. The contractors had pledged to be finished by today, but unstable soil under the Tunstead Avenue intersection downtown has caused further delays, according to chamber president James Reed.

"It's a hell of a mess," he said. "If next year's project gets screwed up like this year, we're going to have business failures," he declared. Reed was to meet today with representatives of the Ross Valley Sanitary District to discuss the problem.

tages from the plane was made during a three-hour flight that took the guerrillas and their hostages over Saudi Arabia, airport sources said.

The guerrillas flew from Paris, where they had seized the Saudi Arabian embassy on Wednesday. They demanded — and got — the larger Kuwaiti 707 to replace the Syrian Caravelle jet they used to get from Paris.

The guerrillas had issued Kuwaiti authorities negotiating from the airport control tower to the plane on the runway a 12-hour deadline to deliver the jailed guerrilla chiftain, Abou Daoud, airport sources said.

The guerrillas apparently were foiled in an earlier effort to negotiate directly with Saudi officials in Riyadh, the capital of Saudi Arabia. They forced their Kuwait Airways 707 plane to fly over Saudi Arabia for 3-½ hours, approaching both Riyadh and Amman, but did not land at either airport.

After talking by radio to Saudi deputy interior minister Prince Nayef Ben Abdel Aziz, according to Saudi Jeddah radio, the guerrillas ordered the plane to return to Kuwait.

San Franciscan Held In Attack

A San Francisco man was arrested yesterday on a warrant charging him with raping an 18-year-old woman and forcing her to perform an act of sex perversion on July 12.

Steven Halberstadt, 32, also known as Steven Miller, was being held in Marin County Jail in lieu of $10,000 bail to appear today in Marin Municipal Court.

Marin sheriff's deputies said Halberstadt's photo was identified by his victim as the man who picked her up at a Mill Valley bus stop, promised her a ride to San Francisco, then took her to a concrete bunker at Fort Barry and assaulted her.

ECONOMY

ident Nixon for vetoing a new minimum wage bill Thursday.

The BLS said the overall, unadjusted increase in wholesale prices of 5.8 per cent in August was the highest surge for any month since July, 1946. The rise that month was 10.7 per cent, reflecting an inflationary pattern that followed World War II.

The August increase, when adjusted for seasonal factors, was put at 6.2 per cent — largest hike for any month since the government began taking seasonal considerations into account in 1947.

August wholesale prices stood 19 per cent above the level of August, 1972.

In a statement, Meany said: "The President has made a mess out of the economy and he can't pass the blame to Congress, to workers, to the poor, to the consumer or to anyone else. All his economic game plans, freezes and phases are an absolute failure."

Although wholesale prices usually are regarded as a harbinger of cost movements at the retail level, economists said the outlook no was uncertain —particularly for beef prices.

The beef price freeze is scheduled to come off Wednesday and some cattlenen are said to have been holding back the supply of meat animals on th assumption that they will start getting higher prices without the constraints of controls. But there has been speculation that the rush to market once the ceilings are removed would produce a glut and cause prices to drop.

In a separate report, the BLS estimated unemployment in August at 4.8 per cent of the work force. That was up from 4.7 per cent in July, but such fractional increases are considered insignificant. The number of Americans holding jobs remained stable for the second straight month.

Meany, in fresh criticism of Nixon for vetoing the minimum wage bill, asked: "How in the name of simple decency could the President deny the worst paid workers in America an increase in their minimum wage when they have to pay these prices when they reach the retail level?"

Building Site To Be Studied

The Tiburon Planning Commission has decided to look over the site of a proposed new education building for the Richardson Bay Audubon Sanctuary before approving the plan.

Richard G. Arjo, director of community development, said commissioners want to be sure the building will not interfere with views of nearby residents.

The building, which includes a new manager's residence, will stand on a corner of the Audubon property near the Cove apartments on Greenwood Beach Road.

The commission at its Wednesday meeting also approved a subdivision map for the eight-unit Reed Park cluster development on Round Hill Road.

Lockup Is Ending At San Quentin

Only the 732 inmates in San Quentin Prison's East cellblock remained locked up today, as prison officials were gradually returning the men to normal routine.

Almost all of the prison's 2,672 inmates were confined to their cells after two stabbings last week, according to prison information officer William D. Nyberg. One inmate was killed by stabbing and two others were injured by shots from guard's weapons.

Nyberg said prison officials may meet today to plan for returning the East cellblock inmates to normal routine.

OBITUARIES

Funeral Set Tomorrow For Leslie E. Wolbert

Funeral for Leslie E. Wolbert, former superintendent of the Pacific Gas and Electric Co.'s overhead and underground electric department in San Rafael, will be tomorrow in Paradise, Butte County.

Wolbert, 81, died Thursday in a Paradise hospital after a brief illness. He had moved to Paradise following his retirement in 1957 after 40 years with PG&E.

As North Bay superintendent, Wolbert supervised construction and maintenance of all electrical lines in Marin, Sonoma, Lake and Napa Counties and portions of Contra Costa and Mendocino counties.

He and his wife, Izilla, were San Rafael residents and Wolbert was a charter member of the San Rafael Optimists Club.

He was also a life member of the order of the Eastern Star in San Mateo, a member of the High Twelve Club in Paradise and a former member of the Butte County Republican Central Committee and the Paradise Fire Protection Board.

In World War I he served in a California ambulance corps.

Fairfax Gets Ready For Septemberfest

Buxom beer hall girls, imported beer and a lively polka band will highlight the second annual Fairfax Septemberfest Sept. 15 in the Fairfax Pavilion.

The event, featuring German food and music by Joe Smeil and his Bavarian band, will be from 7 p.m. to 1 a.m., according to Irma Kay, parks and recreation commissioner.

German sausage, sauerkraut and black bread will be offered, she said.

"This is the time when townspeople break bread together and have a good time," said City Administrator Robert E. Crowe. More than 600 townspeople are expected to attend.

The festival is sponsored by the Fairfax Parks and Recreation Commission. More information and tickets may be obtained at town hall.

Woman Becomes A State Trooper

ALBANY, N.Y. (UPI) — Regina M. Robbins yesterday officially broke the previously all-male "long gray line" of New York state troopers stretching back to 1917.

Miss Robbins, an attractive brunette from New Woodstock, and 125 males were sworn into the Division of State Police by Supt. William E. Kirwan at brief ceremonies at the unit's academy.

PRESIDENT'S BROTHER — Donald Nixon, brother of the President, waved off newsmen with a "no comment" after he was spotted amongst guests at the opening of a Marriott Hotel in Los Angeles and asked by newsmen to answer questions about the story that his telephone had been tapped on orders from his brother. Ferry Site Projects Abandoned

I-J Special Report

SAN FRANCISCO — Controversial plans for commercial development on new bay fill at the Larkspur ferry terminal were abandoned yesterday by the Golden Gate Bridge District.

While the development was shifted to existing fill, no change was made in its contemplated size. The Sierra Club and Marin Conservation League have objected that too much commercial space was planned — up to 125,000 square feet, or more than half the size of the Sears store in Northgate.

The shift to existing fill was announced at yesterday's Bay Conservation and Development Commission meeting to head off similar objections from the commission's staff. The plan change yanked the issue out of the commission's broad jurisdiction over new fill, leaving it only with power to assure public access to the shoreline in the commercial areas. The City of Larkspur still would have control of the commercial development.

Marin County Supervisor Michael Wornum, a director of the bridge district, said commercial development was needed to attract ferry patronage weekends and between peak commuter hours.

District officials disclosed the terminal site has been redesigned as commissioners adopted staff comments on a draft environmental impact report on the project. The BCDC staff praised the report as "one of the best we've received," but asked for more detail in the final version.

Quarantine Signs Draw Lone Bidder

Directors of the Bolinas Community Public Utility District have decided to keep two controversial quarantine signs since no one else is willing to pay enough to buy them.

The highest bid received at Wednesday's board meeting was $3.10 per sign, according to Lyman Robinson, who said the signs cost $115 apiece to build. The bidder said he wanted to use them to build a chicken coop.

Robinson said directors have no immediate plans for the signs, which warn of hazards from contact with polluted waters at Bolinas Beach and Lagoon. They were taken down after residents complained the signs were designed to keep people from coming to Bolinas.

Directors also received a long-range water plan by consulting engineer William J. Oswald at the meeting and will discuss it at 7:30 p.m. Wednesday in the district office.

Did Nixon Wiretap His Brother?

WASHINGTON (UPI) —The chairmen of two congressional subcommittees are trying to find out whether President Nixon wiretapped his brother, Donald. The White House isn't saying.

Deputy White House Press Secretary Gerald L. Warren said yesterday that if monitoring of the President's immediate family took place "it would have been related to the protective function of the Secret Service. I'm not going beyond this."

Warren said that after talking with the President he would have no comment on "any specific charges" in a Washington Post story quoting sources as saying the Secret Service wiretapped Donald Nixon's telephone for more than a year at the President's request.

Meanwhile, Sen. Joseph M. Montoya, D-N.M., and Rep. Tom Steed, D-Okla., chairmen of subcommittees which allocated funds to the Secret Service, said they want explanations in writing from the Secret Service.

"The wiretaps being reported would seem to have no connection with national security and would seem to be outside of the scope of Secret Service responsibility for the protection of the President," Montoya said in a letter to Secret Service Director James J. Rowley.

Steed said he too would ask Rowley for a written statement. He and Montoya said they would await the Secret Service reports before deciding on whether to order subcommittee hearings.

The Post reported that the wiretap of Donald Nixon during the President's first term apparently was a result of fears Donald's financial activities might embarrass the Nixon administration.

The newspaper said it was told by sources that the wiretap was among several undertaken by the Secret Service on orders from Nixon or White House aides who said they were acting in the President's behalf.

Donald Nixon is now a vice president of Marriott Corp. But the President's decision to wiretap his brother was partly caused by concern over Donald's business relationship with billionaire Howard Hughes, the sources said.

The Secret Service refused all comment, but Steed said that he understood wiretaps were occasionally used to assure the safety of the President and his family.

Full Court Is Asked To Hear Tapes Case

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Nixon's lawyers have asked the full, nine-judge U.S. Court of Appeals to bar District Judge John J. Sirica from inspecting the President's Watergate tapes.

The court scheduled a hearing for Tuesday at 1 p.m.

Filing their appeal yesterday presidential attorneys asked that all nine judges hear the case because it raised "constitutional questions of grave importance."

The White House asked the appeals court to issue what lawyers call a writ of mandamus, an order commanding a lower court or an official to follow a specific course of action—in this case ordering Sirica not to look at the tapes.

Technically, this was a suit by the President against Sirica. The Washington Post quoted Sirica as saying: "Well, I'll have to get a lawyer. It isn't everybody who gets sued by the President of the United States." Special Prosecutor Archibald Cox was named in the petition as an interested party.

Sirica Aug. 29 ordered the tapes turned over for his inspection in private to determine whether they should be given to a federal grand jury. The tapes contain conversations between the President and his aides on the bugging of Democratic headquarters at the Watergate.

The President says the courts have no power to make him surrender the tapes at all. Cox contends Sirica did not go far enough and should have ordered them given directly to the grand jury.

HOW IS IT BETWEEN YOU AND God?

If He doesn't seem as close as He once did, who moved?

Staying close to God, with the help of the Bible, has made life worth living for many people. Relying on His power and love, they have been healed and their problems solved.

Every Wednesday in our church, people share experiences that show the value of keeping close to God.

Drug Case Appearance Is Tuesday

I-J Special Report

SAN FRANCISCO — A Larkspur man, arrested by federal agents in Larkspur Tuesday on ▸year-old drug charges, will appear Tuesday in U.S. District Court in San Francisco for arraignment before Judge Owen E. Woodruff Jr.

Justin Bradley Saichek, 26, of 177 Marina Vista, had been arrested by Larkspur police in August on drug charges under the name of Justin Bradley Harris and was free on bail when rearrested this week. He returned to the Larkspur police station at the request of police and found federal agents were waiting to see him about earlier charges.

He was originally arrested in March, 1971, under the name Christopher Richards for selling LSD in San Rafael. He had been sought by federal agents since failing to appear for a preliminary hearing on the charge in June, 1971.

Saichek was arrested by Larkspur police Aug. 14 at his Marina Vista residence after police went there to pick up a juvenile.

Woman Injured In Auto Crash

A San Rafael woman was reported in good condition today at Letterman Hospital in San Francisco with multiple cuts received in a two-car crash Wednesday on Lucas Valley Road near the entrance to Highway 101.

The California Highway Patrol said an auto driven by Simone A. VanLoo, 47, of 24 Greenood Avenue, made a left turn onto the ramp, in front of a car driven by Walter W. Rowley, 39, of 2025 Huckleberry Road, San Rafael.

Mrs. VanLoo was cited for failing to yield the right of way following the 5:10 p.m. collision.

Rowley was treated at Marin General Hospital for a cut forehead and leg.

HEAVE-HO WITH HOSES

Members of the San Rafael Fire Department, joined by community volunteers, bring in hose to battle a 10-acre brush fire in Santa Venetia. About 25 fire fighters, from the Marin County, San Rafael and Kentfield departments, fought the blaze for two hours yesterday at the end of Grandlee Road in Santa Venetia. They were assisted by a pair of World War II Avenger torpedo planes, which dropped retardent chemicals on the flames. Firemen controlled the blaze at 4:22 p.m. The cause is not known.

Design Approved For Shelter Hill

The Mill Valley Architectural Advisory Committee has approved designs for the Shelter Hill moderate and low income housing project.

Robert J. Hanna, associate planner, said the group approved the plan Wednesday on condition that an emergency access road to the project be enlarged and that the builders include an additional children's play area.

Painting Display

Paintings by Rich Standard, San Anselmo artist, will be displayed through Oct. 5 in the conference room of the Title Insurance and Trust Co. at 1400 Grant Avenue, Novato.

Retired Mill Valley Man Is Struck, Killed By Auto

John Broman, a retired Mill Valley building contractor, was killed by an auto last night as he crossed Shoreline Highway near Tennessee Valley Road in Tamalpais Valley.

Broman, 62, was the 22nd traffic fatality in Marin County in 1973, compared to 24 during the same period last year.

The California Highway Patrol said Cesare Mario Nencini, 46, of 1217 West California Avenue, Tamalpais Valley, was driving northbound on Shoreline as Broman and his wife Elizabeth were crossing the road.

Mrs. Broman, owner of Tamalpais Homes Realty in Mill Valley, told patrolman she saw Nencini's car approaching, waited at the road side and yelled to her husband to stop. She said he didn't hear her because he was hard of hearing.

Broman was taken to Marin General Hospital where he was pronounced dead at about 11 p.m.

The Bromans had lived in Mill Valley for 33 years and were former owners of the Tamalpais Homes construction company.

A native of Stromsburg, Neb., Broman had lived in California for 50 years.

He attended the University of California at Los Angeles and was a sports reporter for the Los Angeles Times while in college.

Survivors include his wife, a daughter, Janet B. Wright of San Rafael, a son, Christopher John Broman, of San Francisco, one granddaughter, and a brother, Allen Wilson, of Washington, D.C.

Funeral arrangements were pending.

Connery Is Suing Wife For Divorce

Connery, 43, married Miss Cilento in 1962, the year before he played secret agent 007 in "Dr. No.". The couple separated 18 months ago.

Cotati Council Restores Manager's Hiring Power

The Cotati City Council last night restored the power to hire and fire employees to its city manager. (Other Cotati City Council stories, page 1.)

The council had stripped the power from former City Mgr. Paul W. Salfen last year and restored it as a show of confidence in new City Mgr. Robert A. Switzer.

The council will retain the power to hire and fire department heads, such as the city manager, police chief, city attorney and city engineer.

The Cotati City Council Also:

PLANNERS — Called for applicants for two vacant seats on the planning commission. Archie Stewart and Alfred Falletti, recall leaders, resigned Wednesday.

MEETINGS — Changed its regular meeting dates to the first and third Tuesdays of each month. The next meeting will be Sept. 18 at 7:30 p.m. at city hall.

POLICE — Approved life insurance and health benefits requested by the Cotati Peace Officers Association.

ZONING — Placed property at 8710 Cypress Avenue into a study zone for four months until the planning commission determines the proper zoning.

WATER — Set a study session for Sept. 25 at 7:30 p.m. to hear a report on water resources from city engineer Paul Schoch.

RECREATION — Accepted the resignation of Robert Green from the parks and recreation commission. Green said he was unable to attend meetings.

Father Of Span Jumper Urges Suicide Barrier

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — The lieutenant governor of Maryland, whose son jumped to his death from Golden Gate Bridge, has urged construction of a suicide barrier on the famous span.

Pierre Lee, 27, son of Lt. Gov. Blair Lee III, died Aug. 17, the bridge's 493rd suicide victim. The suicide toll has since climbed to 497.

"I firmly believe my son would be alive today with a good prospect of remaining that way, if a suicide barrier had been in existence," Lee said in a letter to bridge directors. "The Golden Gate Bridge is the most beautiful I have ever seen. It should not be blemished by a suicide mystique that hangs over it."

Flood Plan Engineering Study Asked

I-J Special Report

SANTA ROSA — An in-depth engineering study on the Petaluma River flood plain was recommended yesterday by the Sonoma County Planning Commission.

The commission had considered setting special flood plain zoning for the area, but agreed further study is needed. Sonoma County supervisors will be asked to finance the engineering work.

The district extends from Petaluma to the Sonoma portion of San Pablo Bay. Primary and secondary flood plain designations will determine how the land should be zoned to prevent flooding. Filling would not be permitted in primary flood areas.

Property owners along the river, including the City of Petaluma, urged more study before restricting land uses.

Panel Urges Delegation Of Duties

A team of educational consultants last night urged the Old Adobe School District board to develop a plan for giving more responsibilities to district employees.

The consultants final report described schools Supt. Dean D. Magowan as "a man of vision," but recommended he learn to delegate more authority to other persons.

The report, prepared by members of the California School Administrators Association and State School Boards Association, recommended an administrative assistant be hired to reduce Magowan's paperwork.

Norman Ross, La Tercera School principal, said the team also recommended the business manager's office take on more responsibility and that Magowan grant more authority for budget matters to the principals.

The educators said they found district programs to be progressive and superior to the average school district.

The report was funded by the two state groups.

Trial Dates For Nude Bathers Set

Jury trials for eight persons accused of nude sunbathing were set yesterday by Marin Municipal Judge David R. Baty.

Two Oakland residents, Stephen Francis White, 22, and Susan Mehrings White, 23, and Walter Voight, 33, of Strawberry, will be tried Oct. 29.

A Nov. 1 date was set for Peter Holmes Davidson, 30, of Colorado, and four Bolinas residents — Roland Jacopetti, 37, Elizabeth Kreusler Ehmann, 39; Nancy Joan Denmark, 26, and Theodore Harvey Saladin, 36.

Attorneys for the eight — charged with violating a Marin ordinance making it a misdemeanor to appear nude on a public beach — challenged the constitutionality of the law but lost.

Library To Open In San Anselmo

The San Anselmo Public Library, closed since July for remodeling, will reopen Saturday, according to head librarian Lucy Palo.

Mrs. Palo said that the library's back office and workroom have been shifted to the front of the facility.

San Francisco Woman Found Dead In Motel

A 42-year-old San Francisco woman was found dead at noon yesterday in a room at the Tamalpais Motel, 680 Redwood Highway, Mill Valley.

Ingrid P. Smith was found by the motel manager, according to Marin City Sheriff's deputies. She was last seen at 7 p.m. Wednesday night when she checked into the motel.

Mrs. Smith had apparently taken an overdose of unknown medication, sheriff's deputies reported. A note was found on the dresser, officers said.

The Marin County Coroner's office said Mrs. Smith was a research assistant at the University of California Medical Center, San Francisco.

Funeral arrangements were pending today at Russell and Gooch, Mill Valley.

Tam Valley Man Is Found Near Death

A San Francisco dentist was found near death yesterday on a wooded hillside behind his Tamalpais Valley home by a sheriff's deputy who administered first aid and summoned an ambulance to rush the man to Marin General Hospital.

Dr. Thomas R. Kuhn, 30, of 875 Marin Drive, was in the hospital intensive care today after ingesting wood alcohol, seconal and antiseptic drugs, deputies reported. The hospital declined to give information on his condition.

After an associate reported to police that Kuhn had not been to work for two days at his San Francisco practice, Deputy Larry Sorensen, searching trails behind the dentist's home on a motorcycle, found the man in "a catatonic state with only a slight pulse" at 9:30 a.m. deputies said. No note was found.

Deputies said he apparently left his home at 4 p.m. Wednesday and had been lying on the hillside overnight.

California Claims To Beat The Nation

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — The California Beet Growers Association says this state produces $140 million worth of the crop a year, leading the nation.

But most of the sugar beet seed is grown in Oregon.

Boat Boarding Probe Is Asked

OTTAWA (UPI) — Canada formally demanded Wednesday that France conduct an investigation into the boarding of the protest vessel Greenpeace III by French sailors in the South Pacific last month.

In a 20-minute meeting, External Affairs Minister Mitchell Sharp gave Ambassador Jacques Viot a "firm note of protest" asking for the investigation, a spokesman said.

He said Sharp specifically mentioned photographs taken during the boarding which showed French Navy sailors using rubber truncheons on the boat's skipper, David McTaggart of Vancouver, B.C. The boat was in an area of ocean the French had sealed off to conduct atmospheric nuclear tests.

Gas Price Plea Denied By Judge

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Supreme Court Justice William H. Rehnquist refused today to block new federal price controls on retail gas prices scheduled to take effect at midnight.

Rehnquist turned down a request by the National Congress of Petroleum Retailers, a trade organization representing 165,000 brand name service station operators that asked him to overturn a lower court decision upholding the Phase IV price ceilings.

Many retailers have said that if the guidelines are implemented, some stations would be forced to shut.

The retailers organization represents service stations that sell brand name gasoline. Independent stations are not members of the group.

The request to Rehnquist came one day after Supreme Court Chief Justice Warren Burger declined to alter the decision that imposed the regulations.

When the court is not in session, each justice has jurisdiction over a circuit. Burger's jurisdiction is the District of Columbia, where the retailers filed their petition.

Under court rules, the retailers could ask other justices to act in their behalf.

Before submitting their petition to Rehnquist, the retailers had requested that Justice William O. Douglas rule on their plea. Douglas, however, was hospitzlized in Seattle and the court decided "internally" to refer the petition to Rehnquist, a spokesman for the retailers said.

The new regulations are a delayed part of President Nixon's Phase IV price control program announced July 18. They set ceilings which will allow some dealers to raise prices but require others to roll them back.

Meanwhile, the Exxon Corp. added to the problem of many retailers yesterday by announcing a one cent per gallon increase in its wholesale gasoline prices. Under Phase IV, the wholesale rise is legal, but retailers are limited as to how much, if any, they can raise retail prices.

Charles Binstad, president of the National Congress of Petroleum Retailers, said he received calls from many dealers "up in arms" and that some will be driven out of business.

Rep. William J. Bryan Dorn, D-S.C., asked John T. Dunlop, director of the govenment's Cost of Living Council to investigate the Exxon increase. The Council is already looking into a similar wholesale increase announced two weeks ago by ARCO. Officials indicated the new case would be examined also.

The new regulations set price ceilings according to a two-part formula—based on the price dealers were paying for gasoline on Aug. 1, plus the amount they were adding for profit on Jan. 10, with at least 7 cents charged for profit. A price war was in effect in many areas Jan. 10, and just where dealers stood in it will determine whether they now can raise or must lower their prices.

The regulations also require dealers to post octane ratings on each pump.

Pool Near School To Be Fenced

The San Anselmo School District board, concerned that a swimming pool under construction near Brookside School could pose dangers to school children, last night called for fencing of the area.

The district will share the $1,000 cost of the fencing with property owner William Callaghan, according to Supt. Frank R. Elliott.

The fence that separates Callaghan's property at 128 Butterfield Road from the school is short and made of wood, unlike the metal cyclone fence which surrounds the remainder of the school yard, Elliott said.

The San Anselmo School District board also:

BUS SCHEDULES — Said bus schedules for kindergarten through third grade youngsters living more than three-quarters of a mile from school are available at district primary schools.

PERSONNEL — Withheld appointment of Robert Balzan as vice principal of Isabel Cook School for 1973-74 pending further study.

TENNIS — Agreed to spend an additional $2,000 for construction of the Red Hill School tennis courts, hiking the district's share of cost to $10,000. The City of San Anselmo is sharing the cost.

ENROLLMENT — Said about 100 fewer pupils than last year are expected at opening day of school Tuesday.

RENTAL — Said the district will rent a bus from the San Rafael school system at a cost of $300 a month.

ATTENDANCE — Approved interdistrict attendance for resident Alan Scott Kittleman, who will attend school in Fairfax, and for Lon and Rebecca Phares, who will attend school in San Rafael.

ADJOURNMENT — Adjourned to 8 p.m. Thursday at Red Hill School.

Bail Set For Four Nailed In Drug Raid

SAN FRANCISCO — A federal judge yesterday set bail ranging from $10,000 to $15,000 for four men, including three arrested Wednesday in a raid on a Mill Valley home which netted an estimated $35,000 worth of drugs.

The men, apprehended about 2 p.m. Wednesday at 38 Hillside Avenue, were: Dennis Gawland Scales, 24, of 362 Pine Hill Road, Tamalpais Valley; Peter J. Blosvern, 30, of San Francisco, and Gary L. McLaughlin, 26, of Spokane, Wash.

A fourth man, John D. Cook, 32, of San Francisco, was arrested at his home in that city Wednesday night.

Blosvern and McLaughlin were freed on $10,000 bail while Scales paid $15,000 in bail. Cook was held in lieu of $10,000 bail.

The four were to appear again before a magistrate for a preliminary earing or arraignment on Sept. 27.

Richard J. Dunagan, chief of the federal Drug Enforcement Task Force in San Francisco, said the arrests climaxed a month-long investigation in which undercover agents bought several samples of cocaine from the arrested men. A final sale of a pound of cocaine was to have been made at the time of the arrest.

He said agents found 29 kilos of marijuana, a pound of cocaine, 200 tablets of LSD, a .22 caliber airgun, several smaller amounts of marijuana and $1,200 in cash at the home.

13 Are Seeking Election To School Boards

A few hours before the filing deadline, 13 candidates had filed for three seats to be filled in the three school board elections Nov. 6.

Filings were to close at 5 p.m. today for the Marin Community College district and the Ross and Bolinas-Stinson school districts.

Latest to file was Joseph A. Gereghty Jr., stockbroker, 157 South Ridgewood Road, Kentfield, who will run for the college board.

Seven others have filed for the one seat open on the college board. Four have filed for the opening on the Bolinas-Stinson board. In Ross, one person has filed for the single vacancy.

Guilty Plea Entered On Weapons Charge

A Napa County man, originally charged with burglary and weapons violations after allegedly threatening two persons with a sawed-off shotgun, has admitted a felony weapons violation.

Michael Beebe Cross, 26, of Angwin, pleaded guilty Wednesday to a charge of being a convicted felon in possession of a sawed-off shotgun.

In exchange, Judge Charles Read Best agreed to dismiss a second count of mere possession of the illegal weapon, also a felony, when Cross is sentenced Oct. 9.

Cross originally was charged with burglary after he allegedly donned a ski mask and waved a shotgun at Joanne Bagen and Elbert Lozano at Miss Bagen's Fairfax home June 12.

But that count was dismissed when both victims refused to testify, citing their constitutional right against self-incrimination.

Miss Bagen and Lozano fled, and Cross was captured a short time later as he crashed through brush near the hillside home. The gun was found nearby, police said.

Cargo Report

SACRAMENTO (UPI) —The Port of Sacramento has handled its 10 millionth ton of cargo and brought $200 million into the Sacramento-Yolo County area in its 10 year existence, Director Melvin Shore reported today.

Tentative Paper Pact Is Reached

TORONTO (UPI)—A tentative agreement, which may speed up settlement of other disputes in the strike-plagued Canadian paper industry, was reached today between the Abitibi Paper Co. Ltd. and 6,000 employes, it was announced.

The agreement, which must still be ratified by employes in nine Abitibi mills, was reached six hours after two Abitibi mills were closed down by strikes by the United Paperworkers International Union (UPIU).

Talks between the company and the union, which had appeared on the verge of success late yesterday, broek down early today over four fringe benefit issues.

A union spokesman said Abitibi approached the union after the strikes erupted today at Iroquois Falls, Ont. and Thunder Bay, Ont. with an offer to compromise on the outstanding items. The settlement was confirmed by Abitibi.

A union spokesman said workers would return to the struck mills "as soon as possible."

A general strike against Abitibi, eastern Canada's third largest newsprint producer, would have added to the newsprint shortages that have plagued customers in the United States, Canada and abroad.

THE AFTERMATH OF DELIA

Evacuated residents of Baytown, Tex., in the Galveston Bay, aboard an amphibious craft, survey flooding of their homes. A six-foot tide swept into 140 homes in Baytown yesterday, generated by high winds from tropical storm Delia. The storm is also causing violent weather in Arkansas, Oklahoma and Louisiana. Lodge Developer's Claim Denied

A claim by developers of Tomales Bay Lodge, a controversial resort proposed north of Marshall, that the project is exempt from the jurisdiction of the North Central Coast Regional Commission was denied last night by the commission. (Another commission story, page 1.)

Herbert A. Angress, who has been trying to get the project started for four years, argued unsuccessfully that it was exempt because enough work was done before voters created the commission by approving Proposition 20 last November.

He told the Independent-Journal he will appeal the denial to the statewide coastal commission and at the same time seek a permit from the regional commission. Several commissioners stressed their votes against the exemption did not indicate how they would vote on a permit.

Angress plans a 60-unit condominium hotel, 150-seat restaurant and recreation building on the shoreline site one mile north of Marshall.

The commission's staff recommended denial of the exemption claim. Neither of the two tests to qualify for an exemption, receipt of a building permit and substantial work on the project, have been met by Angress, the staff said.

His attorney, Edgar B. Washburn, argued Angress "was caught in midstream" by Proposition 20 despite "a steady course of action for four years."

Opposing the exemption were Paul D. Kayfetz, attorney for Bolinas Future Studies, and spokesmen for the San Francisco Bay Chapter of the Sierra Club and Tomales Bay Association. Kayfetz declared "public interest outweights Mr. Angress's equities."

Kayfetz argued Angress still could seek a permit from the commission even if it denied him "the shortcut of an exemption." The attorney told the I-J that he also will oppose a permit.

Supporting the exemption were Benjamin P. Bonelli, developer of Oceana Marin at Dillon Beach, and Reverdy Johnson, attorney for the Sea Ranch.

The North Central Coast Regional Commission Also:

OCEANA MARIN — Postponed to Sept. 20 consideration of a blanket permit for 155 single-family home lots on Oceana Marin so staff could work out details on public access to the beach.

PROXY — Opposed, 9-4, a suggestion by the state coast commission that regional and state commissioners have alternates to represent them if they are absent.

TAX — Urged property tax relief for land owners whose holdings have lost value because of the commission's controls.

OFFICERS — Reelected officers for a second six months: Marin County Supervisor Michael Wornum, chairman; Marin County Planning Commissioner Margaret Azevedo, vice chairman, and San Francisco County Supervisor Robert Mendelsohn, representative to the state commission.

KRUSE — Received plea from the Kruse Ranch Road Association in Sonoma County to help fend off county plans to widen the road.

DAM — Directed staff to comment on the environmental impact report on the proposed Warm Springs Dam in Sonoma County.

HOMES — Approved permits for 10 single-family homes between Muir Beach and the Sea Ranch.

DINING OUT AND INNS

By HARRY CRAFT

Don't Be Fooled By The Outside Of The Rice Table in San Rafael

When your neighbor says it's good you may pay attention to it — but not necessarily.

But if someone in the next county has taken the time to seek out the food in a Marin restaurant and reports favorably on it, you may sit up and take notice. At least you should. Too often we con't bother to count all our own blessings until they are evaluated by an outsider.

Take the Rice Table in San Rafael, which has been receiving some very nice write-ups from outside the county. And where there's smoke there's bound to be fire in the range.

Mind you, there's no particular glamor to the outside of 1617 Fourth Street. You could easily pass right by and not give it a second thought. For my part, sometimes I have to start looking for it a block away. Inside is another matter. You'd think you are in a cute little Javanese restaurant, which indeed you are. This is often the way of the Far Easterners. It's the heart of the thing that counts more than the cover.

And what really counts at the Rice Table is the food. It's mostly what they serve in West Java, along with several other Indonesian dishes. If you expect all these to be highly spiced, don't be concerned. Some are liberally pepped up with chili peppers and there are extra hot dips and condiments. But you don't have to use the latter. It's likely that Javanese owner Leonie Hool has made some nominal concessions to western tastes without destroying the essence.

Leonie, by the way, supervises preparation of the entire restaurant cuisine, although she needs and has kitchen helpers.

The first meal you should order here is "The Rice Table" itself, a sequence of dishes — barbecued pork or lamb, fried shrimp, pieces of beef cooked in butter, a mild chicken curry, deep fried meat balls, fried rice noodles.

It's a lot of good food for $4.95. All complete dinners are served with soup, salad, rice and dessert.

You can also go for a larger edition at about $7.50, but unless you've gone there on a special mission of investigation of all of Leonie's talents, my advise is to spread it out over several visits. The Javanese names of the dishes don't come easily to my tongue, but all those just listed can also be ordered separately as entrees or side dishes, along with a number of others. There's variety enough for many return calls. Still, some of the restaurant's fans continue to order the Rice Table dinner time after time. It's that satisfying.

I mentioned last week there is now a wine and beer license. Leonie's selection of vintages is a popular one and they go well with the Indonesian foods.

COME TO FIND OUT, in my enthusiasm for the Lark Creek Inn last week I made one blunder.

Adopting a policy which seems to be taking place in a number of restaurants, Lark Creek does not take advance (telephone) reservations. Of course, if you are considering a rather large group, you should at least check ahead on possibilities for space. Otherwise, your name is entered on a waiting list at the time of arrival. You'll be given a table in the order of appearance. If it's a crowded night you'll just have to wait longer.

This has its fair side. I have heard many grumbles from diners-out who have waited long for a table, spending money in the bar, only to have someone come in fresh and be seated ahead of them.

And from the restaurant's standpoint, it is often true that a table may remain vacant unnecessarily when some customer who made a firm reservation fails to show up — and also lacks the consideration to phone back and cancel when he can't make it.

People often bring about the very conditions in restaurants that they deplore.

30-Hour Work Week To Ballot

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — Against their wishes, San Francisco's supervisors have put on the November ballot a charter amendment which would reduce the work week to 30 hours.

If passed, the amendment would force the city and most private employers to pay as much for 30 hours of work as they do now for 40 hours.

The supervisors had no choice because the measure qualified under the initiative process. Supervisor Dianne Feinstein warned the proposal would "drive business from the city."

Marin Dining And Wining

THE NUMBER 13 is out of the way for Bill McDonnell and Don Lynam of the water oriented Spinnaker restaurant in Sausalito.

They completed their 13th year of operation on the first of this month without serious mishap. From now on, according to any superstition, they should have good sailing.

We congratulate them on a clean record. But then it would appear that all the elements of success have entered into it — the right people at the right place, at the right time, serving the right food. It's a sure-fire formula.

IT SEEMS I made another mistake last week in my optimism that the Normandie would be reopened this past Wednesday.

Remodeling wasn't completed by then and there was no reopening. I apologize to those who made needless phone calls. There won't be a reopening this weekend either. It could happen by next Wednesday but I'm not promising anything. Neither are owners Michel Braud and Roger Minhondo who dislike making excuses — but there's nothing they can do about it.

Bide your time — there's quite a revamping job going on inside the Normandie and when it's finished you'll think you are in a new restaurant.

I DON'T KNOW what will happen after next Wendesday but right now chef Bernard Epstein at Le Tonneau in Corte Madera reports that his kitchen is being well supplied with all foods, both in quality and in sufficient quantity — so you should find everything available that's listed on the menu. Next Wednesday is the day when the price freeze on beef is lifted.

Best of all, he says there have been no price raises on the regular menu. And his Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday night special dinners also remain the same at $3.95.

THERE HAS BEEN a lot written about the three famous Occidental Italian restaurants in Sonoma County, and this publicity is well deserved. Everyone who can should take in at least one, or all three, Fiori's, Negri's and Union Hotel.

But not far away from them I understand another restaurant is giving them a run for their money this summer. It's always been popular, but this year more than ever. This is Angelo's in Monte Rio, on the Russian River. You'll find it on the River Road, about a quarter of a mile east of town.

Through this month it's open for dinners Wednesdays through Sundays. But that schedule will be cut back to Fridays, Saturdays and Sundays on Oct. 1. It is noted for its Italian fare, but the menu is listed as continental, which means a variety of dishes.

Milk Price Is Hiked In Schools

Fairfax School Districts pupils will have to pay a penny more for a half-pint of milk this school year, the district board has announced.

The board hiked the pirce Tuesday from 5 to 6 cents to meet rising costs, according to Gwyneth McGee, district secretary.

She said the state reimburses the district three cents for the milk, which now costs about nine cents per half pint.

The Fairfax School District Board also:

FACILITY — Set a meeting to discuss a multiuse facility for White Hill School, and a bond issue to finance it, for 7:45 p.m. Sept. 18.

INSPECTION — Said the board will inspect district schools at 8 a.m. Sept. 15.

PERSONNEL — Hired Marcia Rubel as secretary for White Hill School at $530 a month.

RECREATION — Agreed to cooperate with the Fairfax Parks and Recreation Commission on recreational matters, including after school sports and dances.

TILING — Took no action on a proposal by parents to tile the White Hill School locker room.

ADJOURNMENT — Adjourned to 7:45 p.m. Sept. 18.

Benefit Bike Swap Scheduled At College

A benefit bike swap, an event where one can buy, sell, or trade bicycles, is scheduled for Sept. 22 at the College of Marin in Kentfield.

Patterned after the more well-known ski swap where new and used ski gear is exchanged, the bike swap's negotiations will run all day. Proceeds are to benefit the Whistlestop Wheels program, which provides volunteer transportation for senior citizens.

According to Murray Koff of the Volunteer Bureau of Marin, many Marin bicycle dealers will be on hand to display their wares and Marin County Bike Club members will be present to assist potential buyers in locating the bike that fits a buyer's needs.

A representative of the California Highway Patrol will also be there to give free bicycle safety tests, awarding patrol safety stickers to those bikes that are legally equipped.

A nominal fee will be charged to those bringihg used bicycles to sell, Koff said.

Reigning Beauty Visits Pageant

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (UPI) —The reigning Miss America, Terry Ann Meeuwsen, still recovering from pneumonia, made her first appearance at this year's Miss America pageant Wednesday. She will crown the winner Saturday night.

Miss Meeuwsen, who got sick in Hawaii a few weeks ago and was hospitalized, rehearsed one song.

"We will not let her dance, though," said Albert Marks, executive producer of the pageant, because "doctors here and in Honolulu feel that dancing could create a spell of weakness and the dust kicked up could cause coughing which could be disastrous."

WHAT IS A Wienerschnitzel?
it is not a hot dog . . . but a delightfully tender veal cutlet dipped in flour, beaten eggs and bread crumbs and fried in hot lard to a golden-brown color. Served with specially prepared potatoes and vegetables, always fresh . . . . . of course!

WHAT ARE Palatschinken?
They are a delicious dessert . . . a sort of thin crepes . . . rolled and filled either with a mixture of cooked grated walnuts, raisins, honey and topped with a chocolate sauce . . . or filled with marmalade.

WHAT IS AN Apfelstrudel?
The most famous of Vienna's pastries known all over the world. It is an incredibly thin dough covered with apples and other goodies, then rolled and baked in oven to result in a pastry that you will want to taste again and again!

TIBURON CYCLE CRASH

An injured Tiburon man is carried to an ambulance after his motorcycle collided with a truck yesterday on Tiburon Boulevard at Greenwood Cove Drive. The California Highway Patrol said that Kelly Joseph Wheeler II, 20, of 6 Felipe Court, was cycling east on the street when an eastbound truck driven by Roy Daniel Dotto, 37, of 105 Los Ranchitos Road, San Rafael, collided with Wheeler's vehicle. Wheeler was reported in satisfactory condition today at Marin General Hospital with several broken vertebrae.

Kennedy Gives Watergate View

SEA GIRT, N.J. (UPI) — Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass., said last night that because of the Watergate scandal "people will have a higher degree of expectation and standards of various public servants."

He said the public wants "openness—openness and directness on the part of their candidates and their aides."

Kennedy appeared at a $1,000-per-person cocktail party at a beachfront house on behalf of New Jersey Democratic gubernatorial candidate Brendan T. Byrne. Kennedy praised Byrne for his "integrity."

Marriage Is Over For Screenwriter

SANTA MONICA, Calif. (UPI) —Academy Award-winning screenwriter Stirling Silliphant was divorced from his third wife yesterday in Superior Court, ending a seven-year marriage.

Margo Silliphant, 30, was granted an interlocutory decree and received a $500,000 property settlement, including the couple's Beverly Hills home. The couple have no children.

Man Held In Probe Of Two Counts

A Larkspur man was being held in Marin County Jail today on suspicion of armed robbery and sex perversion.

Held in lieu of $10,000 bail to appear today in Marin Municipal Court today was Steven Douglas Drown, 23, of 965 Magnolia Avenue, Apt. 77.

Police said Drown entered a Larkspur apartment yesterday as its occupant was leaving for work at 8:20 a.m., threatened her with a gun, demanded money and then forced her to commit sexual perversions.

Police were called at 10:58 a.m. by the victim who told officers where Drown lived. In searching his apartment police found an automatic pistol like the one used in the attack.

Too Much Emphasis Placed On Degree

In adjoining columns on this page, Ernest B. Furgurson inveighs against applying the pejorative "dropout" to every young person who is not in school. He also quotes from a report of the President's Science Advisory Committee some suggestions for improving the lot — and the chances — of youth.

These suggestions include liberalizing too-restrictive child labor laws and setting a lower minimum wage for inexperienced youth than for adults who may be forced to support families. They also include much greater diversification of work-while-studying programs for teen-agers.

THERE IS NO question that child labor laws resulted from a great need. But there also is little question that they have become overly restrictive, so much so that they largely deny young teen-agers a chance for valuable work experience.

There also is little question that many adolescents would benefit from part-time employment while attending school, and from an expansion of the kind of training provided by Youth Corps centers for those branded as "dropouts."

High schools, in rather floundering efforts to provide "relevance," have so diluted and diffused their programs that more and more young people lose interest in schooling. Jobs, with their requirements for being on time, for carrying out instructions, for self-discipline — and with their accompanying disclosures of the need for learning — might revive the interest of many of these.

BUT THERE IS another reason for young people's dissatisfaction with our "universal" education system; and the blame for it must be laid not on laws, schools nor the young people themselves, but on parents and employers.

Too many 18-year-olds are forced into college against their own desires by parents who insist that they must get a degree. A few leading educators — most notably S.I. Hayakawa — have cited this as a cause of non-achievement and campus unrest.

And too many employers insist on diploma or degree for all except the most menial jobs, for no real reason.

We have learned in the newspaper business that a degree in journalism is no assurance of adequate performance. No doubt employers in other fields have had similar experience. But most — and especially governments in setting up civil service requirements — continue to put too much emphasis on the degree.

THIS IS discrimination — class discrimination. The door should not be closed to a young person just because he chose to pursue learning by some other route than the standard kindergarten-through-college classrooms. He should be given the opportunity to prove what he can do.

Given it, he would find in most cases a need to return to school — with definite ideas of what it should teach him. Faced with meeting his resulting demands, the schools would themselves be improved, to the benefit of all their students.

ERNEST B. FURGURSON

Don't Call Them 'Dropouts' Because They Don't Choose School

WASHINGTON — This is the week when most American youths head back to school. But a lot do not. For them, whatever the reasons for their choosing or having to be somewhere else, our generic term today is a flatly negative one: dropout.

That is oversimple, and unjust.

A generation ago, if you described a 17-year-old you might say student, but the term also might be drug clerk, farmhand, carpenter's apprentice or sailor. But with the approach of the supposed ideal of universal education, the nonstudent has become so much the exception that that is exactly the point we've picked to characterize him. He is identified not by what he does, but by what he does not do — go to school.

WHILE EDUCATION has broadened across the population, other options have narrowed. Either a youth is in school, by implication successful, or out, a failure. There used to be much more variety of socially respectable opportunity. By what seemed advances at the time, we have cut them back to this either-or situation.

We tightened child labor laws until they are too tight. We raised legal minimum wages. We made high school graduation nearly unanimous, and college routine.

Thus we made it harder for young people to get jobs, either because employing them was illegal, too expensive, or restricted by artificially high educational qualifications. We forced most of them to stay in school until they were thrown with a splash into the cold real world.

So we have a glut of young people with bachelor's degrees doing things like driving delivery trucks and selling street-corner handicrafts a second-class Boy Scout would be ashamed to claim. And we have a percentage of others who in the confusion of growing up turned their backs on school, who are capable of skilled work important to themselves and society but who carry around a stigma: dropout.

VICE PRESIDENT AGNEW spoke about this situation, with different emphasis, months ago. He strongly favors more vocational education. But that was when he was always going around bloodying noses, and nobody paid much attention when he said anything calm and noncontroversial.

Now one of those bodies whose findings and recommendations are so frequently disowned by the White House — a presidential committee — has delivered a thoughtful examination of the problem, and some suggestions that deserve widespread debate. It is the President's Science Advisory Committee, and its report is aimed primarily at youth's transition to adulthood.

Part of its thesis is that there should be more association of young people with adults, rather than restricting them almost entirely to contacts with their own grade level throughout school. It urges more ways of mixing work and education, in and out of school.

Specifically, it calls for altering labor laws to open up more jobs for youths, and for experimenting with a dual minimum wage, starting at a lower level for inexperienced workers. Both changes should encourage more on-the-job training programs.

NOTING THAT BOTH government and family have come to subsidize youths' continuance in formal school but not its switching to other courses, the committee suggests experimental provision of educational vouchers. These would be "spent" by youths for either formal or approved vocational education of their own selection and at their own pace. This, theoretically, would encourage self-reliance, inspire enthusiasm, and make it easier for young people to come and go from job and school.

The group also urges greatly widened public service job opportunities, not only for those who have completed formal education but for younger Americans, including those who would like to do such work in a single year's break from the classroom.

Beyond that, the committee would like to see a much more flexible system of combining work and school, either within each day or by alternating semesters or even years.

The underlying theme of its whole report, which is barely touched on here, is flexibility — the chance to mix youths and adults together, to accummulate practical and more abstract education at the same time, to free education from the strict time frame we have built for it.

If any substantial part of its recommendations becomes reality, perhaps we can mothball the pejorative word "dropout" in this country, and assume as we used to that a boy who is not in school is simply approaching life by the route that makes most sense to him.

BILL FUSSELMAN

Water Supply Too Important To Be Used To Play Politics

None of us should be very happy about the way this Marin Municipal Water District board of directors is acting. We simply cannot be too sure that there will be sufficient water to guard us against unpredictable acts of nature.

As an example, the Pacific Northwest is having a most devastating dry condition imaginable. There is serious trouble at Bonneville Dam where great quantities of electric energy are normally developed.

Besides the air we breathe, water is the most precious gift we have.It should not be used for political purposes by these directors.

I have seen huge fires burning for days on water district lands above Fairfax. People were calling in frantically from all the Ross Valley towns. We didn't have the storage that is available now. It took years for the new growth to mature and furnish the holding at the following rainy seasons. The heaviest floods occurred as a result, wasting water that was badly needed the following summers. We should have other sources of water available. Where could we look for a better tie-up than the Russian River?

Even though the directors have fooled around and not offered us a larger bond issue to vote on, what is being offered is a start.

If in the final analysis there is a real desire to restrict population, the board of supervisors and the city councils have the power to enact reasonable legislation to control. Note, I said "reasonable."

Le Bapteste's threat that he would organize a countywide water district if the Marin Municipal didn't toe the mark to his satisfaction, is just a lot of hoo-mali-mali — throne room illusion of grandure.

WHAT OUR READERS SAY

History Of Sausalito Building And Gambling

Mr. Paul Liberatore who wrote the article about Sausalito in your paper Sept. 4 did not do much research or was misinformed.

The building now known as the Village Fair in Sausalito was built by the Maron brothers (Clint and Harvey) to provide parking for commuters to San Francisco using the ferries.

Sometime in the '30s (I don't recall the exact year) my father converted the top floor to a gambling establishment for a group of Chinese gamblers. It lasted about a month as I recall.

If Mr. Liberatore would check with John Harlan (now in Lake County) or dig through the old editions of the Sausalito News, he would find the true story of the Chinese gambling in Sausalito.

Planning Must Await New General Plan

I wish to take issue with your editorial of Aug. 30, "What Marin Needs Is Clean, Light Industry". While indeed Marin might need this, what it does not need at this time is piece-meal planning, impossible traffic congestion and mis-statements of fact by the I-J. The main reason for the turndown of the Smith-Gonzales (sic) proposal was the fact that the San Rafael General Plan is not yet complete and a moritorium (sic) has been imposed until it is finished. One of the reasons that San Rafael needs a re-development agency is to try and make up for all the massive planning errors made over the last 30 years. The general plan and its implementation will hopefully eliminate the need for another re-development proposal ten years from now.

The traffic interchange at Lucas Valley Road and Hwy 101 is without a doubt the poorest designed and least adequate one from the Golden Gate to Santa Rosa. It is already badly overloaded with traffic at peak hours and as the frontage road from Terra Linda to Lucas Valley increases in use it will get worse. . .

As for mis-statement of facts, Mr. Gonzales proposed to extend Paul Drive to Smith Ranch Road, which is already connected indirectly to Highway 101. The 18 acres proposed to be given as open space are undevelopable anyway and by giving them as open space he will not have to pay taxes on them. . .

Over the last two years we have seen something most satisfying occurring in San Rafael, a competent, concerned planning director and staff and a city council aware of past mistakes and seemingly committed to not repeating them. Unfortunately, we have not seen any evidence by the San Rafael Planning Commission of this same concern.

Dealer's Good Turn Prompts Letter To Editor

We were done a good turn by Dexter Toyota of San Rafael and I want other people to know about it.

We bought a used Audi station wagon from them and drove it without problems for several weeks. They have a complete guarantee on the car for all parts and service up to 1,000 miles.

So we really gulped and cussed when, at 1,258 miles, the transmission messed up. It was a royal mess and it was necessary to replace the transmission.

Dextor Toyota took the car back and did the work on it. And they split the $600 bill in half with us. They did not legally have to do that. Yes it was good business and it also was good responsibility and a lovely arrangement for us.

Found Much To Like In Marin County Fair

It is very disappointing to see a letter such as Mr. Stephen C. Cook's in Tuesday's (Sept. 4) paper . . .

Surely there was something for everyone at the (Marin County) Fair. The very fine Sacramento and Watsonville bands generated much crowd interest. There was a first-rate photography exhibit, lovely gardens and an exceptional selection of craftsware. Did Mr. Cook see Robert Shields' and his wife's pantomime or attend the lively fiddling contest on closing night? If not, he missed two of the real delights.

Twin 17-Story Towers Wanted To House Growing Bureaucracy

By RUS WALTON

This grand old capitol, 104 years rich in history and tradition, is sick. Time has taken its toll. Some of the basic steel is eroded with age. The mortar is powder between the great granite blocks.

Engineers and architects are concerned about the soundness of its structure and it has been declared unsafe for human beings and legislators.

At the same time, the legislature insists it needs more room. More floor space to house its staff of 1,500, its files and its hearing rooms.

THUS THE DECISION to construct larger quarters for the State Senate and Assembly. And thus the question: what kind of a roost to build for these legislator birds and their broods?

Sen. Randolph Collier, D-Yreka, wants twin towers, 17-story towers: one for the Senate and one for the Assembly, with public foyers and meeting halls connecting the two. He wants to build that monument on a four-acre site at the east end of the capitol park.

Cost? Oh, about $50-75 million, he says.

Collier is joined in his dream by Assemblyman Willie Brown, D-San Francisco, who is chairman of the Ways and Means Committee. That makes him a powerful ally.

THERE IS A counter-plan. It has been put forth by Sen. Robert Lagomarsino, R-Ojai, and Assemblyman Robert Burke, R-Huntington Beach.

Those two gents want to restore the old, gold-domed capitol and make it a functioning part of the legislative facilities. Under the Collier-Brown plan the original capitol would probably become a museum.

In addition, Lagomarsino and Burke propose to enlarge the newer (built in 1949) "east" wing of the capitol that now houses most of the legislators' offices and facilities plus the governor's and the controller's offices.

The estimated cost of their plan is $57 million.

COMPARE THE TWO plans.

The Lagomarsino-Burke proposal would provide 580,137 square feet of new, usuable floor space for a gross total area of 847,000 square feet in the restored and expanded capitol. Cost: $57 million (including restoration of the original capitol to working status).

The Collier-Brown monument would provide 878,120 square feet of new floor space for a gross total area of 1.3 million square feet. Cost: at least $100 million before the job was done (including a $1.5 million tunnel so lawmakers won't get their footsies wet going back and fourth between buildings on rainy days).

There's a sneaker in that twin pile of concrete and glass and its 878,120 square feet of new floor space. Figure about 150 square feet per employe. That means the towers would provide office space for at least 6,000 new legislative employees. That's four times as many as there are today!

And the rule at Babylon is this: the number of employees increases to fill available floor space. Sooner or later, mostly sooner.

WHAT HAS HAPPENED to this place? I remember when it was a thing of duty, Spartan in its institutional green and simple furniture.

Those days are gone. Now the Assembly offices are done in walnut and the broad-bottomed chairs are black leather trimmed in chrome. The Senate offices are done in oak, with red carpets. Down in the garage the chariots sit, row upon row: Cadillacs, Lincolns, Chryslers and big Buicks. All leased and fueled and groomed at taxpayer expense.

REMEMBER WHEN?

10 YEARS AGO

Sept. 7, 1963

20 YEARS AGO

Sept. 7, 1953

Two masked gunmen escaped with $8,000 from the safe of the Marin City Market.

A Key System Transit Lines strike that had paralyzed public transportation in 11 East Bay cities went into its 47th day.

ROSCOE DRUMMOND

Is Erwin Committee Neglecting Its Most Important Purpose?

WASHINGTON — I am beginning to wonder whether the Ervin Senate committee is really going to do its job.

It is all to the good to have a thorough, searching, wide-ranging senatorial effort to try to get behind the mists of the Watergate. The Ervin committee is doing this part of its assignment as well as could be expected when you consider the temptations to image-minded, publicity-conscious political partisans playing their parts before a television audience of millions.

I would certainly take an unorganized, undisciplined, freewheeling senatorial inquiry rather than none at all.

BUT THE CENTER of the concern I want to raise is not whether the Ervin committee is conducting its investigation fairly but whether it is neglecting its main responsibility — its main reason for being — almost entirely.

The Senate has no investigative powers unless its investigations are directly related to the search for new legislation.

This is the premise which makes the Senate Watergate investigation legal and proper.

This is the assignment given to the Ervin committee; namely to serve as the arm of the whole Senate to mark out "new congressional legislation to safeguard the electoral process."

Those are the words of the Senate resolution which created the Senate select committee.

But there is little or no evidence thus far that the senators are seriously conducting their questioning and their cross-questioning to produce insight, information or ideas related to legislative reform; that the Ervin committee is going to hold any hearings at all in order to examine measures to prevent future Watergates; that the Ervin committee will author proposals to shape new legislation.

Yet to do so is the very premise of the committee's existence. It is the assigned purpose of the investigation it is conducting. The present prospect is that its assigned purpose will be passed over entirely.

This would be a grievous dereliction of duty.

ONE OF THE COMMITTEE'S counsel told me that in the end different members of the committee might each offer some ideas of their own for political reform.

Surely that isn't the way to achieve needed and meaningful reform. That is the way to slip away from and neglect such reform.

It isn't worthy of the Senate and it isn't worthy of the members of the committee to discharge a part of their assignment to get at the facts behind Watergate and then to neglect the biggest and most important and most useful part of their assignment — that is, to mark out and clarify the lessons to be learned from Watergate and show how they can be put into constructive legislation.

POLITICAL REFORM needs public understanding and public support. It seems to me inconceivable that Senator Ervin and Senator Baker and the others would throw away the generated public concern for reform by failing to tie their investigation to what will be needed to put their investigation to the best possible use.

Now is the time to do it; not three months from now or six months from now.

Now is the time when the worst offenses of Watergate are visible and clearly in mind. Now is the time when majority opinion is revolted by the Watergate crimes against good government and against the democratic process.

There is a time when reform is attainable and there is a time when it isn't. It will be attainable during the next few months, but it could be dissipated if action is not forthcoming soon.

Surely the Ervin committee ought not to do part of its job wholeheartedly and the rest of its job halfheartedly or not at all.

Surely the Ervin committee ought to be in the forefront in proposing concrete post-Watergate reform.

THE NEEDLE

By HAROLD COFFIN

The best things in life are free. Like the Miss America Pageant on television tomorrow night.

It's a last chance to admire the country's tall young lovelies. Next week TV cameras again will focus on Watergate's little old country lawyers.

Mom will tune in tomorrow to see what the gals are wearing; dad, to see what they're not wearing.

NEW ENGLAND AS FALL APPROACHES

Rose Vows To Watch State Funds

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — Assemblyman Vincent Thomas yesterday introduced the state's new auditor general, Harvey M. Rose, and promised a new and aggressive watchdog role by the Joint Legislative Audit Committee over state government.

Rose, who will take office Nov. 1 with an annual salary of $31,000, will head the legislature's primary investigative force, composed of 60 persons.

Rose, former budger analyst for San Francisco and a management examiner for Los Angeles, told a news conference he would try to have his audits of state agencies "result in subsantial net savings."

"I believe state agencies are just like human beings, we can all use some improvement," he said.

Thomas, D-San Pedro, chairman of the committee, said the financial investigations were "another check and balance the legislative branch has over the executive branch." He said such probes helped reveal waste and conflict of interest.

Thomas also said the auditor general's reports of the past that have been suppressed on partisanship grounds are being released to the news media.

The main one is a report on Gov. Ronald Reagan's tax limitation task force, which said the administration had misused tax money in hiring staff members to formulate the initiative. However, it was leaked to the press last April.

The other reports include investigations on the Public Utilities Commission's rate setting techniques, the Commerce Department and teachers' credentialing.

Thomas said that prior to a July Senate Rules Committee resolution, it took a majority vote of members from both houses to guarantee the release of such reports.

Now no member of either house can suppress reports, Thomas said.

House Drops Disaster Loan Rates

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The House passed a compromise bill yesterday to lower the interest rate on federal disaster loans.

If the Senate goes along with the House on the bill, worked out by a conference committee between differing House and Senate versions, disaster-hit businessmen, homeowners and farmers would be eligible for loans at down to 1 per cent interest.

The House passed the measure by voice vote with little opposition.

The bill would offer borrowers two possible choices of repayment terms: 3 per cent interest rate with $2,500 of the loan forgiven, or 1 per cent with the entire amount of the loan repaid.

The present rate is 5 per cent with no forgiveness.

The bill's provisions would be retroactive to April 20, 1973, for loans to businessmen and homeowners handled by the Small Business Administration, and to Dec. 26, 1972, for loans to farmers by the Farmers Home Administration.

The bill also would make erosion eligible for disaster loans.

The SBA also could make disaster loans to small businessmen to comply with federal environmental, safety and consumer standards. Loans also could be made to stock producers whose animals suffer disease and to businesses hurt by military base closings.

The beaver, with nose valves that close when he goes under water, can remain submerged for as long as 15 minutes.

Third Level Asked In Clean Air Steps

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) —A proposal for a third level of clean air standards in certain areas was proposed yesterday by a spokesman for the nonprofit Environmental Defense Fund.

Jane Hall, of Berkeley, told an Environmental Protection Agency hearing that its proposed primary and secondary air standards are not strict enough. She said also that tertiary standards should be set up for those areas that are already cleaner than required under the secondary standard.

She also proposed an "effluent charge" for all new emissions, 10 cents per pound for sulfur dioxide and 20 cents per pound for all other particulates.

Thus the cost of monitoring would be part of industry's production cost, she said.

Lowell Smith, of the Sierra Club, defended the club's clean air proposals as made at a recent hearing in Washington.

He said the Sierra Club proposals were superior to those of the EPA because they "take into account all six major air pollutants, where EPA looks at only two."

Smith said also that the EPA's secondary standards "are totally inadequate as a level of protection."

He also attacked what he called the "myth" that the Sierra Club proposals represent a "stop all development" philosophy.

Under the Sierra Club proposals, Smith said, "even in the most pristine areas with the least favorable weather conditions, a new town of up to 15,000 people could be built tomorrow, and by 1985, with better control of auto emissions, much, much larger communities could be built.

"Developments of more than 15,000 could not be constructed this year in these areas. Developments of more than 15,000 are not needed this year in those areas," Smith said.

"We have a serious housing shortage, but it is not at the rim of the Grand Canyon, in Northern Nevada, or in the Sierra. The Sierra Club proposals will not interfere with the effort of the housing industry to meet that shortage."

Novel Is Banned

GRANBY, Conn. (UPI) —The board of education decided Thursday that the Norman Mailer novel "The Naked and the Dead" isn't suitable for high school students to read, and ordered it off the school's required reading list for freshmen and sophomores.

Ban Lifted On Registering Of A Motorcycle

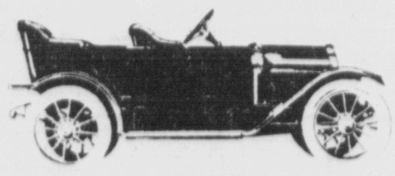
SACRAMENTO (UPI) — The state Department of Motor Vehicles has lifted its ban against registering of West German MAICO motorcycles manufactured after Jan. 1 as "off road vehicles."

The DMV yesterday said the freeze was begun June 21 at the request of the Highway Patrol because the motorcycle's exhaust system was too noisy.

DMV Director Robert C. Cozens said the bike's West German manufacturers had solved the problem with a device that brings sound emissions to within legal limits.

"MAICO motorcycles basically are 'trail bikes' not equipped for on-road use and DMV will continue to refuse them registration that would permit their use of conventional thoroughfares," Cozens said.

FOCUS



Get A Horse

Collecting and restoring antique cars has become a hobby for many people. Perhaps the interest is an attempt to recapture a more innocent, leisurely era. Maybe living wasn't easier years ago, but cars were less complicated. Many repairs could be made while on the road. And, if all else failed, a horse could be summoned to tow the car. One ingenious Frenchman advised the 1909 motorist to carry a piece of rye bread in the car. The bread was to be used as an emergency repair kit for a leaky radiator. Kneaded into a paste, it was just the right consistency for a quick patch.

Novatan To Receive Eagle Pin

David K. Sommer, 16-year-old Novato scout, will receive the Eagle award Sept. 23 at 7 p.m. in a court of honor at Good Shepherd Lutheran Church in Novato.

David, son of Mr. and Mrs. Hans G. Sommer of 408 Alameda de la Loma, joined Cub Scout Pack 82, sponsored by the Loma Verde Home Owners Association, in 1966. He advanced to Troop 82 and was patrol leader, buglar, senior patrol leader and junior assistant scoutmaster.

In February 1972, he received scouting's Pro Deo Et Patria award for service to his church. He was elected to the Order of the Arrow last year and has earned 26 merit badges and three 50-mile hike awards.

He designed and built a stained glass window for Good Shephert Lutheran Church as his Eagle project.

He is a junior at Novato High School and an avid archer and member of Northwoods Bowmen's Club.

Lagunitas Tax Rate Is Slashed

A windfall of state funds will make possible a 29-cent drop in the Lagunitas School District's tax rate, according to Supt. Harry R. Roche.

Roche told the district board Wednesday that the district will receive more state money than expected under Senate Bill 90 and other recent legislation.

Consequently, the tax rate, originally estimated at $4.28 per $100 assessed valuation, can be cut to $3.992, he said.

The district's assessed valuation has risen 20.5 per cent, and even with the tax rate drop, revenue paid by taxpayers will rise by more than $30,000, to about $231,000, Roche said.

The Lagunitas School District Board also:

LEAVE — Granted teacher Edna Bogardus a one-year leave of absence.

ENROLLMENT — Noted that enrollment has increased slightly over last year and one more teacher has been hired for 1973-74.

GIFT — Accepted an $800 gift from the student council for playground improvements.

KINDERGARTEN — Agreed to add an "ABC-emphasis" kindergarten to the current "open-classroom" and "academic-plus" programs.

Novato Will Pull Back Its Sphere Of Influence

Bowing to demands from the City of San Rafael, the Novato City Council voted last night to pull back its sphere of influence from areas where it overlaps San Rafael's.

For long range planning purposes, cities set their spheres of influence to include areas outside the city which are expected to be annexed eventually.

When the Novato council voted earlier this year to extend the city's sphere southward to Miller Creek, east of Highway 101, it included the St. Vincent's School property which San Rafael had put in its sphere.

The council voted last night to pull back northward along a line extending eastward from Marinwood Hill, the north boundary of San Rafael's sphere. The vote was 4-to-1 with councilman George C. Quesada dissenting.

San Rafael had protested the overlap to the Marin County Local Agency Formation commission which sets spheres of influence for all cities in Marin.

In other business, the council postponed action until Sept. 18, on a proposal to require that 10 to 15 per cent of the Cheda Farms development be low and moderate income housing.

Developer A. R. Allan plans to build 362 apartments and townhouses, northeast of South Novato Boulevard, opposite Stone Drive. Councilmen have proposed that eight to 11 units be set aside for low income families.

The proposed requirement, which could set a precedent for housing requirements in other projects, was referred back to City Atty. Clark M. Palmer.

The council's next meeting will be a joint breakfast meeting with the Novato fire protection district board at 7:30 a.m. Tuesday at the Alvarado Inn.

Shoreline Trustees Told Improvement Costs Soaring

Cost of proposed improvements in Shoreline Unified School District has risen 13.3 per cent since last spring when it was estimated $450,000 would do the job.

In presenting the new estimate of $510,000, Supt. Kenneth L. Barnes advised the district board Wednesday that, if a $450,000 bond issue passes in the Sept. 18 election, enough money has accumulated in the building fund to cover the increase.

Barnes told the Independent-Journal yesterday that about $100,000 has been accumulated since the board decided to set up the fund and allot it a portion of each year's revenue.

Barnes advised the board that if voters go for the bond issue, it will add 13 cents to the tax rate in the 1974-75 fiscal year, according to county Auditor-Controller Michael Mitchell. This year's tax rate, which includes 39.9 cents for bond redemption, totals $3.974, per $100 assessed valuation. Last year's rate was $4.079.

The bonds would be used to build seven classrooms and a multimedia library building at Tomales Elementary School.

In other business the board accepted the resignation of Laura Stump, Tomales School teacher, and held a closed session to consider hiring her replacement.

The board hired Alfred Hogan, half-time custodian, West Marin School, at $3.24 an hour; Donna Freeman, half-time teacher aide, Bodega Bay School, $3.08 an hour; and Mary Winkelman, fulltime teacher aide, Tomales Middle School, $3.16 an hour.

Lake Tahoe Location Of Honeymoon

The former Paula Mary Spatz of San Anselmo was attended by her sister Josephine Spatz of San Francisco as maid of honor. The bridesmaid was another sister, Katherine Ellen Spatz of San Anselmo.

James C. Vicars of Lafayette was best man, and Thomas Koch of Davis and Steven Solomon of Boston, Mass., ushered.

The reception was also held at the Art and Garden Center. The couple will live in Allston, Mass., where the bridegroom is attending Tufts University Medical School in Boston.

Paula, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Russell Harry Spatz of San Anselmo, is the granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Hauch Spatz of Marysville and Mr. and Mrs. Theodore A. Burdick of Flushing, N.Y.

Stuart is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Benjamin Campbell of Orinda and the brother of Mrs. Robert Da Prato of Napa.

Paula is a graduate of Sir Francis Drake High School, attended the University of California at Davis and was grduated from the University of Massachusetts.

Vows Are Repeated In Mill Valley

Deborah Karen Hoyt of San Rafael became the bride of Laurence Eliot Caine of Berkeley Saturday in a ceremony at the Mill Valley Community Church in Mill Valley.

A reception at the Meadow Club in Fairfax followed the ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward E. Caine of Berkeley.

Maid of honor for her sister was Jennifer Hoyt of San Rafael. The bride's sisters Amy and Carrie Hoyt of San Rafael and the bridegroom's sister, Neeva Caine of Berkeley, were the bridesmaids.

Best man for his brother was Michael Caine of Berkeley, and guests were ushered to their seats by Jack Eichmann of Oakland, Gordon Andrews of El Cerrito and Charles Toombs of Berkeley.

Following a wedding trip to Lake Tahoe the couple will live in Pacifica.

Deborah is a graduate of San Rafael High School and the University of California. She is employed by the Bank of America in San Francisco. Her grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. William L. Hoyt of Pasadena and Mrs. Charles S. Winter of Lexington, Mass.

Laurence is a graduate of Berkeley High School and attended California State University, San Francisco. He is employed by the Martinez Bus Lines in Martinez. His grandmothers are Mrs. Arthur Nye of Manteca and Mrs. Carvel S. Caine of Claremont.

Dental Auxiliary Elects Officers

Mrs. Marshall Rothstein of Mill Valley will be installed president of the Women's Auxiliary to the Marin County Dental Society at a dinner Sept. 14.

Other officers who will also be installed by the auxiliary at Le Camembert restaurant in Mill Valley, are Mmes. James McCray, president-elect; James Pride, corresponding secretary; Lloyd Witter, recording secretary; and Colin Wong, treasurer, and committee chairman.

The auxiliary will continue its year-long program of dental health education through its puppet shows presented to public school children, demonstrations of the toy dental unit. It will sponsor a credit course, in combined efforts with the Dental Society, for Marin teachers and parents in preventative dentistry and distribute films and educational materials.

Francoise Rothstein, the new president, has previously been chairman of membership, hospitality, publicity, the puppet shows, and dental health.

A native of Paris, France, she attended schools there and the University of Illinois and the Woodmere Academy in New York. She and her husband, an orthodontist, are seven-year residents of Marin and have two children, Nicole, 6, and Alain, 2.

MRS. MARSHALL ROTHSTEIN

Mrs. Rothstein is also active in Women's American ORT, the Jewish Welfare Federation, Genesis Gallery in Mill Valley and is a board member of the Petite Ecole Francaise in San Francisco.

She also enjoys art, gardening, cooking, dancing and playing tennis.

The installation dinner for the auxiliary will be combined with that of the Marin County Dental Society.

ON THE AGENDA

Community Church's Opportunity Sale Will Begin On Wednesday

The opportunity sale held annually by the Community Church Club of Mill Valley is scheduled for Wednesday through Sept. 15 at the parish hall of the Mill Valley Community Church. The hours for the event are 10 a.m. to 4 p.m., Wednesday and Friday, 10 a.m. to 4 p.m., and 7 to 9 p.m., Thursday, and 10 a.m. to 1 p.m., Saturday.

Items to be featured include clothing, household goods, books, toys, records, jewelry, plants and home-baked goods.

Mrs. James Cruickshank and Mrs. Fred Nestler are chairmen; Mmes. Arthur Reneau, cashier chairman; Walter Luzader, household department; Richard Burns, baked goods; M.A. Raiser and Ewald Katzung, plants; Agnes Reid and W.F. Gordon, jewelry, and Hazel Rochelle, nearly new section!

AN OPEN House for parents with preschool children will be given at 8 p.m. Wendesday at the Beginning School, located in St. Andrew Presbyterian Church in Marin City.

Director Jeri Coleman, the school staff and Beginning School board members will show guests around the school and answer questions.

The private non-profit preschool offers two, three and five morning programs each week for children from 2½ to 5 years old. It serves families in Southern Marin. Some scholarships are available, Mrs. James Shea of Mill Valley can be contacted for additional information.

A COFFEE will be given Monday from 10 a.m. to 12:30 p.m. by members of the board of directors of St. Raphael's Mother's Guild in the social hall of St. Raphael's School in San Rafael.

Principal Sister Mary Donna, O.P. and the Rev. Thomas I. Kennedy, pastor of St. Raphael's Church, will greet parents and discuss participation in school activities.

Chairman is Mrs. James DuBois.

MARGERY SELL of the Volunteer Bureau of Marin will speak to residents of the Tamalpais Retirement Residence Wednesday at 2:30 p.m. in the auditorium of the residence in Greenbrae.

Mrs. Sell will discuss opportunities for senior citizens to work as volunteers in community service.

THE FIRST event of the fall season for the Women's Auxiliary of the Sausalito Yacht Club will be a luncheon and fashion show Tuesday at the clubhouse.

Cocktails will be served at 11:30 a.m., and luncheon at 12:30 p.m. Mmes. John H. Steele and Henry Tonking are luncheon and reservations chairmen; Ernest Perry and John Radovich, fashion coordinators.

Members will be modelling styles from G J's Fashion Fair in Corte Madera.

THE MARIN Country Club Garden Club will hold its membership tea welcoming new members at 1 p.m. Monday at the club house in Novato. Mmes. Frederick Goette and Edson Berlin are pouring. Mrs. Thomas Ruane, president, is chairman of the meeting.

A November Wedding Is Planned By Pair

A Nov. 17 wedding at Redwood Presbyterian Church in Larkspur is planned by Bonnylin Lois Adami of Larkspur and James N. Robinette of Corte Madera.

Bonnylin is the daughter of Lois Adami of Corte Madera and the late Henry J. P. Adami of Corte Madera. Lanford H. Adami of Walnut Creek is her brother. She attended College of Marin and is employed by the law firm of Orrick, Herrington, Rowley and Sutcliffe in San Francisco.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Robinette of Klamath Falls, Ore., are the future bridegroom's parents, and Mrs. Harry Kirk is his sister. He has the bachelor of science degree from Oregon State University and an MBA degree from the University of San Francisco. James is employed by the Insurance Technology Co. in Berkeley.

Education Will Be Show's Theme

Education is the current theme for "Jorie Talks", five minute broadcasts on KTIM radio week days at 9:30 a.m.

Monday, host Jorie Parr will interview Jackie Kudler of the North Bay School in Sausalito on new methods of testing. Bolinas school teacher Linda O'Neil will report on the British infant schools on Tuesday.

Wednesday's broadcast will feature Ida Grae, who teaches primitive weaving classes at Dominican College. Travel as an educational factor will be discussed Thursday and Friday by Tiki Parker, whose family vacationed in Tahiti last summer.

Young Marin Women Cited As Outstanding

Four Marin women have been selected as Outstanding Young Women of America for 1973 and will appear in the annual biographical compilation, "Outstanding Young Women of America."

The women, who are being considered for further state and national awards, are Sue Ann Gruhn of Novato, Wanda Gayle McNamara of Mill Valley, Donna Rae Miller of Greenbrae and Virginia Lee Souders of Kentfield.

Candidates are selected on the basis of achievements and abilities, civic and professional contributions to communities, states and the country. All are between 21 and 35 years old.

Sue Ann Gruhn was a volunteer teacher in Tacoma before moving to Novato. She held elective classes in macrame and ceramics. Prior to that she lived in Missouri, where she taught religious classes.

Wanda McNamara is president of the Marin Inter City Council of Beta Sigma Phi sorority and an elder in the Sausalito Presbyterian Church.

Secretary and office manager for the Family Service Agency of Marin, Donna Miller has been with the agency since 1970.

One woman from each state will be selected in the fall to compete for national honors.

Diane Glicksman Becomes Bride Of Bruce E. Scott

A ceremony at Congregation Rodef Shalom in San Rafael united in marriage Diane Ellen Glicksman and Bruce Eugene Scott of Porterville.

Mrs. Mark Moorhouse of San Bruno was matron of honor at the Aug. 26 rite. The other bridal attendants were Mrs. Lee Stocks of Chico, Debbie Gevertz of San Francisco and Nanci Scott of Porterville, the bridegroom's sister.

Bruce's brother, Brian Scott of Porterville, was best man. Ushering were Diane's brother, Stephen Glicksman of San Rafael, and Ed Manson and Don Robertson, both of Porterville.

The reception followed at the temple. The couple went to Yosemite for a wedding trip and will make their home in Turlock, where Bruce is employed at Chaton Junior High School.

Diane is the daughter of Mrs. Annette Glicksman of San Rafael and Clifford Glicksman of Tustin, and she is the granddaughter of Max Manasse and Mrs. Sam Glicksman, both of San Francisco.

Bruce's parents are Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Scott of Porterville. A graduate of Porterville High School, he received a degree from California State University, Fresno.

He is the brother also of Diane Manson of Porterville and the grandson of Mr. and Mrs. Percy Carroll and Mr. and Mrs. Albert Scott, all of Porterville.

Abused Parent's Definition Of A Daughter Is Protested

DEAR HELEN:

In a recent column a "Disheartened and Abused Parent" gave her definition of a daughter.

How sad that any mother should feel that way. Here is my definition, which I believe and hope is applicable to more mother-daughter relationships.

What is a daughter? A daughter, to a mother, is her ally in the Battle of the Sexes. She starts out soft and round and dependent, and gradually becomes soft and round in the right places and independent.

She teethes her little pink gums on zweiback and your shoulder, and then later teethes her maternal instincts on helping people less fortunate physically, financially and psychologically, than herself.

A daughter is one who asks to do things: some she doesn't really want to do (just testing); some you won't let her do; some you let her do because they are part of her growth to maturity (but you worry); some of those requests delight you.

Yes, it is easier to cope with diaper rash than the New Morality; but not everything good is easy. Yes, it is more flattering when you can't get her to let go of your hand than when she can't wait to get going on her own.

But a daughter is one you can discuss something with a lot better at 16 than at six, and have both of you learn something. A daughter is the person you hope you have had some part in molding into a warm, wonderful woman.

My daughter, Melinda (who is 16) and I enjoy reading and discussing your columns. By the way, how old is Sue? — BERNICE W.

DEAR BERNICE:

Thanks for expressing so well what many of us mothers feel so deeply.

Sue, a college sophomore, will be 19 in October. — H.

DEAR HELEN:

I was disheartened when I read the description of a daughter by a disheartened mother.

I'm 22, the youngest of five and the only girl in my family. I hope I never put my mother through such misery.

Growing up is a strain for both mother and daughter. They each think the other doesn't love them any more, when all a daughter wants is to become her own person, and all that Mom wants is to keep her from growing up too soon.

These ideas of mine may not help D and A (the gap is already too wide), but maybe they can help prevent other mother-daughter conflicts.

TO PARENTS: Sure your daughter is growing up, but leave some things for her to look forward to, not just by saying "No!" but by talking to her and letting her talk to you; understanding her needs, but guiding her toward thinking things over first. If you don't agree with her, let her know, but not in harsh or belittling tones. Explain!

When you are in doubt, ask her to explain her views to you. It's possible she could know something you don't. And it makes her feel good to share her knowledge. Don't fear opening your mind to the new. There's much value in new approaches.

Heaven forbid: Don't agree with your daughter just to keep peace. Let her take time to accept your ideas and opinions as well as you accept hers.

Where there's a gap in communication, there's a gap in understanding and evidence of not wanting to.

I'd do almost anything in the world for my mother, but I must be me too! I know at times she doesn't like it, and tells me so. And what's important is, she listens when I talk. She doesn't just hear me — she listens! There's a difference, you know. — ONE LUCKY DAUGHTER

DEAR HELEN:

"Denied Father" who wants girls to hire out as "baby makers" so he and other barren couples can adopt children, would make a wonderful father — of a robot! I wonder if he'd recommend this plan for his own (adopted) daughter? — M.H.

Got a problem? An adult subject for discussion? A fun idea? You can talk it over in her column if you write to Helen Bottel, care of the Independent-Journal.

Tom Thumb Unit Selects Mrs. Flath As President

Jo Ann Flath of Novato has been elected president of the Tom Thumb Chapter of the Children's Home Society private adoption agency.

The wife of Bernell Vernon Flath, vice president of Sutro and Co. Inc., in San Francisco, Mrs. Flath has served the chapter as vice president and treasurer.

She is also interpretations chairman from Marin for the North Bay Council of CHS chapters. Mrs. Flath said that the agency has expanded its services to offer counseling to children and parents.

The chapter plans a luncheon in October, a children's film show in the winter and a Western dance in May as fund raisers for the agency.

Jo Ann Flath is also environmental chairman of the Marin Country Club Homeowners Association, a member of the Loma Verde Parent-Teacher Association board, and donor chairman of the Ignacio community blood fund.

MRS. BERNELL V. FLATH
Chapter president

A native of St. Louis, Mo., she attended Duke University, San Jose State College and is attending Dominican College, majoring in English.

Mrs. Flath and her husband are four-year residents of Marin and have two children, Steven, 6, and Ginger, 4.

Jo Ann Flath was an account executive at Honig, Cooper and Harrington Advertising Agency in San Francisco and later production manager and vice president of sales and promotion for Directional Graphics.

Other new officers of Tom Thumb Chapter this year are Mmes. Garold Strouss of San Rafael, vice president; James Kenzik of San Rafael, corresponding secretary; Thomas Kenzik of Novato, recording secretary; John Brookman of San Rafael, treasurer.

Chairmen are Mmes. Howard Harrington, Richard May, Ronnie Brown, Paul Wagner and James Brainerd.

St. Hilary's Is Scene Of Wedding

St. Hilary's Church in Tiburon was the setting for the marriage Saturday of Loretta Marie Pompeii and Lowell Alan Galliani of Bolinas.

She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Mario Pompeii of Corte Madera.

Loretta's attendants were Laura Flynn of Corte Madera, maid of honor, and the bride's sisters, Celeste and Patti Pompeii of Corte Madera, and the bridegroom's sister, Julie Galliani of San Anselmo.

Steven Fenston of Bolinas was best man. The ushers were Lawrence Jorgenson of San Anselmo and Thomas Blaettler of Santa Rosa.

A reception followed at the Community Hall in Tiburon. The couple will live in Bolinas after a lake Tahoe trip.

She is the granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Mario Pompeii of San Francisco.

Mr. and Mrs. Julius Galliani of San Anselmo are Lowell's parents. Lowell was graduated from Sir Francis Drake High School, attended the College of Marin and is employed by De Vreugd Dental Laboratory in San Rafael.

He is the grandson of Ignatia Galliani of San Francisco.

ON BEING BLACK

Public Schools Hold Plenty Of Promise

By SANDRA HAGGERTY
(Distributed by Los Angeles Time Syndicate)

DEAR PARENTS:

The leisure days of summer have come to an end and the school doors are opening. Many of you are using most of this month's paycheck to purchase new shoes and school paraphernalia for your children.

Unfortunately, new clothes are the major part of the "back-to-school" excitement for the youngsters.

Some of you white parents, having been rendered senseless by the prospects of your children getting to know black children, have sold your inner-city homes and made the necessary adjustments to insulate your children in an all-white environment.

Some of you black parents, concerned with ethnic relevancy, have enrolled your children in the Black Muslim schools or other black "freedom" schools. Some of you Chicano, Asian and Native American parents have begun your own schools.

THE MAJORITY of us, however, will enroll our children in the public schools. We are not oblivious to the shortcomings and problems within the public school system; rather, we see no viable alternatives.

Traditionally, public education has been one of the great strengths of America. Today, it is an institution under heavy attack. The reasons, of course, are quite simple and obvious.

Our school system has only partially met the educational needs of all its students. Minority students learn the "white American way" but are deprived of a knowledge of their own cultural heritages and contributions. White students, too, have learned the "white American way" but have been deprived of learning the black, Chicano, Asian and Native American "way."

Dr. Julian Nava, chairman of the board of education, Los Angeles City Schools, has made an interesting observation regarding multilingual and multiethnic children. He stated that in the future, multiethnic and multilingual people will be the "advantaged" people. The "mono people" (one culture and one language) will be "dinosaur creatures," unable to move about and survive in our multicultural and multilinguistic world. Having curriculum in the public schools to which minority children can relate is therefore valuable learning experience for white students.

Because of increased intrastate, interstate and international mobility of families, it has become obvious that our children must learn to survive in many environments with different kinds of people.

WE NEED public education for it holds the promise of the future for our children. The fact that so much criticism is being leveled against the institution can be viewed as a strength. It means we recognize the weaknesses in the system and know it can be improved.

How can we parents on an individual basis help to improve our schools? Involvement. Go to the schools, cooperate with teachers and administrators, attend the Parent-Teacher Association meetings. Talk and listen to your child about his school experiences. Let the teachers and administrators know you and your concerns.

Turn off that television at an early hour to see that your children get adequate rest for school the next day. Make sure the children eat breakfast, either at home or at the "free breakfast" school programs. Encourage excitement and a positive attitude about learning.

As parents, we can make a significant difference in our public schools. We have the power, if executed, to make our school system one of excellence for all our children.

MR. AND MRS. JOHN T. GILLESPIE

Trinity Lutheran Church in San Rafael was the setting for the wedding Saturday of Andrea Danielle Nelson of Seattle, Wash., to John Tillman Gillespie of Edmonds, Wash.

Andrea is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gordon F. Nelson of San Anselmo. Her sister, Mrs. John M. Daughters of Redmond was matron of honor, and the bridesmaids were Helen Vance of Riverside and Mrs. Norman Swick of Portland, Ore.

Donald S. Goldie Jr. of Bellingham, Wash., was best man. Seating guests were the bride's brother, Gordon O. Nelson of Palo Alto, and John M. Daughters of Redmond.

Andrea and John will live in Edmonds. He will attend the University of Washington, and she is employed at the university department of environmental health.

The bride is a graduate of Sir Francis Drake High School and Whitman College. She is the granddaughter of Mrs. Andrew O. Oliver of San Rafael.

John is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Tillman B. Gillespie Jr. of Des Plaines, Ill. He was graduated from Interlake High School in Bellevue, Wash., and is employed by Black Clawson, Inc. in Everett, Wash. Mr. and Mrs. Tillman B. Gillespie of Jacksonville, Fla., are his grandparents.

Twosomes Big For Fall Dress

Fashion features twosomes this fall. Dresses with jackets, suits or pantsuits are teamed.

Plaids are often used for both jacket and skirts, although a plain colored jacket over a plaid skirt is also finding favor. Pants suits are a top sportswear twosome. The blouson and the tent are two new silhouettes to top matching pants.

Women Do Great Job As Firemen

Napa (AP) — The nine housewives who form Northern California's first female fire crew are doing a far better job than the men they replaced, says their boss.

"It's the difference between night and day," said Norman Silver, state forest ranger in charge of volunteer fire training for Napa County.

For six months the women — ranging in age from late 20s to mid-40s — have been responding to the brushfires that break out several times a week during the dry summer. They live in the remote wooded canyons eight miles west of town.

When a call comes, they deposit their children at the neighbors, don fire gear and head for the trucks.

"They're aggressive fire fighters and work together beautifully," said Silver. "Just the other day they kept a redwood fire down to six acres that easily could have spread to 50 by the time paid crews came in from Napa."

Silver said the idea of using housewives on fire lines arose because the male volunteers often were miles away at work when dangerous fires broke out.

"The men weren't very dependable," Silver said. "They saw it mostly as a social group, and there was a lot of competing for leadership. Nothing was getting done."

One reason the women respond with greater urgency than the men is that "they've been at home through the years when these fires break out and seen what they can do," Silver said. "The men normally get home from work after they're contained."

Bea Henke, who helped organize the crew, agreed. "It puts the fear of God into you to see the mountain across from your house go up in flames," she said.

Mrs. Henke said she enjoys the work, but admits "it can be tiring, especially working under tension. It takes a lot of stamina to get home from three hours on a fire and still have to feed the family and round up the kids from the neighborhood."

The women underwent 4½ months of training before going on their first real fire, and still report weekly for three hours' drill. They all know how to operate the equipment, which includes a new 15-ton tanker fire engine and a 1946 pumper.

Joanna Pattalochi Trades Vows With Duane Wallace

Joanna Pattalochi and Duane Wallace, both of San Rafael, were married Sunday at the First Congregational Church in San Rafael.

Parents of the bride are Mr. and Mrs. John M. Pattalochi, and the bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Robert Wallace. All are residents of San Rafael.

Maid of honor for her sister was Kathryn Pattalochi, and bridesmaids were Cristine Hankerson of Greenbrae, Shelley Wallace of San Rafael and Donna Ham of El Cerrito.

Steve Wallace of Santa Rosa was best man, and guests were ushered to their seats by Steve Fanfelle, Greg Collins and Rich Miram, all of San Rafael.

Following a reception at the Outdoor Art Club in Mill Valley the couple left on a camping trip to Oregon. The newlyweds are living in San Rafael.

Both are graduates of Terra Linda High School and attended College of Marin. Joanna is employed by Kayser Pastries in San Rafael, and Duane is employed by Sears in San Rafael.

Podiatrist Wants Return To Ancient Rite — Walking

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Dr. Gerald Robin wants to see Americans adopt an ancient, forgotten means of transportation — it's called walking.

Dr. Robin, a Chevy Chase, Md., podiatrist, attending the 61st annual meeting of the American Podiatry Association, said of walking:

"It's one of the best — if not the best — exercises for the entire body, and a perfect way to work off the tensions of the day."

He went on to give examples of great walkers in history, saying: "Beethoven composed best while walking after eating. Goethe walked a lot. Einstein puzzled out many secrets of the universe on his walks around Princeton. Mark Twain was a pacer.

The villain of the podiatrist's piece was the automobile, about which he said. "We are spoiled by the automobile. People who live close to their offices drive to work. This adds to pollution and congestion. It robs us of good exercise, and the opportunity to burn off a few excess calories."

The Pajama Look Getting Emphasis

Sportswear designers are giving more emphasis to the pajama-look pantsuit in holiday fabrics such as crepe, satin and moire.

The mood is soft and the look is best, says Women's Wear Daily, when the tops are belted or gathered onto a yoke.

Increase In Holiday Clothes Is Forecast

After coping with price hikes on back-to-school clothes, importers and manufacturers of foreign-made children's wear see another 5 to 10 per cent increase for the holiday, according to Women's Wear Daily.

Responsible for the rising costs of imports are the dollar devaluation, surtaxes and increased textile prices in Europe and the Far East.

Plaids Are Out

Plaids have been replaced with bright floral prints for children's wear. The Fifties look has also been revived for children and among them is the long felt skirts with appliques, clam diggers and skating skirts.

BIRTHDAY QUIZ

By GORDON B. GREB

SECRET CELEBRITY! Naming this famous person is easy if you know he will be celebrating his 60th birthday on Wednesday, Sept. 12, and read his biography before checking the answer below.

ENTERING life as the son of an Alabama sharecropper, this youngster and his family had to move to Cleveland, Ohio, when he was 9, because it was almost impossible to make a living in the south. When a gym teacher urged him to go out for track in the fifth grade, it wasn't because he spotted championship material but because this skinny, sickly kid needed exercise to build himself up.

OLYMPIC potential began to show itself by the time he enrolled in East Technical High School. Entering a meet one day in 1933, he ran 100-yards in 9.4 seconds, tying the world's record and assuring himself a chance to break more a few years later running for Ohio State.

SUCCESS crowned his speedy abilities at the 1936 Olympic Games in Berlin, Germany, when he electrified the 75,000 spectators by winning four gold medals. Sprinting down the track like a bullet, he won the 100-meter and 200-meter dashes, took the broad jump, and led off the victory won by the U.S. 400-meter relay team.

ENJOYING ticker tape parades and world acclaim, this man's name is in history books today because he proved before the eyes of Hitler and others like him that there is no master race. Just as the Nazis went down to defeat in World War II nine years later, they got a preview of the spirit, courage and determination of a fighting American on that day.

ANSWER: Underline the first letter in each word starting a sentence above. It spells out his name from the bottom up.

If Other Ways Fail, Kill Your Opponents With Kindness

It's usually foolish for a defender to lead dummy's long suit. That's usually good for declarer; why do the enemy's work for him? But there are exceptions to this rule.

South dealer
North-South vulnerable

NORTH

WEST'S TRICK

West opened the queen of clubs, holding the trick. West continued with another club, and East took the ace. East now had to look around for a new suit.

East thought about hearts and dismissed the idea. South needed all of the missing high spades and at least the ace-king of hearts for his opening bid.

East saw that he couldn't afford to close his eyes to dummy's diamond suit and just hope it would go away. If East passively returned a heart, South could win and knock out the ace of trumps. South would then win the next heart, draw trumps and lead a diamond to discard all of his losers on dummy's powerful suit.

DIAMOND WORKS

East finally saw that a diamond return would work wonders. He therefore led the nine of diamonds after taking the second trick with the ace of clubs.

"Thanks," declarer said gratefully. It seemed that east was out to be helpful.

South won the diamond return with the ten and led the king of spades. East won with the ace of spades and led his other diamond.

HURTS DEALER

This spiked declarer's guns. If he led another diamond from dummy, East would ruff and thus force South to overruff. If declarer didn't lead another diamond from dummy, he'd never get back there to cash the rest of the suit.

Either way, the precious diamond suit was a dead as a doornail and South was down.

DAILY QUESTION

As dealer, not vulnerable against vulnerable opponents, you hold:

♡ J 7
♢ 8 7 5 3
♣ Q J 10 9 6 3.

What do you say?

ANSWER: Bid three clubs. This hand is weaker than the textbook model for a bid of three clubs, but in such favorable vulnerability you may throw a curve when the temptation is strong. If the opponents can beat you badly, they almost surely have game and rubber.

Antioch Collegians Will Tour China

YELLOW SPRINGS, Ohio (UPI) — Authorities in Peking have approved a three-month study tour for students and faculty members of Antioch College here.

Antioch professor Frank Wong said a group of 10 persons will leave for China sometime after January for a three-week tour. Then they will go to Hong Kong for three months of study.

FAMILY

"Let It Be" — Documentary film of last rehearsal of the Beatles recording an album. A candid, lighthearted performance.

ADULTS AND TEENS

"Day of the Jackal" — Lengthy but suspenseful tale of the preparations made by a hired gunman to assassinate DeGaulle. Handsome production is well acted.

"40 Carats" — A charming, slightly implausible fable, a dashing young romeo falls deeply in love with a slight gereatric juliet in this light comedy with glossy background.

"Let the Good Times Roll" — Rock 'n' roll revival of the 1950s is presented in concert by the stars who made the songs famous. Some cursing.

"Life and Times of Judge Roy Bean" — A bandit appoints himself "judge" in a lawless town in Texas in the 1880s. He has his own brand of eccentric justice. Violence and foul language.

"Love Story" — Two college students marry causing a rift between the young man and his father. When they decide to have a child they discover the wife has a fatal illness. Some sex and foul language.

"Paper Moon" — Sophisticated comedy drama recreating the 1930s. Salesman-con-artist agrees to deliver a 9-year-old girl to an aunt. The child is tough, smokes and swears and out-swindles her mentor.

"Slither" — Kooky off-beat comedy has plenty of profanity and violence overtones. A search for hidden stolen money is plot.

BORDERLINE

(Most sources say Adults Only)

"Butterflies Are Free" — A blind boy strikes out for independence from a domineering mother by living alone in a swinging San Francisco neighborhood. His sexual encounters change his life.

"Cesar and Rosalie" — The eternal triangle, French style, makes a sophisticated sex comedy. (Boxoffice Magazine)

"Chinese Connection" — Formerly titled "Fist of Fury". A former student returns to Shanghai in 1908 to the funeral of his boxing teacher. At this time the city is in control of Japanese. A challenge is issued between the Chinese and Japanese schools. Very violent, bloody action drama.

"Getaway" — Fun and games crime escapade about a half-million dollar bank robbery which contains every shoot-out cliche since "Bonnie and Clyde". Crime pays in this one.

"Live and Let Die" — Latest James Bond adventure takes one to New York, New Orleans and Caribbean islands in search of a drug ring and a voodoo enchantress. Usual violence, gadgets and sex.

"Man Who Loved Cat Dancing" — When a woman interrupts a train robbery she is taken along with the money. During their flight and chase by Wells Fargo posse there is rape, murder and much violence and brutality.

"Pete and Tillie" — The romance and marriage of a middle-aged couple is both hilarious and touching.

"Scorpio" — A double-agent is marked for execution. The violent manhunt through the capitols of Europe is the plot.

"Steelyard Blues" — Ridiculously zany comedy about a group of kooks, in their flight from the "system", break all the rules in their attempt to rebuild a plane to fly to freedom.

"State of Seige" — French made, very violent film. A harsh indictment of U.S. policy in Latin American countries and the crises it precipitates. Poorly dubbed but gives food for thought.

"Thief Who Came to Dinner" — A disillusioned computer analyst becomes a jewel thief. The insurance investigator becomes so fond of his suspect he doesn't turn him in, so crime does pay.

"Touch of Class" — Sophisticated French bedroom farce. An expose of the difficulties inherent in an extramarital affair. Frank sexual scenes and language.

"Travels With My Aunt" — A prim British accountant becomes embroiled in drug smuggling, illegal currency and theft. Film seems excessive, turning a light comedy into heavy fantasy.

ADULTS ONLY

"Blume in Love" — Self-indulgent romance about a lawyer who tries to win back his divorced wife. At an adult level, love, hate and sexual feelings are explored from a man's point of view.

"Bullitt" — A bloody violent story of the difficulties police encounter in trying to protect a Chicago mobster needed to testify in a Senate crime hearing.

"Enter the Dragon" — Secret agent infiltrates the island fortress of an evil dealer in white slavery and opium and demolishes an army of men with karate. (Products Digest)

"Godfather" — One of the most violent and bloody films. A Mafia war that erupts between five families over the narcotics trade.

Plea Scheduled On Pot Charge

A San Rafael man accused of possessing five pounds of marijuana when his truck was stopped for speeding was arraigned yesterday in Marin Municipal Court.

Kurt Von Heimann, 22, of 47 Castlewood Drive, was released on his own recognizance by Municipal Judge David R. Baty and ordered to return to court Wednesday to plead to a charge of possessing the weed for sale.

Marin sheriff's deputies said they spotted the suspected marijuana in five one-pound plastic bags on the floor of his pickup truck when they stopped his car on Sir Francis Drake Boulevard near Fairfax Tuesday.

Simon Comedy To Open In Novato Tonight

The Novato Community Players will present four performances of Neil Simon's comedy "Last of the Red Hot Lovers," opening at the Novato Community House at 8:30 p.m. today.

Performances also will be held tomorrow and Sept. 14 and 15.

Gene Vasco will have the starring role as a married middle-aged man who believes life is passing him by and seeks extra curricular romance.

In the roles of his three girlfriends will be Elaine Bernardi, Renie Clymer and Katie McLaughlin.

The play is being produced by Jackie Proett and directed by Vivienne Terry.

The Sept. 14 performance will be for the benefit of Sausalito senior citizens.

MUSIC REVIEW

Piccola Presents A Potpourri Of Festival Accomplishments

By VERA M. OLMSTED

The triumphant Orchestra Piccola, home again after its highly acclaimed performance at the International Festival of the Two Worlds in Spoleto, Italy, this summer, demonstrated its considerable talents last night in a special celebration concert at Veterans Memorial Building.

The Piccola, superbly conducted by Hugo Rinaldi, presented a potpourri of highlights from the Spoleto Festival movements of works it had performed during the tour.

Although this made for a fragmented program, it afforded the greatest opportunity for the Piccola to show off the versatility and strengths of its members and allowed the receptive and large audience of about 1,400 to hear the kind of playing that impressed listeners and critics in Italy.

The Orchestra Piccola is a chamber group of 27 musicians ranging in age from 14 to 18. Members are chosen from the Marin Youth Orchestra's most outstanding players and the group is sponsored by the Marin Symphony Association.

This concert was organized by the Marin County Citizens Committee and the symphony association to pay tribute to the achievements of the orchestra, its conductor, organization members, supporters and the parents of the musicians.

After each member of the Piccola received a commemorative award from the Marin County Board of Supervisors, the concert began with the robust first movement of Ernest Bloch's neo-classical "Concerto Grosso No. 1 for String Orchestra" with piano obbligato. Eliane Lust ably performed the piano obbligato line.

Concertmaster Dan Smiley was the principal violin soloist in the third movement of the Antonio Vivaldi "Concerto in A Major for Violin, Strings and Cembalo." Smiley has a beautiful warm tone and a fine understanding of phrasing and secure intonation.

This work also featured three violinist who played the answering "echo" to Smiley's solo passages. They wre Rhonda Bingham, Terrie Baune, and Leslie Tomkins. Thomas Macfarlane offered strong support on the continuo, in this and other works on the program.

The third, fourth, and fifth movements of Paul Hindemith's "Five Pieces for String Orchestra" were performed next. The last movement is almost a study in perpetual motion, and the orchestra followed Rinaldi's directing very closly to achieve a driving finish.

Jenny Sperry, oboe, gave a sprightly and well-phrased performance as the soloist in the third movement of the "Concerto for Oboe and Strings by Benedetto Marcello."

The first movement from Mozart's "Eine Kleine Nachtmusic" showed the orchestra at its best, expressing dynamic nuances in response to Rinaldi's every gesture, no matter how small.

Lue Ann Fisher left her violin duties and stepped forward as soprano soloist to sing "Parted" from "Songs of Separation" by William Grant Still. This very short selection left everyone wanting to hear more of her young, clear voice.

The well-known last movement rondo of the "Violin Concerto in E Major" by J.S. Bach was given a firm and assured interpretation by Carol Tomlinson.

The program ended with one of the most interesting works of the evening — two movements of Frank Martin's "Petite Symphony Concertante for Harp, Piano, Harpsichord and Two String Orchestras." This demanding work drew fine performances from the three soloists, Sheila Colwell, harp; Eliane Lust, piano, and Evelyne Lust, harpsichord.

The same musical selections will be performed by the Piccola in a television appearance tonight at 7 o'clock on KRON-TV, Channel Four.

Highway 37 Will Have Lanes Added

Passing lanes will be added next year to a two-lane section of Highway 37 between the Sonoma County line and Vallejo, according to the state Department of Transportation.

Work on the $174,000 project could begin next spring, said Robert Halligan, department spokesman.

Alternate westbound and eastbound passing lanes will be added to the six-mile stretch of highway. The project is included in the department's 1973-74 budget.

The Police Advisory Committee of the Solano County Transportation Council has recommended that the State Highway Commission give number one priority to making Highway 37 a four-lane freeway from the Napa River to Highway 80.

Halligan said that this project is part of the state's freeway plans, but construction has not been scheduled.

Hair Of Suspect Ordered Plucked For Lab Testing

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — Twelve hairs have been ordered plucked from the head of a truck driver by a federal judge in a robbery case.

Judge Charles B. Renfew ordered the hairs removed from the scalp of Charles H. Evans, 27, charged with the $26,300 holdup of a savings and loan office.

Several hairs were found in a yellow golf cap believed worn by the robber, the judge said Tuesday, and the FBI wants to compare them with Evans'.

A Value Trip with Kenwood

Kenwood's latest receiver is the KR-2300, an AM/FM stereo model that puts out 28 watts (RMS) of power with less than 1% distortion. The tuner's fine sensitivity and signal-to-noise ratio ensure that you'll hear even the weaker stations free of background noise, and the receiver's convenience features include step-type bass and treble tone controls and even a microphone input. The KT-2300 sells for only $199.95, including the walnut case.

A record player as good as the BSR 310 ought to cost more than $49.45. A cueing lever protects your records, and so does the anti-skate control. The 310 comes complete with a base and a Shure M75CS cartridge already installed.

When you hear the strong, clean bass of the TransAudio 1010's, you'll be amazed that they usually sell for only $119.90 a pair. They're two-way systems with big ten-inch acoustic suspension bass speakers.

The Sherwood S7200 AM/FM stereo receiver carries on Sherwood's long tradition of providing high quality performance for a moderate price – $339.95 in this case. Permanently aligned ceramic filters give the tuner section excellent selectivity; the many stations on the FM dial won't intrude on each other. The amplifier puts out 64 watts (RMS) of power from 20 to 20,000 Hz, and FM muting and a very effective high filter are among the full complement of convenience features. Even the walnut case is included in the price.

The Garrard SL55B record player has a Synchro-Lab motor for constant speed, a cueing lever to save your records from scratches, and a gentle, fail-safe changing mechanism. We sell the SL55B with a base and an Empire 999XE/X elliptical cartridge for $64.95.

Fisher's new XP-79 is a three-way, 10" acoustic suspension system that can turn out substantial low notes, and it has exceptionally natural sound over its whole frequency range. The XP-79's sell for $279.90 a pair.

A Famous Elliptical Cartridge for Only $8.95

An elliptical stylus really is better for your records; it makes them sound cleaner and last longer, as well. Shure's M44E elliptical diamond cartridge is an ideal replacement for the old conical cartridge in your record player. It's nationally advertised for $24.95, but we normally sell it for $16.95. Right now you can save an additional $8 and make your records very happy.

Garrard's Zero 100 is the only automatic record player around that eliminates tracking error and the resultant distortion. It does it with a unique articulated tonearm that permits the stylus to follow the same path in the groove that the original cutter took. You'll hear cleaner, crisper sound from all your records. We're including a $66 Stanton 681EE, one of the very best cartridges made, and a base with the Zero 100 for $199.95 — $30 less than our normal discount price for this combination.

Devilishly Good Phones for Just $19.95

Koss KRD-711 stereophones have very wide response (10 to 17,000 Hz), soft foam ear cushions, and a coiled cord that extends up to ten feet. They're called Red Devils because of their uninhibited color, and we're out to make them even more tempting. Although they're nationally advertised at $29.95, we normally sell these Koss phones for only $25.95; but right now you can save another $6 on top of that.

Limited Offer: Our Service Department Will Fix Any Stereo Component for $14.95 Plus Parts

We'd like you to know about the fully equipped service departments in our San Rafael and San Mateo stores, and a sale seemed like a nice way to introduce it. Skilled service is available to anyone with distressed stereo equipment, no matter where you bought it.

If any of your gear isn't working right, bring it in this week. No matter how much labor we have to put in, we'll charge only $14.95, and you'll get our regular 90-day warranty on parts and labor. We do ask that the equipment be in good enough condition to warrant fixing, and that it be the type of equipment we normally sell (speakers, stereo components either in a group or separately). This offer is limited to one week only.

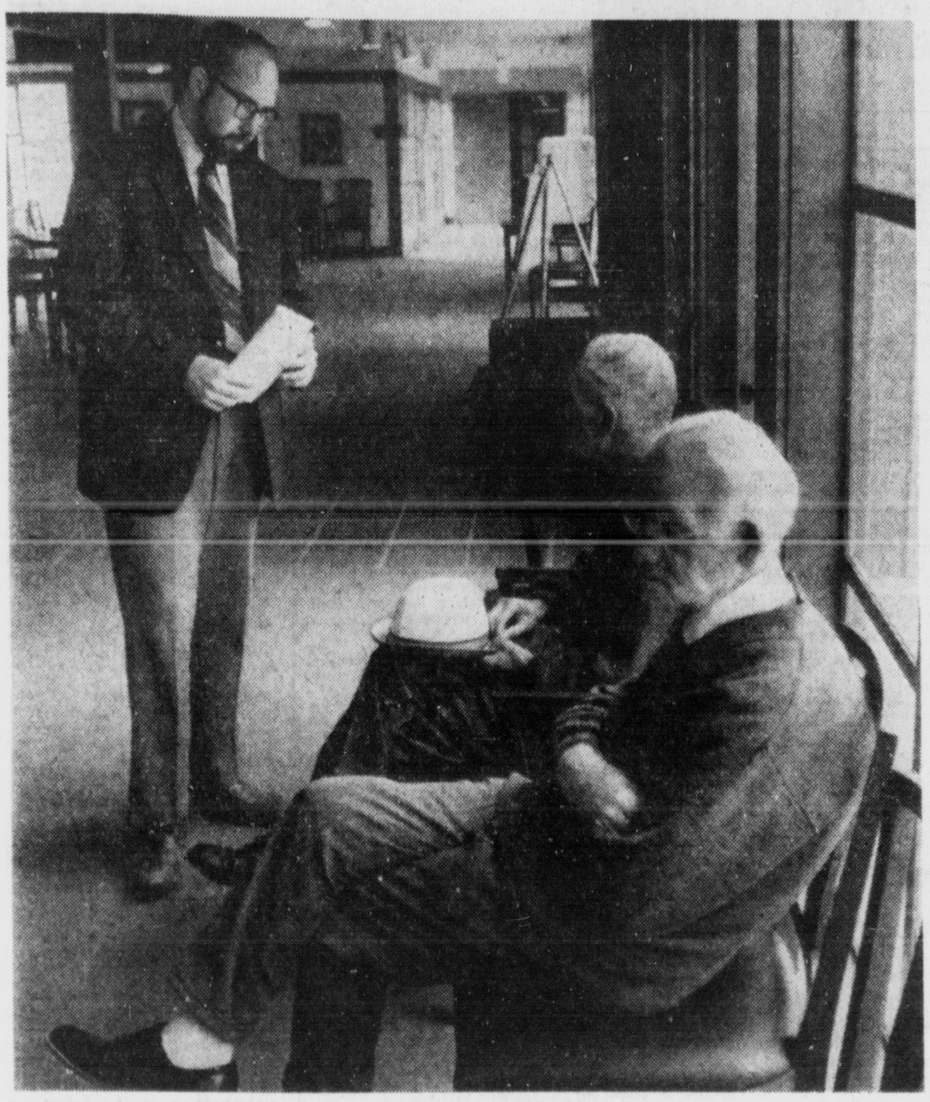
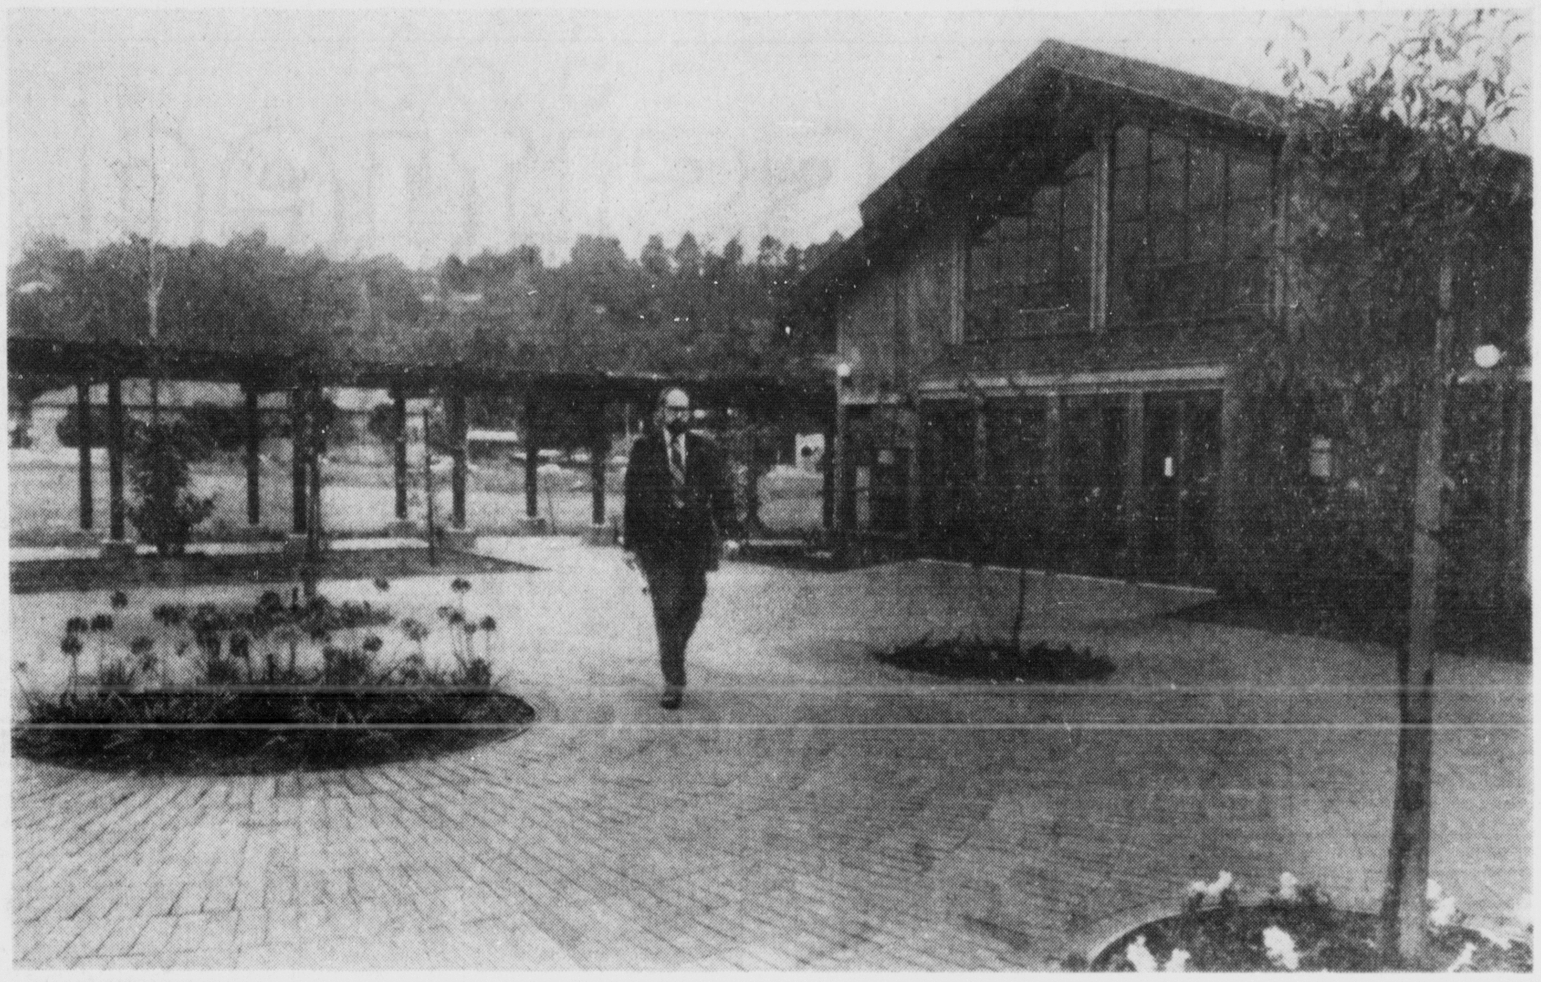
THIRD SECTION SAN RAFAEL, CALIFORNIA, FRIDAY, SEPTEMBER 7, 1973 23



MORNING CHAT — Two residents of the Redwoods engage the attention of Earl Abbott as he makes the rounds of the retirement residence. The Mill Valley establishment is described by some enthusiastic residents as providing a luxurious atmosphere at a price not found elsewhere.

BROTHERS — Philip Abbott (right) goes over the books of the nonprofit corporation they run in cooperation with their father, Rev. E. Leroy Abbott. They hope a solution to a snag delaying promised federal funding is in sight.



THE REDWOODS — Earl Abbott takes a morning stroll on the manicured premises of the Redwoods retirement residence grounds. The completed portion of the establishment, which he, his brother and father operate, is in luxurious contrast to the barren, graded ground that testifies to contradictions in federal financing which have snarled the project intended to provide moderately priced housing and care for the elderly.

Funds Snag Retirement Center

By REBECCA LARSEN

At one end of the site of the Redwoods, the Community Church retirement center in Mill Valley, lies one more victim of recent cutbacks in federal housing loans — a graded, empty lot, windswept and cluttered with lifeless boards and pipes.

A nonprofit corporation formed by the Community Church of Mill Valley had planned to build there the last half of its retirement center project.

But like dozens of other housing programs nationwide, it has been caught in a tangle of federal "Catch-22s."

In December 1972, 114 studio units were finished at the center. A second phase with 150 one-bedroom units received a loan commitment from the Department of Housing and Urban Development on June 29. But on the same day the government National Mortgage Association announced that it had stopped "buying" such mortgages from banks the previous day.

There's still some hope for the complex, however. Project managers and Rep. William S. Mailllard, R-Sixth District, have been negotiating with the federal government and think it may be announced soon that the loan will be granted after all.

One reason the project needs to be finished is that administration buildings, the dining room, kitchen and infirmary built in the first phase were designed to serve twice as many people as now live at the retirement center.

The project managers, a consulting firm called Resicare, also believe that completion is vital because the Redwoods provides elderly housing not easily available in Marin County or the Bay Area.

"It's a continued life-support system," said Rev. E. Leroy Abbott, of Resicare, a firm which he and two of his sons, Earl and Phillip, run. "It's not just housing, like the county housing projects for the elderly. It can also provide the kind of care an older person needs as he becomes more dependent."

For example, in the fully-completed project, a senior citizen in good health could take a one-bedroom apartment with a kitchen. He would cook his own meals and live just as he would in any apartment building in Marin.

As he grows older and more dependent, he could move to a smaller room where staff members would check more closely on his welfare, and he could begin to take more of his meals in the central dining room. When he's sick, he can check into the center infirmary.

"Of course, on the outside when someone is not able to care for themselves they can always move to smaller places," said Abbott, a United Church of Christ minister. "But if they get sick, then what? Maybe they could go into a convalescent hospital or a rest home where they'd pay $600 to $800 per month for care they don't get."

Present residents living alone in studio apartments at the Redwoods pay $350 per month for their rooms and three meals a day.

"Because of our low rates, we serve many people on old age assistance," said Philip, Abbott's son.

The rates are not federally subsidized. They're possible, said the Abbotts, because the center is run on a nonprofit basis.

Most of the present 160 residents are Marin citizens or relatives of Marin families, according to the Abbotts.

During a recent visit to the center, the interior did give the impression of a resort hotel or a luxury apartment building, not a rest home.

Among its extras are a shuffle board court, a billiard room, a beauty shop and an interior courtyard where the management some day hopes to serve meals.

"The management here has the whole project in mind all the times," said Mrs. Florence Allaben, who formerly had a Mill Valley apartment. "There's consideration for every single problem. You feel you belong here."

One woman sitting in the lobby turned out to be a retired teacher from San Francisco who has applied for a room at the Redwoods and was on a luncheon visit.

"I'm very impatient waiting to get in here," said Doris Davis. "I'd accept any kind of room to get over here. They serve elegant food, it's like a hotel. Perhaps you noticed the young girls working in the dining room. It's nice to have bright, young willing faces around you when you get old."

The retirement center management agrees with her assessment. "This is a nice place," said Philip Abbott. "It's not just a warehouse for the elderly."

NOTICE OF INTENTION TO SELL REAL PROPERTY AT PRIVATE SALE
No. 21810

In the Superior Court of the State of California in and for the County of Marin.

In the Matter of the Estate of PHYLLIS CHERRIGAN, also known as PHYLLIS E. CHERRIGAN, Deceased.

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that, subject to confirmation by the above entitled Superior Court, on September 26, 1973, at 12:00 P.M., or thereafter within the time allowed by law, the undersigned, as Executor of the Will of PHYLLIS CHERRIGAN, alias, Deceased, will sell at private sale to the highest and best net bidder on the terms and conditions hereinafter mentioned all right, title, and interest of PHYLLIS CHERRIGAN, alias, deceased, at the time of her death and all right, title, and interest that the estate has acquired in addition to that of decedent at the time of her death, in the real property located in the County of Marin, State of California, described as follows:

LOT 33, in Block 3, as shown upon that certain Map entitled, "Morningside Court, Map No. 1, San Anselmo, Cal.", filed May 29th, 1924, in Book 5 of Maps, at page 32, in the office of the County Recorder of the County of Marin, State of California.

The property is commonly referred to as 33 Broadmoor Avenue, San Anselmo, California.

The sale is subject to current taxes, covenants, conditions, restrictions, reservations, rights, rights of way, and easement of record.

The property is to be sold on an "as is" basis.

Bids or offers are invited for this property and must be in writing and will be received at the office of VALLARINO, COSTAMAGNA, CLAXON & DUFFICY at 4340 Redwood Highway, San Rafael, California, attorneys for the Executor, or may be filed with the Clerk of the Superior Court or delivered to VALLARINO, COSTAMAGNA, CLAXON & DUFFICY, personally, at any time after first publication of this notice and before making the sale.

Bids must be sealed and will be opened at the office of VALLARINO, COSTAMAGNA, CLAXON & DUFFICY at the hour of 12:00 on the above date.

The property will be sold on the following terms: cash or part cash and part credit, the terms of credit to be acceptable to the undersigned and to the Superior Court, ten percent (10%) of the amount bid to accompany the offer by certified check, and the balance to be paid on confirmation of sale by the Superior Court. Taxes, rents, operating and maintenance expenses, and premiums on insurance acceptable to the purchaser shall be prorated as of the date of confirmation of sale. Examination of title, recording of conveyance, transfer taxes, and any title insurance policy shall be at the expense of the purchaser or purchasers.

The undersigned reserves the right to reject any and all bids prior to entry of an order confirming the sale.

RESOLUTION OF THE BOARD OF DIRECTORS OF MARIN MUNICIPAL WATER DISTRICT DECLARING THE NECESSITY FOR THE DISTRICT TO INCUR A BONDED INDEBTEDNESS IN THE PRINCIPAL AMOUNT OF $7,560,000 FOR THE PURPOSE OF THE ACQUISITION, CONSTRUCTION AND COMPLETION OF IMPROVEMENTS TO THE DISTRICT'S WATERWORKS SYSTEM; CALLING A SPECIAL DISTRICT BOND ELECTION IN THE DISTRICT FOR THE PURPOSE OF SUBMITTING TO THE QUALIFIED VOTERS OF THE DISTRICT THE MEASURE OF INCURRING SAID INDEBTEDNESS BY THE ISSUANCE OF BONDS OF THE DISTRICT; STATING SAID MEASURE AND THE PURPOSE FOR WHICH SAID PROPOSED INDEBTEDNESS IS TO BE INCURRED, THE AMOUNT OF THE PRINCIPAL OF SAID INDEBTEDNESS, THE MAXIMUM TERM THE BONDS PROPOSED TO BE ISSUED SHALL RUN BEFORE MATURITY, AND THE MAXIMUM RATE OF INTEREST TO BE PAID THEREON; MAKING PROVISION FOR THE LEVY AND COLLECTION OF TAXES; AND FIXING THE DATE OF SAID ELECTION, PROVIDING FOR THE MANNER OF HOLDING THE SAME AND FOR NOTICE THEREOF, AND CONSOLIDATING SAID SPECIAL DISTRICT BOND ELECTION WITH THE STATE OF CALIFORNIA SPECIAL ELECTION TO BE HELD NOVEMBER 6, 1973.

WHEREAS, the Board of Directors (the "board") of Marin Municipal Water District (the "district") heretofore ordered the preparation of and submission to the board of three reports, each of which has been received by the board, as follows: (1) "Water Resources Management Study" dated May, 1973, prepared by Cornell, Howland, Hayes & Merryfield, Clair A. Hill & Associates; (2) "Financing Plan for the Russian River Water Supply Project" dated August, 1973, prepared by Blyth Eastman Dillon & Co. Incorporated; and (3) "Pre-Design Report, Russian River Water Supply Project, Marin Municipal Water District" dated August, 1973, prepared by the staff of the district; and each of said reports includes estimates of the costs of the proposed improvements therein described and estimates of the bonded indebtedness required therefor; and said reports have been filed with and considered by the board; and, based on said reports, the board has determined that the estimated costs of the proposed improvements hereinafter described (being portions of the improvements described in said reports) is $7,560,000 and that said estimated costs shall be financed by a bonded indebtedness in the principal amount of $7,560,000;

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED by the Board of Directors of Marin Municipal Water District as follows:

SECTION 1. The board deems it necessary and hereby declares the necessity for the district to incur a bonded indebtedness in the principal amount of $7,560,000 for the purposes described in the measure hereinafter set forth in Section 2. This declaration of necessity and the adoption of this resolution by the board do not constitute and are not to be construed as constituting approval by the board of either the project comprising the improvements for the acquisition, construction and completion of which, or the purposes for which, said bonded indebtedness is to be incurred, all as described in the measure set forth in Section 2 of this resolution. Said project, improvements and purposes will not be approved by the board until after the board has accepted and considered the environmental impact report or reports required by law with respect to said project, improvements and purposes. If said measure is approved by the voters of the district at the election hereinafter provided for, no part of the bonded indebtedness provided for in said measure will be incurred until after the board has approved said project, improvements and purposes.

SECTION 2. A special district bond election (the "election") shall be held and the same is hereby called and ordered to be held in the district on Tuesday, the 6th day of November, 1973, for the purpose of submitting to the qualified voters of the district the measure of incurring a bonded indebtedness of the district in the amount and for the purposes set forth in the following measure (the "measure"), to wit:

MARIN MUNICIPAL WATER DISTRICT BOND MEASURE

MEASURE (E): (Russian River Water Supply Project)	Shall Marin Municipal Water District incur a bonded indebtedness in the principal amount of $7,560,000 for acquisition, construction and completion of improvements to the district's waterworks system comprising facilities for water supply, transmission and distribution, including: (a) transmission pipelines from Novato to Highway 37 and from Hamilton Field to Freitas Parkway in Terra Linda and new storage tank; (b) distribution system improvements, including booster pumps, distribution lines and storage tanks and enlargement of pump stations, transmission lines and filtering facilities; (c) lands, easements and rights-of-way; (d) expenses of proceedings for the authorization, issuance and sale of the bonds; and (e) other works, property or structures necessary or convenient for said improvements?	YES NO

SECTION 3. The amount of the bonded indebtedness to be incurred for the purposes set forth in the measure is the principal sum of $7,560,000; the maximum term said bonds or any series thereof proposed to be issued shall run before maturity shall be forty (40) years after the date of issuance of such bonds or series thereof; and the maximum rate of interest to be paid on said bonds shall not exceed seven percent (7%) per annum, payable semiannually (except that interest for the first year may be payable at the end of that year).

If more than two-thirds of the votes cast in the election are in favor of and assent to the incurring of said bonded indebtedness, then the board may, by resolution, at such time or times as it deems proper, and subject to the limitations set forth in Section 1 hereof, issue bonds of the district for the whole or any part of said bonded indebtedness so authorized and may from time to time provide for the issuance of such amounts of bonds as the necessity thereof may appear, until the full amount of such bonds so authorized shall have been issued. Said full amount of authorized bonds may be divided into two or more series and different dates fixed for the bonds of each series. The maximum term which the bonds of any series shall run before maturity shall not exceed forty (40) years from the date of the series.

(a) The board does hereby submit the measure to the qualified voters of the district at the election and designates and refers to the measure as the measure to be set forth in the form of ballot hereinafter prescribed for use at the election.

(b) The election shall be held and conducted and the votes thereat canvassed and the returns thereof made and the result thereof ascertained and determined as provided herein and in the Municipal Water District Law of 1911 (the "law"), and in all particulars not recited in this resolution or provided in the law, the election shall be held in accordance with the provisions of the California Elections Code so far as the same shall be applicable.

(c) All persons qualified to vote at municipal water district elections in the district upon the date of the election shall be qualified to vote upon the measure.

(d) The polls at the polling places hereinafter designated shall be opened at 7 o'clock A.M. of said day of election and shall be kept open continuously thereafter until 8 o'clock P.M. of said day of election, when the polls shall be closed (except as provided in Section 14436 of the Elections Code), and the election officers shall thereupon proceed to canvass the ballots cast thereat.

(e) The election shall be and is hereby consolidated with the State of California Special Election (the "special election") to be held in the district on the 6th day of November, 1973, pursuant to law, and the election precincts, polling places and officers of election within the area of the district for the election shall be the same as those selected and designated by the Board of Supervisors (the "board of supervisors") of Marin County (the "county") for the special election and set forth or to be set forth in the notice of election officers and polling places for the special election published or to be published by the County Clerk of the county, as required by law, to which notice reference is hereby specifically made for the designation of the precincts, polling places and officers of the election; provided, however, that no person not a qualified elector of the district shall be permitted to vote at the election. The board of supervisors is hereby authorized to canvass or cause to be canvassed the returns of the election with respect to the votes cast in the district and to certify the results to the board.

(f) Only one form of ballot shall be used at the special election and the election hereby consolidated therewith, which in addition to all other matters required by law to be printed thereon shall state the measure. Votomatic or Data Vote ballot cards will be used at said elections at all polling places and for absent voters. Each voter to vote for the measure and for incurring said bonded indebtedness shall punch the ballot card in the hole after the word "YES" to the right of the measure, and to vote against the measure and against incurring said bonded indebtedness shall punch the ballot card in the hole after the word "NO" to the right of the measure. Absent voter ballots setting forth the measure shall be issued to qualified electors of the district entitled thereto, in the manner provided by law, and shall be canvassed as herein provided for the canvass of the election generally.

(g) The returns of the election shall be made, the votes canvassed and the results thereof ascertained and declared in accordance with the provisions of the California Elections Code so far as may be applicable, except as otherwise provided herein and in the law. The board shall meet forthwith after the canvass of the returns of the election by or pursuant to the order of the board of supervisors and the certification of the results thereof to the board and the board shall confirm said canvass and declare the results of the election and the Secretary of the board, as soon as said result is declared, shall enter in the records of the board a statement of such results. No irregularities or informalities in conducting the election shall invalidate the same, if the election shall have otherwise been fairly conducted.

SECTION 5. Provision is hereby made for the payment of the principal of and interest on said bonds as follows: If the revenues of the district are or in the judgment of the board will probably be inadequate for any cause to pay the principal of or interest on said bonded indebtedness as it becomes due and also the amounts set forth in Section 71616 of the law, the board shall cause a tax to be levied, as provided in the law, sufficient to provide for such deficit and to pay the amount of such principal and interest as will become due before the proceeds of a tax levied at the next general tax levy will be available. The board shall annually determine the amounts necessary to be raised by taxation as aforesaid during each fiscal year and shall fix the rate or rates of tax to be levied which will raise the amounts of money required by the district, and within a reasonable time previous to the time when the board of supervisors is required by law to fix its tax rate, the board shall furnish to the board of supervisors and to the County Auditor of the county the rate or rates so fixed for the district and shall furnish to the board of supervisors and to the County Auditor of the county a statement in writing containing the following: (a) an estimate of the minimum amount of money required to be raised by taxation during the fiscal year for the payment of the principal of and interest on any bonded indebtedness of the district that will become due before the proceeds of a tax levied at the next general tax levy will be available; and (b) an estimate of the minimum amount of money required to be raised by taxation during the fiscal year for all other purposes of the district. The board shall direct that at the time and in the manner required by law for the levying of taxes for county purposes, the board of supervisors shall levy, in addition to any other taxes it levies, a tax upon the property within the district at the rate or rates so fixed by the board; and it shall be the duty of the board of supervisors to levy the tax so required. The board hereby determines that all taxes for the payment of the interest on or principal of said bonded indebtedness referred to in this resolution shall be levied upon all taxable property within the district. Said tax shall be collected at the same time, form and manner as other county taxes are collected, and when collected shall be paid to the district. All taxes for the payment of said bonded indebtedness referred to in this resolution shall be a lien on all property within the district taxable for district purposes, all of which said property is hereby stated by the board to be benefited by said bonded indebtedness. All taxes for the district shall be of the same force and effect as other liens for taxes, and their collection may be enforced by the same means as provided for the enforcement of liens for state and county taxes.

Interest on any of said bonds issued by the district and coming due before the proceeds of a tax levied at the next general tax levy after the sale of said bonds are available and interest on any of said bonds coming due before the expiration of one year following completion of the acquisition and construction of the works and improvements for which said bonds were issued may be paid from the proceeds of sale of said bonds.

SECTION 6. The Secretary of the board is hereby directed, upon the adoption of this resolution, to cause this resolution to be published once each week for two weeks in the INDEPENDENT-JOURNAL, a newspaper of general circulation published in the district. This resolution shall be first published not later than 14 days prior to the close of registration for the election; and the last publication shall be made not less than two weeks prior to the date of the election. No other notice of the election need by given.

SECTION 7. This resolution shall be forthwith entered upon the minutes of the board and shall take effect from and after its passage and approval.

PASSED AND ADOPTED THIS 22nd day of August, 1973, by the following vote:

AYES: Directors Felson, Griffin, MacPhail, Martinelli

SECRETARY'S CERTIFICATE

I, NORMA L. SMITH, Secretary of the Board of Directors of Marin Municipal Water District (the "district"), do hereby certify as follows:

1. The foregoing is a full, true and correct copy of a resolution duly adopted at a regular meeting of the Board of Directors of the district duly and regularly held at the regular meeting place thereof on the 22nd day of August, 1973, of which meeting all of the Directors of the District had due notice and at which a majority thereof was present.

2. At said meeting said resolution was introduced by Director MAC PHAIL, and read in full, and was thereupon, upon motion of Director MAC PHAIL, seconded by Director FELSON, adopted by the following vote:

AYES: Directors Felson, Griffin, MacPhail, Martinelli
NOES: None
ABSENT: Director Stafford

3. I have carefully compared the same with the original minutes of said meeting on file and of record in my office and said resolution is duly entered of record in Minute Book 22, and is a full, true and correct copy of the original resolution adopted at said meeting and entered in said minutes.

4. Said resolution has not been amended, modified or rescinded since the date of its adoption and the same is now in full force and effect.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, I have hereunto set my hand and affixed the official seal of said district this 22nd day of August, 1973.

LEGAL NOTICE

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that the Marin County Planning Commission will hold a public hearing to consider amendments to Title 22 (Zoning) of the Marin County Code, which amendments would reclassify the following described properties from P-C (Planned Community) to R-1 (Single-Family Residence District), A-2 (Limited Agricultural District—2 acres minimum lot size), O-A (Open Area District), C-P (Planned Commercial District), RMP- (Residential, Multiple Planned District—density to be determined by the Planning Commission) or R-C-R (Resort and Commercial Recreation District).

Assessor's Parcels #200-030-01,02
200-051-01

The P-C District has been rescinded by the Board of Supervisors. The purpose of this rezoning is to attach a compatible zoning district to those lands previously zoned P-C. In most instances, the new zoning will reflect existing uses or proposed uses as approved by master plans or lands to be acquired for public open space.

NOTICE IS HEREBY FURTHERN GIVEN that said hearing will be held during the regular meeting of the Marin County Planning Commission on Monday, September 17, 1973, in the Planning Commission Hearing Room, Civic Center, San Rafael, California, which meeting commences at 9:00 a.m. Those wishing to attend said hearing may call the Planning Department at 479-1100, Extension 2526, on Friday, September 14, 1973, in order to be informed of the place on the agenda and the approximate time of the hearing.

Hunger Strike Continues By Ruchell Magee

Ruchell Magee, awaiting retrial on a kidnap charge stemming from the 1970 Marin Civic Center shoot-out, was in the 29th day of a hunger strike today, but still "in good shape," according to a San Quentin spokesman.

Magee has refused to eat any food from the prison mess hall since Aug. 10 — but apparently is subsisting on crackers, peanut butter and candy obtained from the canteen, prison information officer William D. Nyberg said.

"We don't know what he weighed before he began and we don't know what he weighs today," said Nyberg, adding that Magee is checked daily by a medical technician and weekly by a physician.

SACRAMENTO ROUNDUP

Legislative Bypass Likely On Welfare

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — Failing to reach a compromise with lawmakers, the Reagan administration says it will bypass the Legislature by adopting regulation to prevent a sharp reduction in welfare grants to 500,000 Californians.

State Health and Welfare Secretary Earl Brian yesterday said Atty. Gen. Evelle Younger had issued an opinion that the Welfare Department had the authority to administratively establish new grant payments.

Meanwhile, a two-house conference committee today began efforts to work out a compromise on the issue. Before the panel is a measure (AB18) by Assemblyman John Burton, D-San Francisco, which was gutted by the Senate Wednesday in hopes it could be used as a vehicle for compromise.

Brian and Democratic legislators have been unable to agree on how to meet new federal welfare program regulations. The administration proposed a $221 a month average grant while Democrats have proposed as much as $255.

The grants, which currently average about $210 a month for the state's aged, blind and disabled recipients, will automatically fall to $130 Jan. 1 because of the new federal law unless the Legislature and Reagan act to supplement the aid.

Of Brian's announcement, Burton said: "This is —. I mean it's not real. We have counsel opinion they can't do this."

Brian told a news conference the administration sought the attorney general's opinion "when it became painfully obvious that the Legislature would not be able to resolve the situation in time to meet the federal programming deadline of Sept. 1 for a state supplemental plan.

"The way is now clear for us to move ahead and protect the interests of our needy citizens," he added.

State Welfare Director David B. Swoap said the Younger ruling stated, in brief terms, that in the face of an apparent conflict between existing law and federal requirements, Brian had the power to bring state regulations into conformity.

Brian said the state supplemental funding would come out of his agency's current $460 million general fund allocation.

Under the plan, Brian said, Swoap will adopt regulations to continue current grant levels for 300,000 aged and blind welfare recipients and also incorporate the cost of living schedule for December.

He also said the welfare department would draft regulations to protect the 200,000 disabled welfare recipients, but clarifications of the law were being sought on that issue.

PRESCHOOL

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — A $41 million legislative package backed by Gov. Ronald Reagan to continue preschool and child care programs for 27,000 youngsters has reached the Senate floor.

The proposals (AB451, AB1244) by Assembly Speaker Bob Moretti, D-Van Nuys, cleared the Finance Committee on an 11-0 vote yesterday with virtually no debate.

The preschool and child care programs are threatened by new Nixon administration regulations shrply reducing their federal support.

CAMPAIGN FUNDS

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — Two bills requiring more detailed reporting of campaign contributions and providing partial public financing of election contests have moved a step closer to winning Senate passage.

The Elections Committee yesterday approved the reporting bill (AB703) by Assemblyman Henry Waxman, D-Los Angeles, on a 6-1 vote, and the other measure (SB234) by Sen. Anthony C. Beilenson, D-Beverly Hills, on a 6-2 vote. Both measures were sent to the Finance Committee.

Waxman's proposal would require detailed identification of all persons or organizations contributing $100 or more to a political campaign. Currently, identification of a contributor is only required on contributions of more than $500.

The Board of Equalization would be required to audit the campaign spending statements of candidates who receive 15 per cent of the vote or who spend more than $25,000.

Beilenson's bill would reimburse candidates for general election campaign expenditures based on a certain rate per registered voter. It also would prohibit contributions from a single source in excess of $100 and cost about $7 million to $8 million a year.

CAPITOL

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — The Assembly has voted overwhelmingly to authorize the Legislature to construct a new office building and abandon the historic golden-domed Capitol.

The bill (AB2572) by Assemblyman Willie L. Brown Jr., D-San Francisco, was approved on a 58-17 vote yesterday and sent to the Senate. It grants the Legislature's Joint Rules Committee power to build a modern-day Capitol.

Brown later said the bill would be amended in the Senate to subject any decision by the Rules Committee to the approval of the entire Legislature.

The measure does not rule out the possibility of expanding present legislative quarters in the century-old Capitol if the alternative proved to be a better idea.

An independent study of the two rival plans—construction of a new building or expansion of current facilities—would be conducted before a final decision is made.

Russell Named Group Leader By Coast Guard

Cmdr. William J. Russell of Hamilton Air Force Base has been named chief of the 12th Coast Guard District's search and rescue branch in San Francisco.

He replaces Capt. Robert C. Branhan, recently chosen commanding officer of the San Francisco Coast Guard Air Station.

Russell is a native of San Rafael and a 1953 graduate of the Coast Guard Academy at New London, Conn. He served on the cutter Taney at Alameda, the cutter Chatauqua at Honolulu, Hawaii and at Coast Guard air stations in Alaska and Puerto Rico. He was executive officer and commanding officer of the Puerto Rico station.

He and his wife, Margie and their four children, live at 256 Las Lomas.

Republicans Gather To Eye Hopefuls

SAN DIEGO (UPI) —California Republicans gathered today for their largest convention in history to examine four potential candidates for governor in 1974 and two prospects for the presidency in 1976.

Fromer Texas Gov. John Connally, a longtime Democrat who defeated to the Republicans this years, will be the convention's main speaker Saturday night. Gov. Ronald Reagan will address the expected 2,000 delegates and guests Sunday morning.

A nationwide Gallup Poll last week showed Reagan tied with Vice President Spiro T. Agnew as the Republican choice for the presidential nomination in 1976. Each recorded 22 per cent, with Connally trailing in fifth place with 10 per cent.

Lobbying delegates for support will be four gubernatorial aspirants: Lt. Gov. Ed Reinecke, former Lt. Gov. Robert H. Finch, Attorney General Evelle J. Younger and Controller Houston I. Flournoy.

A California Field Poll released yesterday showed Reinecke the top choice among GOP voters for the party nomination. He registered 28 per cent; followed by Finch with 24; Younger, 19; former deputy secretary David Packard, 5; HEW Secretary Caspar W. Weinberger, 4, and Flournoy, 3.

Reinecke, Younger and Flournoy definitely are candidates; Finch said yesterday, "I know pretty well what I want to do; the problem is when and how to do it;" Weinberger is interested but not openly active; and Packard has expressed no desires to run.

The convention-eve poll was particularly crucial for Reinecke. The one-time Reagan heir apparent has been rejecting behind-the-scene pressure by some of the governor's backers to bow out of the race, and in recent months he has been wounded politically by staff embarrassments and a minor involvement in ITT's offer to underwrite the 1972 Republican National Convention.

Reinecke said the poll would help him recruit more volunteer grassroots help. As for some of Reagan's "kitchen cabinet" contributors who have been trying to mount a campaign for Weinberger, Reinecke said:

"The poll should cause them to stop and reflect on the wisdom of their judgment. I hope they read it well. It may be the candidate Weinberger) they were looking to wasn't that much of a candidate at all."

Finch said, "I'm not displeased" with the poll.

Younger also said "I'm not disappointed." He added the significant poll will be one which surveys both Republican and Democratic voters. "The name of the game is to win the general election," he said.

Yorty Plans To Become Republican

SAN DIEGO (UPI) — A second nationally-known Democrat appears ready to make the switch to the Republican Party.

Former Los Angeles Mayor Sam Yorty, reportedly interested in running for the U.S. Senate seat now held by Sen. Alan Cranston, D-Calif., is scheduled to re-register as a Republican Sunday at the annual convention of the Republican State Central Committee.

Yorty's wife, Elizabeth, confirmed the switch yesterday after state Republican chairman Gordon Luce said a "nationally known Democrat" would make a surprise switch.

"I hadn't realized the word had leaked out," said Mrs. Yorty. She said she, too, would change her registration.

Preview Of Four Operas Planned

Marin Opera Preview series will review four operas which will be presented this season at the San Francisco Opera.

Previews will be held at the Del Mar School in Tiburon, according to Suzanne Turley, ticket chairman for Opera Action of Marin.

Donizzetti's "La Favorita" will be previewed on Sept. 13; Wagner's "Tannhauser" on Sept. 27; Mussorgsky's "Boris Godunov" on Oct. 11 and Verdi's "Don Carlo" on Oct. 25.

Bus Schedules Are Available

Bus schedules for youngsters attending schools in the San Anselmo School District are available at the district's five primary schools, according to Supt. Frank R. Elliot.

Bus service is provided for youngsters from kindergarten through third grade who live more than three-fourths of a mile from their school.

School starts Tuesday.

ALMANAC

By U.P. INTERNATIONAL

Today is Friday, Sept. 7, the 250th day of 1973 with 115 to follow.

The moon is between its first quarter and full phase. The morning stars are Mercury, Venus and Jupiter.

American novelist James Fenimore Cooper was born Sept. 7, 1789.

On this day in history:

In 1813, the nickname "Uncle Sam" was coined by a writer for the Troy, N.Y., Post as a symbolic reference to the United States.

In 1940, the German Nazis began the London air blitz that Hitler expected to soften Britain for an invasion that never materialized.

In 1969, Illinois Republican Sen. Everett Dirksen died at the age of 73.

A thought for the day: American author Anne Morrow Lindbergh said, "Lost time was like a run in the stocking. It always got worse."

San Rafael air quality yesterday:

Oxidants, clean air.
Nitrogen dioxide, clean air.
Carbon monoxide, clean air.
Smoke particles, clean air.
Other areas:
San Francisco, light air pollution.
San Jose, light air pollution.

Colorless oxidants, brownish nitrogen dioxide and smoke particles aggravate respiratory diseases. Carbon monoxide causes dizziness, headaches and slows reflexes. Smoke particles come largely from industrial sources, the other three come primarily from motor vehicles.

Wives Can Have Psychological Reaction To Heart Attacks

When a man has a heart attack due to coronary thrombosis, there are many psychological consequences. The wife may get so upset that she needs treatment too. This is understandable, because all heart attacks are serious and the episode is bound to upset the spouse. The attitudes and feelings of the wife also are important after the man is home recuperating. Many problems that arise could be avoided if wives knew what to expect.

A GROUP of London psychiatrists and social workers interviewed 65 women whose husbands had had their first coronary heart attacks. All were upset and distressed because of the possible loss or permanent incapacity of their spouse. Heart attacks occur so suddenly that women experience an initial feeling of unreality. A sense of guilt sets in, especially when the woman blames herself for not feeding him property (low fat, low cholesterol diet) or not getting him to slow down. Some blamed "nagging him too much" or not taking him seriously when he complained of chest pain. It is doubtful whether these factors play a role.

REACTIONS such as depression, anxiety, insomnia, and loss of appetite were common, especially among wives under 45 years of age. Some were so distraught by the husband's illness that they could not contain their anxiety. The psychiatrists found this reaction more common in women with neurotic tendencies. Oddly, 41 of the women were employed at the time of the heart attack. Only one quit her job; 10 took off a few days.

Anxiety reactions subsided in the majority when the husband returned home, but 25 continued to suffer from anxiety, depression, and insomnia. In some instances, this was related to fear of a recurrence and in others, to the husband's behavior after he got home. Fifty-seven of the 65 husbands complained now and then of chest pain which may have been mistaken for another heart attack, but angina pectoris is not unusual and easily controlled. By the end of the year, only three couples had stopped having sexual relations.

perature stayed at 103 degrees Fahrenheit or more for 10 or 11 days. The sudden drop to normal was called the crisis.

Questions on medical topics will be answered by mail if stamped, self-addressed envelope accompanies request to Dr. Van Dellen, c/o the Independent-Journal, P.O. Box 330, San Rafael, Calif. 94902. Telephone inquiries will not be answered.

VALLEY FEVER

I. R. writes: My sister in Arizona was told she had valley fever. I never heard of this disease. Can you tell me something about it?

REPLY

This fungal infection involves mainly the lungs, lymph nodes, and occasionally the spleen, bones, liver, kidneys, and brain. It is called coccidiodomycosis (kok-sid'-e'oy'-do-miko'-sis). The fungi are in the dust and are inhaled during the dry season of the year. Half the victims never develop symptoms, and in the remainder, the complaints resemble those of influenza and pneumonia. The diagnosis is made by a skin test or laboratory studies of the blood or sputum.

PNEUMONIA CRISIS

C. S. writes: Does a person with pneumonia still go thru a crisis on the 10th day of the illness?

REPLY

Only when the condition fails to respond to antibiotics. The temperature usually begins to fall within 24 to 48 hours when penicillin or one of the other antibiotics is used. Before these drugs were available, the tem-

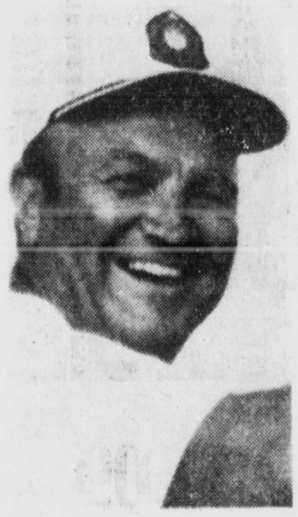
Fishing—It's Just Part Of His Job

Les Eichhorn of Novato fishes all over the world and it's just part of his job. When he's fishing for trout in Montana, marlin in Mexico or salmon in British Columbia he most likely would be showing off a new rod.

Eichhorn is sales representative for Fenwick, one of the country's leading manufacturers of fishing rods, and his territory covers the seven western states and Hawaii. He has been with that company since 1959, when it started making the change from a backyard business in Woodland, Wash., to one of the world's leading makers of glass rods.



LES EICHHORN

And now Fenwick is dabbling with a space age material to make rods even lighter and stronger. It's high modulus graphite which sells for about $200 per pound. Eichhorn said he believed the price of graphite would come down in the next two or three years, making it possible to produce graphite rods at a reasonable price.

SO FAR, THERE are just two such rods in existence. He has one and the other is in Fenwick's home office. It's much stiffer than normal glass rods, weighs one-third less, but it's three times stronger. The rod he showed me the other day was 8½ feet long and weighed 2⅞ ounces. But it's all in the experimental stage. Until the price of graphite comes down, a rod of such material would be priced right out of the market.

The 47-year-old Eichhorn has lived in Novato since 1966, and his spacious home is along the third fairway of Marin Country Club golf course. When he exchanges a fishing rod for a golf club, he plays to an eight handicap.

He's very enthusiastic about the numerous fly fishing schools Fenwick conducts throughout the country. The company takes a loss in the schools, but it hopes to make it up when the new fly fisherman purchases his fishing equipment.

"BUT WE DON'T do any hard sell at the schools," said Eichhorn. "Whether they want to buy a Fenwick rod or another brand is up to them. We let them make their own decision."

Eichhorn said the younger generation is getting into fly fishing. "They realize it is a most natural way to catch fish, to present a few feathers to simulate natural insects." He said he was considering going directly to colleges to present fly fishing programs because he felt many students would welcome them with open arms.

Eichhorn's three daughters, all in college, are

DeMont, Backhaus Get Revenge Victories

BELGRADE (UPI) — The talk here yesterday was about Rick DeMont's "revenge," but Robin Backhaus' was just as sweet.

Each Marin Aquatic Club swimmer won his event in the World Aquatic Championships, with DeMont of Terra Linda cracking the magic four-minute barrier in the 400-meter freestyle with a world record performance of 3:58.18.

Backhaus, of San Rafael, won the 200-meter butterfly in 2:03.32, edging Stephen Gregg (2:03.58) by about a quarter of a second to settle a score of short standing.

The Wilmington, Del., swimmer defeated Backhaus in the National Amateur Athletic Union Long Course Nationals Aug. 24 in Louisville, Ky., in what was considered an upset. By finishing second in 2:04.53 to Gregg's 2:04.11, Backhaus still qualified for the World championships.

DeMont, stripped of a gold medal in the 400 free in last year's Olympics because his asthma medication contained a banned drug, denied a revenge motive.

"This was no revenge," he said. "The most important is that I went under four minutes." He nosed out Australia's Brad Cooper, who was also under four minutes, by half a second.

With four world records falling within an hour yesterday, U.S. coach Gus Stager predicted the lowering of more world marks today.

"I think the eight records that have gone in the first three days of swimming show that this really is a top-class pool and we can expect to see more barriers broken," Stager said.

The East German squad, currently Europe's top swimming nation, set two marks with Angelike Wegner becoming the first woman to duck under the five-minute mark in the 400 meter individual medley at 4:57.51 and Roland Matthes beating his own record of 2:01.87 in the 200 meter backstroke.

David Wilkie of Great Britain made it four records in four races with a 2:19.28 in the 200 meter breaststroke, beating former record holder, John Hencken of Santa Clara, Calif., in the final strokes.

Wilkie and Sweden's Olympic gold medalist Gunnar Larsson set the fastest times in heats of the men's 200-meter medley today to break the monotony of American and East German victories.

Wilkie swam 2:06.61 to give Britain hopes of a second gold medal, while Larsson clocked 2:10.13.

Miss Greenwood, who comes from Fresno, Calif., was fastest in 4:24.93 and Miss Rothhammer, of Santa Clara, Calif., had 4:25.12.

Australia's new hope, Virginia Rickard, also won her heat in the fast time of 4:24.99.

In the men's 200-meter medley, Andras Hargitay of Hungary posted 2:09.54 with Americans Fred Tyler of Winter Park, Fla., and Stan Carper of Portland, Ore., also winning their heats but in slower times.

Melissa Belote, the 200 meters backstroke world record holder from Springfield, Va., was more than two seconds faster than anyone else in the morning heats and her time of 2:20.57, although slower than her world 2:19.19 mark, was fast because she had no opposition.

Other heat winners were Wendy Cook of Canada, Enith Brigitha of Holland and Andrea Gyarmati of Hungary.

Australia set the fastest time in the men's 200 meters relay heats, clocking 7:48.43 — six seconds better than the United States who scraped into the final with the eighth fastest time of the day.

The Americans were led home in their heat by France, which won in 7:51.45.

RECORD EFFORT — Rick DeMont (left) of Terra Linda and Brad Cooper of Australia bobbed in the pool yesterday after finishing their dramatic duel in the 400-meter freestyle in the World Aquatic Championships in Belgrade, Yugoslavia. DeMont overtook Cooper in the last 50 meters to win by a fingertip as both transcenced the four-minute barrier and DeMont set a world record of 3:58.18. (UPI Telephoto)

STEVE HOLLAND

DeMont Faces Foe Tomorrow

By LEW CODDINGTON

Steve Holland's best time in the 1,500-meter freestyle is so fast that he could complete a race, grant a quick interview to the press, and still greet Rick DeMont coming in.

Yet Marin Aquatic Club coach Don Swartz feels DeMont will defeat the Australian — perhaps in less than record time — when they clash tomorrow in their specialty in the first World Aquatic Championships in Belgrade, Yugoslavia.

The winner will be acclaimed the best distance swimmer in the world, and for the 17-year-old Terra Lindan, the situation is laden with irony.

DeMont, who set a world record in winning the 400-meter free yesterday, 3:58.19, must win this race to gain belatedly the recognition many thought he would earn with an Olympic victory last year. And to win, he must repel a 16-year-old phenom whose rapid arrival is reminiscent of Rick's own a year ago.

A great psychological barrier stands in the way. DeMont's personal best time at the distance is nearly 14 seconds slower than Holland's, and 14 seconds is an eternity in swimming.

"Look, nobody really knows how fast Rick can go," said Swartz of his pupil, who set the world record of 15:52.91 about a year ago.

American Mike Burton lowered the standard to 15:52.58 in the Munich Olympics, but Holland carved it to an almost unbelievable 15:37.8 two months ago in Australia.

DeMont swam an American record of 15:51.02 without shaving and without stiff competition at the Amateur Athletic Union Nationals last month in Louisville, Ky. — still 14 seconds slower than Holland.

Swartz feels, however, that DeMont can swim much faster when psychological circumstances are right. The meet is the biggest of the year, and Holland is the fastest swimmer DeMont has ever faced.

In similar circumstances last year, DeMont was prevented from swimming the 1,500 free in the Olympics when he was disqualified because of his asthma medication. Coming off an unexpected victory in the 400 free, he was ready to swim a brilliant race, Swartz indicated.

"Let's assume he would have done 15:47.9," said Swartz. "That's conservative. Some people say he could have done :45 or :40. And he hasn't been pushed yet this year — he's probably 10 seconds faster than he's shown."

Another factor in DeMont's favor, Swartz says, is that "Rick's a superb racer — he's got all the strategy and all the moves, and the other guy just doesn't have that experience."

DeMont's strategy, Swartz said, will be to keep close to Holland during the early and middle stages of the race, then pass him with a finishing kick.

"If Rick can get out and swim at the guy's feet, then he (Holland) has the physical drain of setting the pace, plus the mental drain of seeing Rick right there."

The fact that Holland takes 61 strokes per lap to DeMont's 40 will prove an additional burden on the Australian's stamina, Swartz believes.

DeMont's final 500 meters in the Nationals, against a weak field, was 5:13, while Holland's final 500 in his record effort was 5:14. The problem is that Holland could swim away from DeMont during the first 1,000 if he duplicates his 10:23 effort. Rick opened with 10:38 in the Nationals.

"I may be wrong," said Swartz. "Maybe he (Holland) can swim 15:37 every time out." But he discounted the possibility.

AGAINST MARGARET

Chris Evert Plays Match Of Her Life

FOREST HILLS, N.Y. (UPI) —In a sense, Chris Evert plays the match of her 18-year-old life today in the semifinals of the U.S. Open tennis championships.

Chris, the darling of this tournament at age 16, and now a semi-finalist for the third straight year, opposes 31-year-old Grand Slam winner Margaret Court in the opening match of a day which will see the women's finalists decided.

Margaret has a goal today, too. Outwardly still serene after her loss to Bobby Riggs, she has played extremely well since the Mother's Day disaster, her record marred only by a peculiar 6-1, 1-6, 6-1 loss to Miss Evert at Wimbledon in the semis.

With Billie Jean King long gone in this $227,200 event, Mrs. Court wants to put her name forever in the Forest Hills record book by nailing down her sixth title here. She won her first as Miss Smith in 1962, her last in 1970 as Mrs. Court, when she completed only the second Grand Slam in women's history.

For Miss Casals of Sausalito, this has been a trying tournament. Her close friend, Billie Jean, had fallen to the heat and Julie Heldman in the third round, and when she herself had a shot at Chris in the quarters, she failed.

That she and Billie have gained the finals of the women's doubles, where they will oppose Mrs. Court and Virginia Wade, is small consolation to Rosie, even though she and Billie put out Chris and Russia's Olga Morozova, 6-2, 6-1, yesterday.

JUAN HURLS TONIGHT AT CANDLESTICK

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — Right-hander Juan Marichal goes against the Houston Astros tonight at 8 o'clock as the San Francisco Giants look for their seventh straight victory at Candlestick Park.

Back in the thick of the fight for the National League West title, the Giants are coming off a three-game sweep of the Los Angeles Dodgers, who lost to San Diego last night for their seventh straight setback.

Opposing Marichal will be Dave Roberts (14-9). Marichal (10-11) has lost his last three starts but two of them were 1-0 decisions.

Astro pitchers have been having their difficulties lately. They have surrendered 25 runs in losing three straight to the Cincinnati Reds, who are in first place in the NL West, 2½ games ahead of the Dodgers. The Giants are five back.

49ers Favored Over Rams Tonight In Los Angeles

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The San Francisco 49ers invade the home of traditional rival Los Angeles at 8 p.m. today for their 22nd pre-season National Football League meeting with the invaders in the role as favorites by three points in the game to be televised live on Channel 44 in the Bay Area.

Still, a week ago, the Rams under new coach Chuck Knox turned in their first 1973 victory with a 30-17 verdict over San Diego when the 49ers were upended by Oakland 23-17.

So far, the 49ers are 4-2 in the pre-season, the most victories in the exhibition circuit since Dick Nolan took over as coach in 1968.

The Rams, in the inaugural year of Chuck Knox, are 1-3-1 and hoping to wind up the preseason with a victory over their traditional foe. Overall, the Rams have a 15-6 edge in the series.

Both teams are healthy. The Rams will probably go without secondary defender Al Clark who has a hip bruise and the 49ers without running back Vic Washington with a cracked kneecap and wide receiver Terry Beasley with a dislocated shoulder.

With Clark out, the Rams will probably go with two rookies and two veterans in the secondary — Eddie McMilian and Cullen Bryant as the first-year men and Dave Elmendorf and Charlie Stukes as the vets.

Ed Beverly, a rookie from Arizona State, will get a long look with Beasley sidelined.

Veteran quarterbacks John Brodie of the 49ers and John Hadl of the Rams are scheduled to go most of the way in this wind-up of the no-count season. A week later they direct their clubs into the openers of the National Football League campaign leading up to the Super Bowl.

San Francisco figures improvement in its linebacking corps with Willie Harper of Nebraska and Charlie Hunt from Florida providing depth.

Knox has gone more to the running game with the Rams. Jim Bertelsen, a rookie from Texas last year, has shown the quickness needed for gaining yards, and Larry McCutcheon, also a second year man and hailing from Colorado State, has virtually won a starting assignment.

For the record, Knox named veteran Larry Smith as his starter opposite Bertelsen, but it won't be long until McCutcheon gets in.

Ram runners gained 282 yards against the Chargers last week with Bertelsen getting 97 of them and, after five games, Los Angeles has averaged 4.2 yards per carry.

While the Rams still experiment in the defensive secondary, the 49ers feel they have the best in the NFL with Jim Johnson, Bruce Taylor, Mel Phillips and Mike Simpson.

A's Hope To Fatten Lead Vs. Rangers

ANAHEIM (UPI) — The Oakland A's hope to fatten their American League West lead at the expense of Texas tonight in the beginning of a three-game series in the Lone Star State.

The A's took their third straight from the California Angels last night, 6-4, to expand their lead to 5 ½ games over idle Kansas City. John "Blue Moon" Odom, 4-11, opens against rookie David Clyde, 4-6, tonight.

Vida Blue turned back the Angels last night with relief help from Horacio Pina and Paul Lindblad. Blue is now 16-9. Clyde Wright took the loss, his 19th against 10 wins.

The Angels got homers from Bob Oliver, his 17th, and from Frank Robinson, his 25th, but Oakland established its edge with two runs in the sixth inning on two walks, a double by Joe Rudi and Ray Fosse's single. Robinson, No. 4 home run hitter in history, now has 547 in his career.

Bill North, Oakland centerfielder, contributed two hits, scored two runs, and stole a base, his 46th. He was also involved in a near-brawl in the eight inning when he had to hit the dirt to avoid a pitch by Angel reliever Dick Lange.

North drag-bunted along the first base line, then managed to brush Mike Epstein who dropped the ball trying to tag him.

North was good-natured about the incident later. He followed Dick Green to the plate and Green had bunted in a run.

"I don't know why I was thrown at, since I wasn't the guy who knocked in the run," he said. "When I went down the first base Epstein yelled 'Come and get me.' Mrs. North may have made me a lot of things but she didn't make me stupid."

In the fourth inning, Robinson doubled but was thrown out by North who fielded Bob Oliver's fly.

The Angels then loaded the bases and would have had another run.

Oakland led 4-3 after seven innings and got two final runs in the eighth. eld

Terra Linda Cage Coach Corley Quits

Citing "personal reasons," Bob Corley has resigned as head basketball coach at Terra Linda High School, athletic director Don Lucas announced this morning.

His successor has not yet been selected, but probably will come from within the San Rafael school district and probably will be chosen by the end of next week, Lucas added.

Corley, 38, will remain at the school as a physical education teacher. He will continue to coach freshman baseball and "probably" will coach a fall sport as well, Lucas said.

A native of Peoria, Ill., Corley came to Terra Linda in 1964 and coached freshman and junior varsity basketball simultaneously before taking over the varsity in 1968. He guided the Trojans to back-to-back third-place finishes in 1970-71 when Joe Casteel starred for the team.

Marin Car Rallye Set Tomorrow Night

The Marin Rallye Association will sponsor the Billy the Bart Kidd car rallye tomorrow starting between 6 and 9 p.m. at three locales. Entry fee is $3.50 per car.

Wosser Sails Away From Foe

For a while yesterday, Bill Widnall was wondering where Jake Wosser had gone, but later Widnall found him at the finish line with first place and the overall point lead safely stashed away.

With a wily tacking maneuver early in the race, Tiburon's Wosser sailed away from Widnall of Marblehead, Mass., to win yesterday's fourth race in the International One Design championship regatta on San Francisco Bay.

Following Wosser's lead was Eric Schou of Sausalito, who sailed his best race of the series to finish second. Jim Davies of San Rafael was third and Widnall fourth.

The best-five-of-six series continues today and tomorrow on an 11-mile course near Berkeley and Richmond. The San Francisco Yacht Club of Belvedere is host.

Wosser's victory game him the overall point lead with 5½ to Widnall's 8½ and Davies' 12 under the reverse scoring system. Since the worst race may be excluded at the end of the series, Wosser's true lead over Widnall is actually a more narrow 3½ to 4½.

No man ever has won the series three times, but Wosser and Widnall are two-time winners.

Realizing he had to contain Wosser, Widnall kept near him early in the race, but Wosser suddenly turned his sails into the wind, lost velocity, shifted direction, caught "good air" and sailed away, according to San Francisco Y.C. publicist Saloma Fisher.

EXCUSE ME, GENTLEMEN — Miami fullback Larry Csonka (39) smashed a pathway between D. D. Lewis (50) and Rodrigo Barnes (56) of Dallas to score a one-yard touchdown in the second quarter of a National Football League exhibition game last night in Irving, Tex. Miami, the undefeated Super Bowl champion of last year, lost its second straight pre-season contest, 26-23.

Shula Finds Out How NFL Rivals Felt

By U. P. INTERNATIONAL

Last season, Shula's Miami Dolphins could do no wrong as they compiled an unprecedented 17-0 record and captured the Super Bowl. Things haven't gone so smoothly this year.

The Dolphins struggled to some tough victories, were finally tied and then last week were upset by Minnesota to see their 23-game winning streak snapped. Last night they again blew a big lead as they had the previous week in Minnesota and again a field goal in the final seconds—this time a 22-yarder by Toni Fritsch with three seconds left — allowed the Dallas Cowboys to win 26-23.

"It's the second week in a row now that we've lost on a field goal in the last minute," Shula moaned. "It used to be that the Dolphins were pulling out victories at the end but now it has turned against us."

Miami scored first half touchdowns on one-yard runs by Jim Kiick and Larry Csonka and a six-yard pass from Bob Griese to Marlin Briscoe and a safety on a snap out of the end zone on a punt to lead 23-6.

Roger Staubach threw a 26-yard TD pass to ex-Dolphin Otto Stowe with 26 seconds left in the half to make it 26-13 and Craig Morton took over in the second half to spark the winning rally.

Fritsch kicked a nine-yard field goal and Morton tied the game with a six-yard TD pass to Stowe with just under seven minutes left. He then moved the Cowboys into position for Fritsch's winning kick late in the game.

In pre-season action tonight, Kansas City is at St. Louis, New England at Detroit and San Francisco at Los Angeles while on Saturday, the New York Giants play Cleveland at Akron, Ohio, the New York Jets meet Philadelphia at Tampa, Fla., Oakland is at Buffalo, Green Bay at Cincinnati, Atlanta at Pittsburgh, Minnesota at San Diego and Houston at New Orleans. Baltimore is at Denver and Chicago at Washington on Sunday.

Golf Tourney To Benefit Guide Dogs For The Blind

The first benefit golf tournament for Guide Dogs for the Blind, Inc. of San Rafael will be Monday at 10 a.m. at Indian Valley Golf Club in Novato.

The San Rafael Holiday Inn-sponsored event over 18 holes will have a shotgun start for golfers paying $27.50 per ticket. Cost includes green fee, golf cart, sandwiches and liquid refreshments.

SOME 132 golfers played yesterday and today in the Marin Country Club Ladies Invitational, best two ball foursome, 36 holes, according to club pro Bill Leahy.

There is also the Larry Siegler Invitational, the third annual members-only event played over 36 holes tomorrow and Sunday. A 9 a.m. shotgun start for both days is planned for the 144 players.

RICH DRANSFIELD, a 13-year-old Tiburon youth, Wednesday shot his first hole-in-one on the 134-yard seventh hole at Mill Valley Municipal Golf Course. The Redwood High School freshman used a five iron on the par three hole. Witnesses were Tom Foster and Larry Freemon.

DEFENDING CHAMPION Byron Eggleston leads 64 golfers competing in the Mill Valley Municipal Golf Course Men's Club championship starting tomorrow. The match play tournament will run for four consecutive weekends on Saturdays and Sundays.

INDIAN VALLEY will also hold the first round of its club championship Sunday at 7 a.m. when defending champ Al Randig leads a 60-man field. The match play tourney will be held on four consecutive Sundays — all starting at 7 a.m.

SHELLEY GATES, 17, of San Geronimo National Golf Club, who won the 16-17 girls age bracket in the Northern California Junior Golf Association-sponsored event in Salinas three weeks ago, has ambitious plans.

San Geronimo assistant pro Tony Savala says: "She hits a drive like a man." Not bad for a gal 5-foot-4 and 115 pounds.

SAN GERONIMO will present its sixth annual Men's Invitational Saturday over 18 holes starting at 9 a.m. The 88-90 golfers will play best ball twosome.

ON SEPT. 14-15, San Geronimo will host the Kiwanis Club of San Rafael-sponsored Marin Amateur Golf Championship.

There will be three flights: championship, handicap and Callaway. Defending champion Bob Gaillard, University of San Francisco basketball coach, leads the 36-hole championship field Saturday and Sunday. The handicap and Callaway flights will be contested over 18 holes on Friday or Saturday, depending on the golfer's selected day.

The tournament will also feature putting and hole-in-one contests both days.

THE TWO-MAN San Geronimo golf team of pro Wayne Wallick and junior Jim Tuffs took fourth last Friday in the Pro-Junior Golf Tournament at the San Francisco Olympic Club. They had a best ball 71 score, five strokes behind the winning Peninsula Golf and Country Club of San Mateo.

BOB BACIOCCO, 39, of San Rafael Sunday fired his first hole-in-one on the 157-yard, par three seventh hole at Peacock Gap in San Rafael. Bill Breen, Will Johnstone, and Sid Nudelman witnessed Baciocco's seven iron shot.

Storen May Become ABA Czar

Combined AP & UPI

NEW YORK — Mike Storen, a league consultant of the American Basketball Association, may be selected to the post of league commissioner — the leagues' third in 14 months — it was announced yesterday.

Storen, the former general manager and president of the Kentucky Colonels, if appointed would replace Robert Carlson, who resigned yesterday to return to practicing law. Carlson, who relieved Jack Dolph, held the post for 12 months since July 1972.

Boxing

PHILADELPHIA — Former heavyweight boxing champion Joe Frazier cried and the Rev. William H. Gray III yesterday eulogized Yancey (Yank) Durham as "boxing's greatest loss."

"My daddy died eight years ago. I feel this more," said Frazier at funeral services for the man who guided him to the heavyweight crown. "I can't talk, please."

About 1,500 persons, including top figures in the boxing and civic world, turned out at Bright Hope Baptist Church in north Philadelphia to pay their respects to Durham, who died last Thursday of a stroke.

Among the mourners were the veteran trainer's widow, Jane, his four children, Mayor Frank L. Rizzo, former heavyweight boxing champion Jersey Joe Walcott, Opportunities Industrialization Council founder Rev. Leon Sullivan and light heavyweight king Bob Foster, whom Durham also managed.

Golf

COLUMBUS, Ga. — John Schroeder, Grier Jones and four others yesterday shot three-under-par 67's to tie for the lead after the first round of the $100,000 Southern Open Golf Tournament.

Baseball

NEW YORK — The New York Yankees yesterday sold first baseman-outfielder Felipe Alou to the Montreal Expos for an undisclosed amount of cash and dealt his brother Matty to the St. Louis Cardinals for a player to be named later or cash.

Football

MINNEAPOLIS — A doctor of former Minnesota Vikings' defensive back Karl Kassulke said yesterday there is virtually no hope that Kassulke will ever walk again.

On the bright side, however, the doctor felt there was no reason that the former football star cannot lead an "independent and productive life."

Kassulke was critically injured in a car-motorcycle accident on July 24, the day before the Vikings' training camp opened.

many's Helga Masthoff. Miss Goolagong, the Wimbledon winner in 1971 at age 19, failed dismally here a year ago, going out in the third round to little known Pat Teegarden. Evonne wants this second major title of her career very, very badly, and many feel she will get it, no matter whom she may face in the final.

The men's semifinals will be played tomorrow after Jan Kodes, a 6-2, 4-6, 6-1, 3-6, 7-5 winner over Nikki Pilic yesterday, protested the plan to have Ken Rosewall meet John Newcombe today.

The Wimbledon winner claimed it would be unfair to him or to Stan Smith to meet the Rosewall-Newcombe winner after that winner had had a day's rest.

Officials agreed, so Rosewall, at 38, will have two days rest before meeting the 29-year-old Newcombe.

Senate Bill Reduces TV Blackouts

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Seventy-six football fans who happen also to be members of the U.S. Senate have voted to limit football blackouts.

With six senators voting no, they approved yesterday a bill that would forbid television blackouts of home games that are sold out 72 hours in advance.

The bill goes to the House, where similar legislation was being prepared in hope of final passage before the football season begins Sept. 16.

But National Football League Commissioner Pete Rozelle doesn't buy the idea.

He told a House hearing yesterday he might cut back or cease all television coverage of NFL games if Congress passes the measure.

Rozelle said the bill would severely damage professional football by reducing ticket sales and attendance.

"If it should ever come to that," he said, "the NFL would prefer to greatly modify its television practices—or to abandon television in its entirety — rather than experience the result of a significant, direct conflict between television programming and gate attendance."

Although the bill would apply to all professional sports events, its sponsors left no doubt it was aimed at pro football's practice of blacking out television coverage for a radius of 75 miles from a home game. Both the Senate and House bills would apply for one year.

"This blackout is inimical to the public interest," said Sen. John Pastore, D-R.I., who was floor manager for the Senate bill.

FISH AND GAME

By AL GIDDINGS

Forecast Poor, Fishing Good

At times, giving fishing reports can be maddening! Russ Ild and Rich Borba, two of the Department of Fish and Game's finest, had a day off last Tuesday, so they decided to go salmon fishing.

"I had just written a column saying the fishing was slow, but they decided to go anyway. I figured their chances were nil. Ha! Russ called Tuesday night and a minute later Rich called. Both were ecstatic; they were bubbling over with excitement. They had limited, fishing out by C Buoy. Russ landed 15, nine and seven-pounders. Rich had taken his light steelhead rod, using just a one-pound weight. He hooked into one fish — a 24-pounder — which took almost all 200 yards of his line. They had to chase the fish for awhile to avoid having the fish take all the line. That's the way it can be; bad one day and hot as a firecracker the next.

At California City, Bill Boyle says he saw an angler catch what looked like a 30-pounder the other day. That place is just about due to bust wide open.

KEITH FRASER AT the bait barge at Loch Lomond says striper fishing has been a hit and miss proposition too, but he thinks the early morning tides this weekend will again be right. Keith is cocky and big-hearted too. The other day things were slow, but the conversation naturally centered around fishing. Keith, just to get something going, made a bet with young Tommy Miller that he could go out and catch three bass in an hour and a half. He made the bet tougher by saying that Tommy could pick the time and tide. Now Tom is a pretty fair bass fisherman himself, and he likes to make a buck, especially if it's easy, so he made the bet. Big-hearted Keith bet $2 against a full day of work by Tom on the bait barge. Tom then sent Keith out at noon at slack tide.

Keith caught his first fish within the first 30 minutes, then nothing for the next half hour. He had just 22 minutes left as he had it timed that it took eight minutes to get back to the dock. In five minutes, he had his second fish with 17 minutes to go. He then hooked a whopper, but it went through the pilings and cut the line. Five minutes left! He hooked another, but lost it at the side of the boat. The time was up! Man, he's been moaning ever since.

I CHECKED Ray Lenci, the old pro, and his gang coming in Wednesday. They had four stripers trolling at Red Rock. One of the fish was tagged but not with a money tag.

Over at St. Vincent's Pheasant Club, just north of San Rafael, the pheasant season started in full swing last Saturday. George Caesari, the manager, says they expect to run through March 31. The membership quota doesn't last very long. If you really want to hunt pheasants to your heart's content, you better get over there quickly.

THE MARIN ROD and Gun Club's Annual Travel Night in '73 is going to be a gala festival on a South of the Border theme. The special dinner and entertainment chairman has arranged a colorful program. The dinner will be prepared by a specialist in dishes with that old Mexican flavor; not too hot, not too spicy, guaranteed to be authentic. Entertainment will be furnished by a select group nationally known for its Marimba Band and Old Mexico Folk Dances. The group is directed by Senor Rodrequiez of Family Relations, Roosevelt High School, Fresno.

The date is Sept. 22, at the rod and gun clubhouse. Margueritas from 6:30 to 7:30 p.m., dinner at 8. Attendance is limited, so get your tickets early to avoid disappointment. Tickets are $7.50 each. Where else could you get such a bargain?

AFTER BEING exposed to Mexican culture at this special event you may be ready for the real thing, so the Marin Rod and Gun Club has made arrangements for a trip to Mexico on the SS Island Princess at special group rates.

Departure is set for Oct. 29, and return is Nov. 9 by ship or Nov. 4 by air. You have a choice to fit your budget and time.

The tour is open to Marin Rod and Gun Club members, their families and friends. Those who are interested, contact Ken Watts at Box 900, San Rafael, for details and further information and an application.

Nicklaus Choice In Golf Series

AKRON, Ohio (AP) — Pro golf's Big Four winners square off in the game's World Series this weekend with — as usual — Jack Nicklaus in the favorite's role.

The Golden Bear, a four-time winner of this event, is making his ninth appearance in the World Series of Golf while the other three competitors are starting in this tournament for the first time.

The other players eligible are the winners of the American and British Opens, the Masters and the Professional Golfers Association National Championship.

The site is the 7,180-yard, par 70 Firestone Country Club.

While the winner gets a fat $50,000, the runnerup takes $15,000, the No. 3 man wins $7,500 and the last man is assured of $5,000.

Both rounds will be televised nationally by NBC from 2:50 p.m. PDT tomorrow and Sunday on channels 3 and 4.

Marathon Darts Mark Is On Line

A merry band of dart-throwers in Novato may set a world record by 8 p.m. tomorrow, but also may be too sore-armed to lift its beer mugs in celebration.

Eight players from the Two Flags Pub, 928 Grant Avenue, Novato, will attempt to break the world record for marathon playing — nine hours, 48 minutes, 31 seconds.

The Two Flags "A" team, 1972 Northern California All-Association champion, will start at 10 a.m. tomorrow. The public is invited to watch, and a special $1.50 buffet will be served at 2 p.m. and a regular dinner menu at 6 p.m.

The current record was set by eight English players from the Sergeant's Mess of the 13th and 18th Royal Hussars on March 15, 1969, according to the Guinness Book of Records.

avid fly fishers, as is his wife. Les learned the art from Jim Green, the man who joined Fenwick in 1959 and came up with the Feralite idea of joining two pieces of fishing rod without the use of metal, making the action more like that of a one-piece rod.

ALTHOUGH HE ADMITS to not being a fly fishing purist, Eichhorn enjoys that kind of fishing more than any other. He fishes for the sport of it and believes strongly in the catch and release method.

"That's why my daughters started fishing," he said. "They realized that catching fish didn't necessarily mean you had to kill them."

Eichhorn has packed his rods to Hawaii, Pacific Islands, Guam, Alaska, British Columbia, parts of Europe. For shorter trips, he does his own flying out of Gnoss Field, north of Novato. When he's not in the office section of his home, surrounded by rods, lures and all kinds of fishing equipment, he might be out trying a new rod. All he has to do is hang out a sign, "Gone Fishin'."

PETALUMA GRID

Attitude Key As Practice Starts

By PAUL DWORIN

Some football teams, like the Green Bay Packers of old, simply destroy their opponents enroute to championships. Others, like the Miami Dolphins of today, gain their titles by being just a little better than their rivals.

But whatever the method used to achieve glory, all championship football teams have one thing in common — an intangible element called attitude. No matter what level of play — professional, college or high school — a team must have a winning attitude to be a winner.

Now is the time of year in which coaches try to instill that attitude amongst their players; an attempt which, if successful, can mean the difference between the championship or the cellar.

Petaluma High School head coach Tony Kehl knows this well. In his first year at the helm last season, Kehl turned an uninspired team into an awesome machine. The Trojans recorded an 8-1-1 season, with the only blemishes on their otherwise spotless record an early season loss to Rancho Cotate High School of Rohnert Park and a 7-7 tie with Terra Linda High in the top of the Bay Bowl.

Aside from graduating some important members of last year's squad, one of Kehl's biggest problems this season could be a complacent attitude on the team.

"We can either be fat cats or stay hungry, but I don't know which we'll be yet," he commented. "I was worried about our attitude before practice started. We considered as a possibility that the players wouldn't be as enthusiastic as last year, but they seem motivated."

Kehl, who has 21 returning lettermen on the 45-man squad, is conducting two-hour a day practices plus conditioning. Along with assistant coaches Frank Martinez (offensive and defensive backs), John Pappas (quarterbacks and receivers) and Sam Tharpe (tackles and specialty teams), the sophomore coach is busy polishing up his team for its opener against Drake next Friday.

"All our games are important, but right now Drake is the most important," he said.

Bucs' Skipper Murtaugh Has Only 1 Regret

PITTSBURGH (UPI) — Danny Murtaugh's only regret in returning as manager of the Pittsburgh Pirates is replacing Bill Virdon, his friend and protege.

"I groomed Bill for the job the last two years I managed the Pirates," Murtaugh said in a telephone interview from his home in Woodlyn, a suburb of Philadelphia.

Pirate General Manager Joe L. Brown announced yesterday the dismissal of Virdon in a hastily-called news conference.

"This was one of the most difficult decisions I've ever made in my 35 years in baseball," Brown said. "But I've always felt that when you have a chance to win you should do everything possible to increase your chances of winning."

Murtaugh said he was in a Boston motel when he received a call from Brown about noon yesterday to take over the club.

"It came through to me that Joe wanted me to replace Bill," he said. "I was shocked. I held that phone for a full minute before I could answer him and accept."

The smiling Irishman, born in Chester, a Philadelphia suburb, will begin his fourth tenure as Pirate manager tonight in the opening of a weekend series against the Philadelphia Phillies in the Quaker City. He will manage the team through next season, Brown said.

Murtaugh led the Pirates to world championships in 1960 and 1971. He was forced to quit after winning the 1971 world championship because of a heart condition. He will be 56 next month but feels he has the stamina to take on the task of trying to make the Pirates champions.

Virdon, a star centerfielder for the Pirates for nearly 10 seasons, managed the Pirates to their third consecutive National League East title in 1972 but lost in the playoffs to Cincinnati. Asked his reaction to the dismissal, he said:

"Sure, I'm surprised, but that's part of the game."

Some Facts On Treasury Debts

By ROGER E. SPEAR

Q. Would you answer the following questions? What is the difference between Treasury Bonds and Treasury bills? How can I purchase these or agency debt issues directly without broker's fees? What is the smallest amount I can purchase at one time? How much do the above securities yield? — M.O.

A. The Treasury offers three types of marketable securities: bonds, notes and bills. These three are distinct primarily in the length of their maturities. Bills, which are auctioned weekly and monthly, are offered in three, six and nine and 12-month maturities; notes mature in one year up to seven years and bonds have a life of five years or more.

At a recent auction of Treasury bills, the average yield was down slightly to 8.91 per cent on 3-month paper and 8.85 per cent on six months. The most recent monthly auction on the 9 and 12-month bills resulted in yields of 8.3 per cent and 8.4 per cent, respectively. Treasury bills are sold on a discounted basis, that is, with interest refunded at time of purchase in $10,000 minimum amounts.

Forms for submitting noncompetitive tender offers are available through the 12 Federal Reserve banks or one of the 24 branch offices. There is no charge on bonds, notes or bills purchased in this way.

Treasury bonds and notes, which were discussed here last week, are available in $1,000 denominations. While these are normally offered quarterly in January, April, July and October, the Treasury, in an unusual move, offered $2 billion of 25-month notes for cash late in August.

Earlier, this government department had noted that additional cash offerings would probably not be required in 1973. Yields on Treasury bonds and notes range from 5.6 per cent to 9.1 per cent on the secondary or resale market.

The various government agencies and affiliated enterprises offer a wide variety of debt securities with minimum denominations ranging from $1,000 on Federal Land Bank bonds to $100,000 for Farmers Home Administration bonds. Yields on these securities, many of which are available directly through the Federal Reserve Bank of New York, range from 7.4 per cent to 9.9 per cent on the resale market.

Tree Planting Ceremony Opens Work On Residential Village

A tree planting ceremony Wednesday officially launched a new $30 million residential community called Village Marin, planned by U.S. Development Corp. of Newport Beach on the old 500-acre Pacheco Ranch north of Marinwood.

The 700-unit community, to be developed in stages, will ultimately include a motel-restaurant complex on the west side of Highway 101 opposite Loring Heights, a neighborhood convenience center, and an office and light industrial park.

Donald G. Zellner, president of U.S. Development, announced that Village Marin will have 290 condominium apartments, 360 townhomes and 50 single family detached homes in the medium to high-priced category. In the first phase, 189 units will be built, with occupancy expected by the second quarter of next year. Access to Village Marin is via Alameda Del Prado.

Townhomes will cost $30,000 to $50,000, and single family homes will be higher.

The developer estimated there are 50,000 trees on the property, and only 28 of them will have to be removed for the first phase.

CHRYSLER SAFETY BELTS

Buckling up will be a must in 1974 Chrysler Corp. cars due to a new passenger restraint system with starter interlock. Engine will not turn over unless front seat occupants fasten their safety belts after they are seated. Both lap and shoulder belts for front outside seating positions are permanently attached to a single buckle tab. This new linkup makes the belts easier to put on. A new retractor permits freedom of movement for driver and passenger except on vehicle impact when the shoulder harness automatically tightens to restrain the occupants.

Eng's Restaurant In San Rafael Operating Under New Ownership

Eng's Restaurant at 907 B Street in San Rafael, next to Baskin Robbins ice cream shop, was sold this week to new owners, who will retain the same name and services.

Glen Eng of San Rafael and his wife Mildred have operated the restaurant for the past 13 and one-half years. Eng retired last year, and his wife had been operating the restaurant with Ben K. Hom of San Francisco.

New owners are Kai T. Eng of Oakland and his wife, Pamela, who are not related to the former owners. Kai Eng worked in his uncle's restaurant in Newport News, Va., for the past 18 years and also had a laundry plant in Virginia which he sold last year.

Kai Eng said he will keep the present employees and offer the same food as in the past. He will continue both Chinese and American dishes, and plans to add a luncheon special and sandwiches for the noon meal.

Mildred Eng, the former owner, is devoting her time to her new Oriental gift shop called Eng's Center at 1233 Fourth Street. Eng's Center carries a variety of Oriental grocery items in addition to the wok, Oriental art, jewelry and other gift items.

Ter Laare joined the bank's international division in 1958 as an assistant cashier, was promoted to international office in 1966 and assistant vice president in 1969. Before joining the bank, Ter Laare held positions with the Ministry of Economic Affairs in Holland and later the First National City Bank in New York. His business career has focused predominantly on foreign exchange.

PENTHOUSE COIFFEURS, which has been located at 802 College Avenue in Kentfield for 15 years, will relocate next week to Larkspur's Sohner Plaza at 5 Bon Air Roid, next to Bank of America and across the street from Safeway.

The relocation will coincide with a change in ownership from Kay K. Long of Corte Madera to Albert J. Beyers of Larkspur. Mrs. Long, who has owned Penthouse Coiffeurs for 15 years, will turn over the business to Beyers, who has been a hair stylist with her for the past 13 years. Mrs. Long will continue working at the new location as hair stylist.

In its new location, Penthouse Coiffeurs will provide the same hairstyling service as in the past.

THE APOTHECARY, operated by Robert F. Vogel in Corte Madera, will also move into Sohner Plaza in Larkspur, about the first of October. The name will be changed to PRESCRIPTION SHOPPE. At the new location, Vogel will open at 8:30 a.m. (instead of 9:30) and will close for lunch.

Vogel operated the Santa Venetia Pharmacy for seven years, then the Apothecary in Corte Madera for the past 10 years. He said his Prescription Shoppe in Sohner Plaza will be conveniently close to Marin General Hospital and the nearby medical offices.

Leo Majors handled the leases for Sohner Plaza, which is owned by Horst Hanf and Ed T. Ghirardo.

WALDRON & CO. Inc. investment securities firm of Terra Linda will participate in a seminar Monday night by Madison and Burke on real estate funds and LAL (Limitation of Artificial Losses) tax proposal. The seminar, open to the public, is set for 7:30 p.m. at the Holiday Inn, Terra Linda.

HOME AND LAND Co. in San Rafael announced the addition of Sue Beltran of Lucas Valley and Ona Coburn of Greenbrae to its sales staff, and Dennis Molloy of San Rafael to the Loch Lomond branch.

PAUL D. BUCHHOLZ of San Rafael, vice president and regional manager of the Ralph C. Sutro Co. of Northern California, has announced the appointment of Eric R. Lindner of Mill Valley to the post of assistant vice president.

The Sutro Co., located in San Francisco, has been in the mortgage banking business since 1910.

Stocks Are Mixed On The Market

NEW YORK (UPI) — Prices were mixed in moderate trading on the New York Stock Exchange today, with investors on the sidelines concerned by the lastest wholesale price and unemployment figures.

The government reported wholesale prices had soared a seasonally adjusted 6.2 per cent in August, the biggest monthly jump in more than 23 years. While the figures came as no surprise, analysts said some investors were rattled, nonetheless. Also disturbing, observers added, were Labor Department statistics showing unemployment had reached 4.8 per cent in August, against 4.7 per cent in July.

Prices on the American Stock Exchange edged higher in light trading.

Marathon Manufacturing was among the day's Big Board losers. Late yesterday, the firm said one of its subsidiaries will have cost overruns that will lead to substantial overall losses.

Walt Disney also declined at one point. The company yesterday announced an earnings projection for the year ended September would be that fell below some of Wall Street's expectations.

Phillips Petroleum moved downward at one time, after a Wall Street columnist said an analyst had halved his working estimate of Phillips' oil reserves in the North Sea.

Getty Oil posted solid gains. The company said an Australian unit and Pan Continental Mining of Australia had struck uranium in northern Australia.

Liggett & Myers rose sharply, and Western Pacific Industries also moved ahead during the day. Western Pacific said yesterday it had sold 415,000 shares of L&M stock.

California Crime Rate Increasing More Slowly

SAN DIEGO (UPI) — Crime in California continues to rise but more slowly than in the past, Attorney General Evelle J. Younger said yesterday.

"Crime is getting worse but not as fast," he said in announcing publication of "Crime and Delinquency in California," a 66-page booklet describing trends in crime between 1968 and 1972.

"The number of adult felony arrests on weapon charges is growing steadily, possibly because of the greater availability of weapons, reflected in growing sales and gun registrations," Younger said.

"Adult drug arrests have continued to escalate and a heroin problem, as reflected by arrests, seems to be emerging from the totals."

Tables in the booklet showed 9,402 adults were arrested on heroin charges in 1968, and the figure grew to 15,637 by 1972. Arrests for offenses involving weapons totaled 2,687 in 1968 and 4,429 last year.

Younger characterized the publication as the fruit of a project he started when he was elected to improve evaluation of crime statistics.

His goal, he said, was "to develop a conservative, sound technique for evaluating statistics ... for use by law enforcement officers as a management tool."

Concerning the trends, Younger said his department supported legislation to make prison terms mandatory for crimes involving heroin and firearms possession. He also restated support of the death penalty.

"The best death penalty law is a narrow death penalty law," he said. He based his support on the claim two-thirds of the people believe the death penalty should be retained for use in a small number of cases, for instance, execution-type killings.

Younger said the state's crime rate increased 45 per cent from 1967 to 1972, but the crime rate in 12 other of the 16 most populous states increased more than it did in California by as much as 93 per cent.

Bank Robbing 'Nun' Sentenced

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — A woman who robbed three banks while posing as a nun has been placed on three years' probation by a federal judge.

Barbara J. Moore, 22, was ordered to enroll in a drug rehabilitation center. She was arrested in April after she placed a box allegedly containing explosives on a bank counter, then ran from the bank.

She also is charged with a $500 bank robbery at Grand Rapids, Mich., in March and a $27,000 robbery in Tampa, Fla., last November, but federal officials said the charges probably would be dropped.

Nixon Gets New Decor In Bedroom

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon's White House bedroom has been redecorated and he has an early 19th Century antique bed, it was disclosed Wednesday.

The redecorating was a surprise for the President, worked on by his wife, Pat, and White House curator Clement Conger and done while the Nixons were in California.

Leaving the East Room press conference yesterday, Nixon paused to express his thanks to curator Conger who was standing there.

The first time he saw the new light blue bedroom with the antique canopy bed was in the early hours of last Saturday when he returned from a two-week stay in California.

"The room is so beautiful we'll have to show it to tourists," the President told Conger. Nixon said "it looks like a museum room." The President's bedroom, previously in red, white and blue decor, is now decorated with the walls in a medium shade of blue described by Conger as "very restful." It has an oriental rug in shades of red, green and blue with matching tobacco plant print draperies and a matching green and white print bedspread.

The antique bed from the period of 1800 to 1810 was bought at an auction in Detroit from a great collection of Americana, Conger said. It is a double bed of what he described "of very modest proportions" and has a small canopy.

Men-Only Bridge Group Is Added At Whistlestop

A men-only bridge group has been added to the Marin Seniors' bridge program at Whistlestop, the seniors center in San Rafael.

The men's group will meet each Wednesday from 12:45 p.m. to 4 p.m., with Richard C. Stephens of Greenbrae as director. Other card games for men are held each Wednesday from 11:30 a.m. to 4 p.m.

Bridge games for all seniors are held Mondays at 6:45 p.m. and Thursdays from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m.

The center is at 930 Tamalpais Avenue.

Moscow Discloses A Subversive Trial

MOSCOW (UPI) —A tall, green, wooden fence surrounded the drab, stone courthouse building in Moscow's southeast Lyublino district. Several uniformed policemen and four or five men in civilian clothes with red arm bands blocked the main door.

Outside the fence, several small groups of men and women talked in hushed tones. Smoke from nearby factories drifted into the sky. Freight train whistles occasionally pierced the still air.

This was the setting last week for the five-day subversion trial of former dissidents Pyotr I. Yakir, 50, and Viktor Krasin, 44. The court Saturday sentenced both men to a less than maximum three years in prison and three years in internal exile.

Yakir, the son of a Red army general executed during the Stalinist purges, was arrested in June 1972. Ever since then, there had been rumors that the bearded dissident leader had confessed and implicated others in his activities.

On Aug. 27, news that the trial had begun started clacking across the Tass news agency printers and the rumors were confirmed.

"During preliminary investigation, both defendants pleaded guilty and repented," Tass said.

The agency said the trial was an open one. Western correspondents who finally found the courthouse in the out-of-the-way industrial district learned this did not mean they would be admitted.

But they were told that an official of the foreign ministry would give them a daily briefing at the courthouse at the end of each day's proceedings, a most unusual procedure.

"It's not in our tradition to invite foreign correspondents to trials involving internal affairs," said the official, Nikolai T. Khudin, in his first meeting with correspondents in a first-floor corridor of the courthouse.

While Khudin greeted each correspondent with a smile and a handshake, the newsmen later learned from Tass that upstairs, defendants and witnesses were denouncing foreign correspondents as alleged conduits for anti-Soviet information.

Tass reported Yakir and Krasin were charged with cooperating with the West German-based emigre organization Peoples Labor Union, known by its Russian initials NTS. Tass said NTS sets "itself the aim of overthrowing the existing system in the USSR."

It also said the indictment charged they acted as "paid informers" of some foreign correspondents in Moscow. Khudin added that they were also accused of writing and publishing the Chronicle of Current Events, the underground newsletter.

Two days into the trial, Khudin gave correspondents a quick tour of the courtroom after the day's proceedings had ended.

Yakir and Krasin testified from a tiny wooden dock. They faced three judges who sat in three high-backed green chairs under a hammer and sickle seal. The courtroom, with peeling, light green paint, had wooden benches to seat 88 spectators.

On the third day of the trial, the name of nuclear physicist Andrei D. Sakharov, the subject of a current Soviet press campaign because of his outspoken views, was injected into the trial.

"It was discovered that Yakir had met him (Sakharov) many times at farewell banquets given by foreign correspondents after they were deported from the USSR for violating the status of journalists," Tass said.

The fourth day, according to an account in the government newspaper Izvestia, saw the name of Nobel Prize-winning novelist Alexander I. Solzhenitsyn mentioned at the trial. According to testimony attributed to Yakir, Solzhenitsyn was a regular reader of the Chronicle and copies were "systematically passed to him for evaluation."

The names of four Western newsmen, including two Americans still working here, were mentioned as allegedly having served as conduits between the two accused and unspecified anti-Soviet foreign centers. One of the newsmen was even said to have passed an anti-Soviet publication to the defendants for distribution.

In the final day of the trial, Tass said both men again pleaded guilty and repented.

The prosecution asked for the less than maximum sentences, taking into account the men's pleas, their repentance and cooperation in the case, Tass said.

Saturday, the court accepted the prosecution recommendation. They could have received seven years in prison and five in exile.

Reinecke, Finch Atop GOP List

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — A statewide survey of 309 Republicans shows Lt. Gov. Ed Reinecke and White House Counselor Robert Finch, a former lieutenant-governor, as preferred among six possible candidates for the GOP gubernatorial nomination next year.

State Atty. Gen. Evelle Younger was third in rankings released yesterday by pollster Mervin D. Field, and none of the top three came even close to capturing amajority of first-choice preferences.

ReineckS was named first choice of 28 per cent of the Republicans questioned; Finch, 24 per cent, and Younger 19 per cent.

Bill Proposes A New Smog-Fighting Board

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — Legislation establishing a new smog-fighting district in six Southern California counties cleared the Senate Governmental Organization Committee yesterday on a 9-0 vote.

The bill (AB2283) by Assembly Speaker Bob Moretti, D-Van Nuys, now goes to the Finance Committee.

The new South Coast Air Pollution Control District would include Los Angeles, Orange and Ventura counties and parts of Riverside, San Bernardino and Santa Barbara counties.

Its directing board would be empowered to levy a tax on smog emissions and impose a 1-10 of a cent tax on every gallon of gasoline sold in the area.

Robert M. Barsky, deputy air pollution control officer of the Los Angeles air pollution district, declared the bill would be a "setback" to antismog efforts. Moretti labelled the statement "patently untrue."

He said the district opposed the bill because it would be replaced by the new agency. Moretti said the bill was needed because "smog is a regional problem" which does not respect city and county boundaries.

Two On Jury

Two Marin County residents have been named to a 23-member federal grand jury in San Francisco. Appointed by District Judge Lloyd H. Burke were John F. Lindahl of Ross and Lillian R. Watkins of Sausalito.

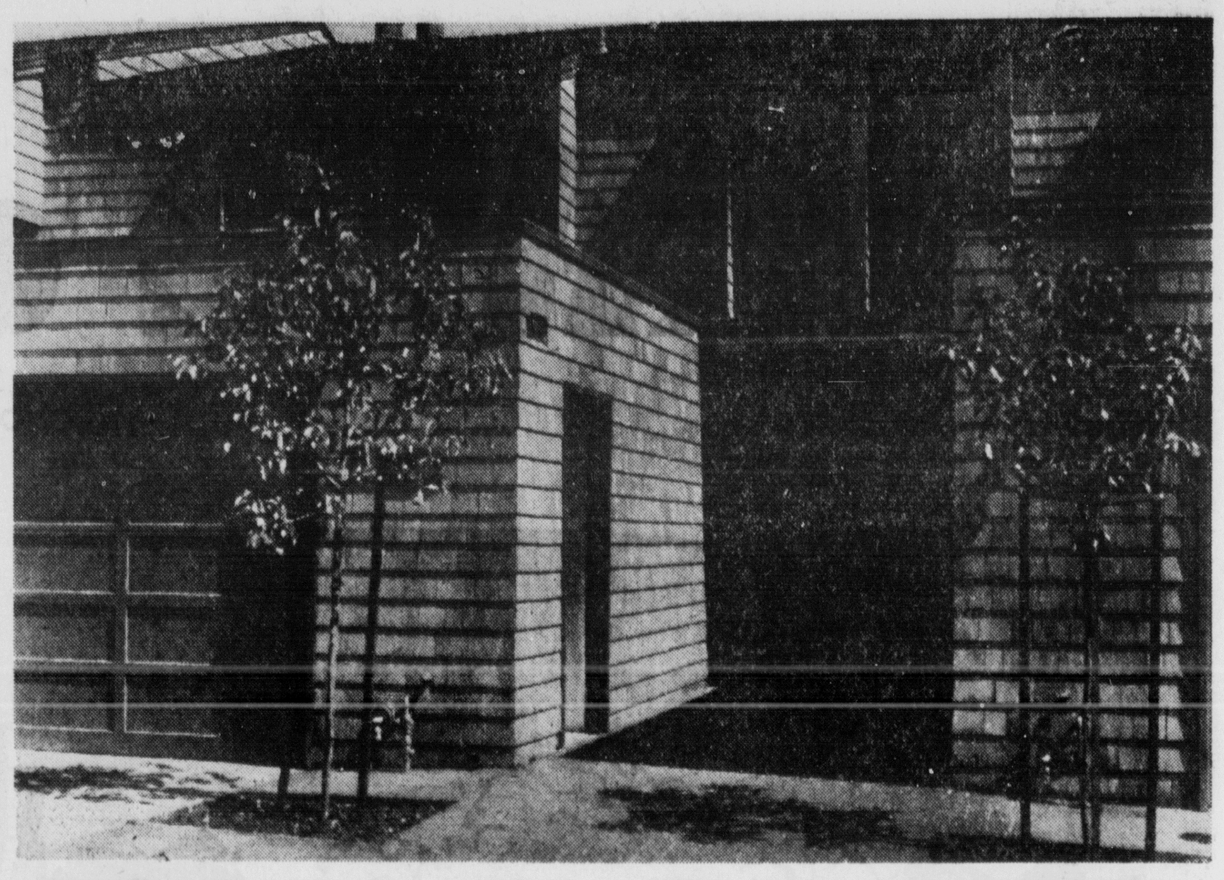
NATIONAL HOME WEEK

SEPTEMBER 10-16

QUAIL HILL TOWNHOUSES — Luxury townhouses on Quail Hill above Northgate Shopping Center in Terra Linda sell for $62,950 to $71,950. Natural cedar shingles enhance the quality and blend in with the surroundings. The townhouses were developed by Quail Hill Inc. and Inland Steel Development Corporation. Architectural design is by Ivan Glover, and photographs are by Judi Colby.



QUALITY — Closeup view of entry to Quail Hill townhouses shows careful attention to detail and sophisticated choice of materials.

Quail Hill Units Are Luxurious

The luxurious Quail Hill Townhouses are being built in Terra Linda, across from the Northgate Shopping Center, through the combined efforts of two corporations — Quail Hill Inc., a subsidiary of Commerce Clearing House Inc., and Inalnd Steel Development Corporation, a subsidiary of Inland Steel Company.

The townhouses, priced at $63,000 and up, are designed as a part of the natural surroundings of Quail Hill with exteriors of cedar shingles, gently sloping roof lines, expanses of glass for the view, and outdoor decks. The architectural design was supervised by Ivan Glover, architect and western manager of Inland Steel Development Corporation of Sausalito.

Homes have a minimum of 1,750 square feet of space, and convenient, open traffic patterns. Each home has a two-car attached garage with automatic door opener.

Inside, there is a sunken living room with a fireplace and gas log lighter. Wall-to-wall carpeting and drapes are included. Some units have beamed ceilings. The kitchen features all GE appliances, including a self-cleaning range, dishwasher and disposal. All units have two and one-half baths.

The clubhouse will be open for private parties, conversation, cards, and offers a sauna, a complete kitchen, a fireplace, changing rooms and a swimming pool.

Adds Some Grace

Homeowners can transform the standard brick fireplace into a dramatic and gracious feature using readily available stock millwork. It is a simple job for a carpenter to make alteration of outmoded architectural settings.

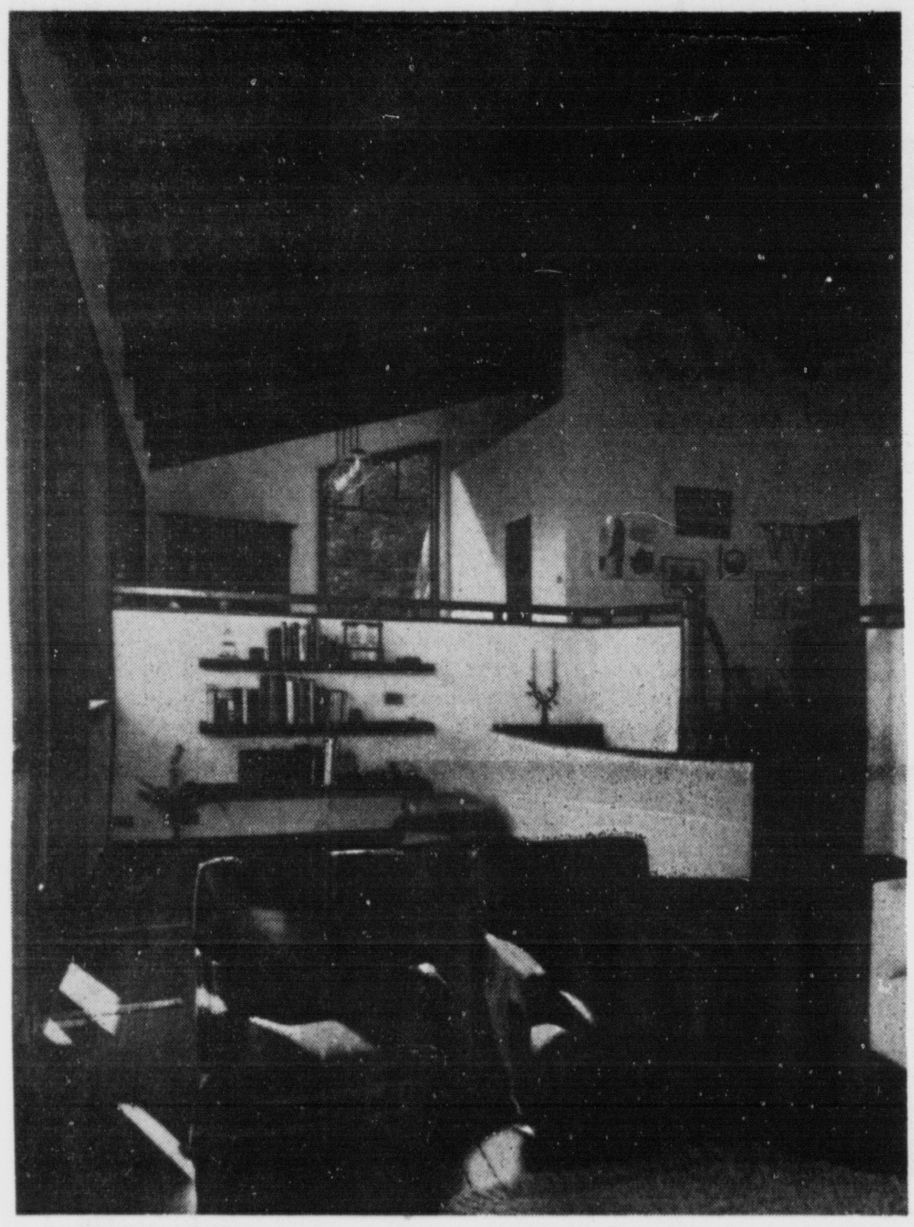
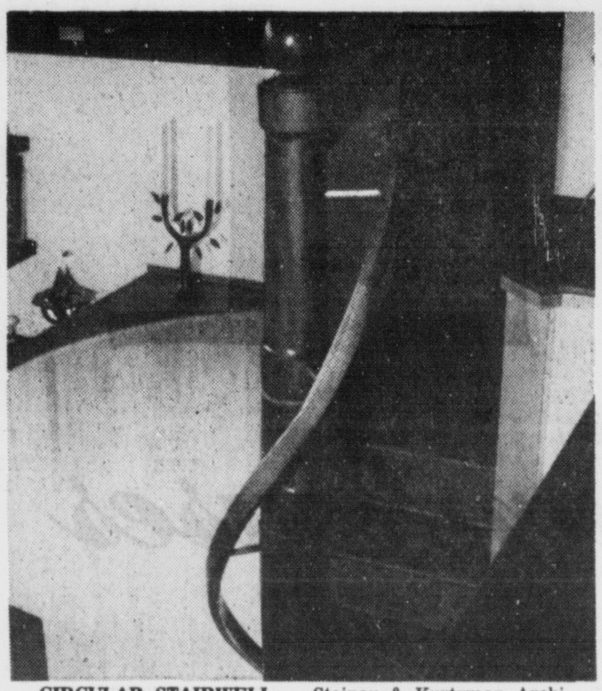
NESTLED AMONG REDWOOD, LAUREL

Large residence (2,900 square feet) on Ralson Avenue in Mill Valley is built on site heavily wooded with redwood and laurel on the southeast slope of Mount Tamalpais. Designed by Steinau & Kurtzman Architects & Planners of Belvedere, it has two stories, with a sunken living area as part of the upper story and a sunken master bedroom suite as part of the lower floor.

FAMILY DINING — Dining area with fireplace as part of the kitchen area is in addition to the formal dining area in this spacious home on the southeast slope of Mount Tamalpais in Mill Valley. Steinau and Kurtzman of Belvedere designed kitchen and dining area with hardwood floors, laminated maple counters, and leaded arched windows.



SUNKEN LIVING AREA — Part of the upper story of large home on Ralston Avenue overlooking Mill Valley, the living room affords spectacular view of San Francisco and the Bay. Steinau & Kurtzman of Belvedere were the designers.



CIRCULAR STAIRWELL — Steinau & Kurtzman Architects & Planners of Belvedere designed central stairwell for two-story home on the southeast slope of Mount Tamalpais, overlooking Mill Valley. From sunken living room on the upper floor, stairs lead down to sunken master bedroom suite on lower story.

MODERN KITCHEN — This used to be a drab laundry porch in the S. Robert Politzer home on Glen Drive. Architect Politzer renovated the 71-year-old structure fine cabinet work and shingle walls to match the exterior. On wall behind shelves is New Zealand tapo cloth.

Turn Room Into Showcase

Easy-to-apply urethane foam beams and architectural details can turn any room into a striking period showcase.

Early American, Federal and English Renaissance components can be applied over any clean, dry material, including concrete, terrazo, tile, plaster, plywood, metal and other wall and ceiling materials.

First Aid Kits Major Equipment

An important part of any home improvement should be safety. In addition to power tools, hand tools and other maintenance equipment, the well-equipped handyman should have a first aid kit available to cope with common injuries.

Statistically the average hme is still the most accident prone place in the nation. And it becomes even more dangerous when the home handyman begins do-it-yourself projects.

Accident prevention and first aid procedures should therefore be as much a part of the home remodeling project as the very plans .

OLD HOME WITH CHARACTER

NEAT, MODERN — Here is typical interior of the hundreds of McKeon homes that have gone up in Marin County, at the Crossroads in Novato and Bahia de Rafael in San Rafael.

McKeon Homes Supply Demand For Moderately Priced Units

The Marin Division of McKeon Construction under the direction of its president, Frank Oman, has contributed a number of residential communities to supply the demand for moderately priced quality housing.

Major residential projects which were started in late 1971 and early 1972 have reached various stages of completion.

In San Rafael, Bahia de Rafael, located on approximately 100 acres of property on Kerner Boulevard near Bellam, is now nearing completion with more than 400 town homes and quadplexes originally scheduled for development sold and scheduled for total completion and occupancy before the end of this year.

In Novato, the McKeon Crossroads apartment community presently consists of 300 quadplex units completed and occupied, with construction under way on 250 town homes which will be available in two, three and four bedroom floor plans. McKeon's apartment communities have a unique design that gives maximum privacy for each owner with no one living above or below any other owner.

The apartment communities offer ready access to utility rooms for owners, and each owner has his own garage and storage. Every resident has his own private entrance in both the quadplexes and the town homes. The condominium concept includes community interest in gardens, grounds, and maintenance of exteriors and recreational facilities. Each apartment community has a beautiful pool and cabana for the exclusive use of the property owners. Features that are built into the units include kitchens with major appliances and ceramic tile counter tops, rich wall-to-wall carpeting, and interiors designed for utility and convenience.

The Crossroads apartment community is on South Novato Boulevard near Highway 101 and offers town homes in selections of five floor plans priced from $28,950 to $34,950.

Only a very limited number of units might become available in Bahia de Rafael in San Rafael during the final phases of construction.

For Water Marks

To remove water marks from furniture, use several drops of spirit of camphor. Apply the camphor to a damp cloth and rub over mark.

Controlling Temperature Important

Controlling the temperature of your home with only one thermostat, notes the National Better Heating-Cooling Council, is akin to letting the motor run while the car is in the garage. You gain nothing by keeping your bedrooms at 72 degrees when the entire family is watching TV in the living room.

The thing to do is to divide your home into separate heating zones, each controlled by its own thermostat. This will lead to greater comfort and, possibly more economy. By setting the thermostate at a lower temperature when you leave the bedroom area in the morning, you don't force the heating system to heat the entire house.

Also, upon retiring for the night, you lower the setting of the thermostat controlling the living room area.

DUOETTE HOMES — Kaufmann & Broad is building these homes at Del Monte Highlands on San Marin Drive, Novato. Two homes are attached on one side to conserve land and keep costs to a minimum. Complete two, three and four bedroom homes are priced from $38,950 to $48,950. They are built amid landscaped open space whose maintenance is handled through a homeowners association.

Del Monte Highlands Nearing Completion

Del Monte Highlands on San Marin Drive in Novato is a 230-home community being built by Kaufman & Broad, nationwide home producers.

Coleman & Associates of Greenbrae has designed what are described as "duoettes", which are complete, single-family homes attached on one side. "This results in greater land yield and helps the builder keep costs down," said Stan Cook, Kaufman & Broad's director of marketing for Northern California. "Yet it provides the homeowner a back, front and side yard.

Two, three and four bedroom homes, available in one and two-story models, are selling from $38,950 to $48,950.

"We are building in a location of remarkable beauty, and it was important to us that we complement the setting, which is characterized by heavily wooded, gently rolling hills," Cook explained. "Because of these surroundings, townhouses and boxy fourplexes were ruled out from the outset. On the other hand, land costs were such we could not build a single family home and deliver it for much under $55,000. The duoettes, which were doing extremely well in Pittsburg, seemed the ideal answer."

Del Monte Highlands may be reached via Highway 101 to San Marin Drive on the northern edge of Novato, then one mile west on San Marin Drive.

Shade Colors

Colored window shades for the bathroom give a light, bright appearance, and can be easily color-coordinated with the decor.

Condominium Great For Newlyweds

Doing your own thing in San Rafael these days means buying a condominium —especially if you're a career woman or a young married couple.

So observes Robert W. Gaber, president and chief executive officer of Conco Mortgage Co., San Francisco, who reported that a recent study of the condominium market in San Rafael revealed employed women and young families in a virtual tie for the designation as the number one group buying condos in this area.

Conco Mortgage is a national mortgage banking and brokerage organization, with offices in principal cities throughout the United States.

Gaber pointed out that "68 per cent of all condominium purchasers in San Rafael are either single career women — without children — or young marrieds aged 24 - 32."

But he is quick to add that their reasons for being attracted to condos differ.

"Single working women prefer the 'life style' of condominiums. Reasons: three-fourths of the women reported condos give them freedom from maintenance, repair and lawn care problems.

"San Rafael's young marrieds, on the other hand, see their condominiums as a 'place to put down their roots' — to give them stability in the formative years of establishing a sound familial relationship, he said.

"Fully 90 per cent of the young families stated that they simply want a home to call their own," Gaber added.

Both the singles and marrieds confirm that a major factor in purchasing condominiums is the spectre of spiraling rental charges.

"However, 79 per cent of these women saw a condominium unit as their primary form of investment," Gaber said.

He noted that the women in the San Rafael study frequently said: "My condo is my home for years to come."

This point of view contrasts sharply with that of the young marrieds who described condo ownership as a short range investment — a first home or stepping stone from which they hope to profit on resale and then to apply that profit to a down payment on their next home. Interestingly enough, these couples expressed the hope of buying their next home within the same geographical area because of already established friendships.

In some cases, Gaber cited social considerations as explanations given by working women of their decision to buy condominiums.

"Twenty-three per cent of these women said that their friends are becoming condominium-oriented —and that condo communities do offer opportunities to meet other people.

"While young couples appreciate having neighbors of the same age and interests, the main social influences are recreational opportunities and amenities offered in condominium packages —tennis courts, swimming pools, exercise rooms and playgrounds," he said.

Gaber explains that the remainder of condominium owners in the San Rafael study consisted of "elderly people who find their large homes too empty after the children have grown, and families who have had their fill of lawn-mowing weekends.

BLENDING INTO CLIFF IN SONOMA COUNTY

This low-provile second home of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Alcorn of Novato is built into the top of the oceanfront cliff at Timber Cove in Sonoma County. Architect Gary L. Tucker of Sausalito designed the cantilevered "prow" to project 25 feet over the cliff and provide a spectacular view of the waters below. The house is built entirely of rough redwood and local fieldstone and is covered with a sod roof.

Factory Finish Aids Building

Home construction is a year-around business in most parts of the nation, regardless of weather. By building in the "off" season, the home owner often can get his home built more quickly because more men are available.

Painting the exterior siding in winter is no problem if it's a prefinished product like Masonite brand Colorlok siding.

Colorlok Siding comes in five attractive colors — Haze Gold, Dawn Gray, Sage Green, Sun Yellow and Frost White. The horizontal laps are 12" x 192" and panels are 4' x 8' and 4' x 9'. Color coordinated battens and other accessories are available.

Heat Controls

Having zoned heat control in a home with a hydronic (modern hot water) heating system will permit you to select different temperatures for each area in the house, reports the National Better Heating-Cooling Council.

Extra Expense

When comparing the prices of portable tools, such as drills, jigsaws and routers, be sure to take into consideration the number and kind of attachments included in the prices.

A retreat in the quiet Marin countryside, Loring Heights nestles on the hills beneath a canopy of green and shady oaks. It is one of the most pleasant living areas in Marin. The clusters of low structures of redwood siding and handsplit shakes are specially designed to complement the surrounding landscape and environment. Within the 180-unit residential community, individual apartments are warm and inviting with wall-to-wall carpeting and color-coordinated drapes.

WATER-ORIENTED TOWNHOUSES

Bel Marin Keys Townhouses are being sold for prices beginning at $34,950 by William Timmer Realty, exclusive agent. The town houses, with mansard roofs and secluded patios have about 1,300 square feet of floor space per unit, with two bedrooms and two baths and some with fireplaces. Each unit has its own boat dock. One big yard for common use by the 30 townhouses contains acres of gardens, lawns and trees, and a recreation area with swimming pool and badminton courts.

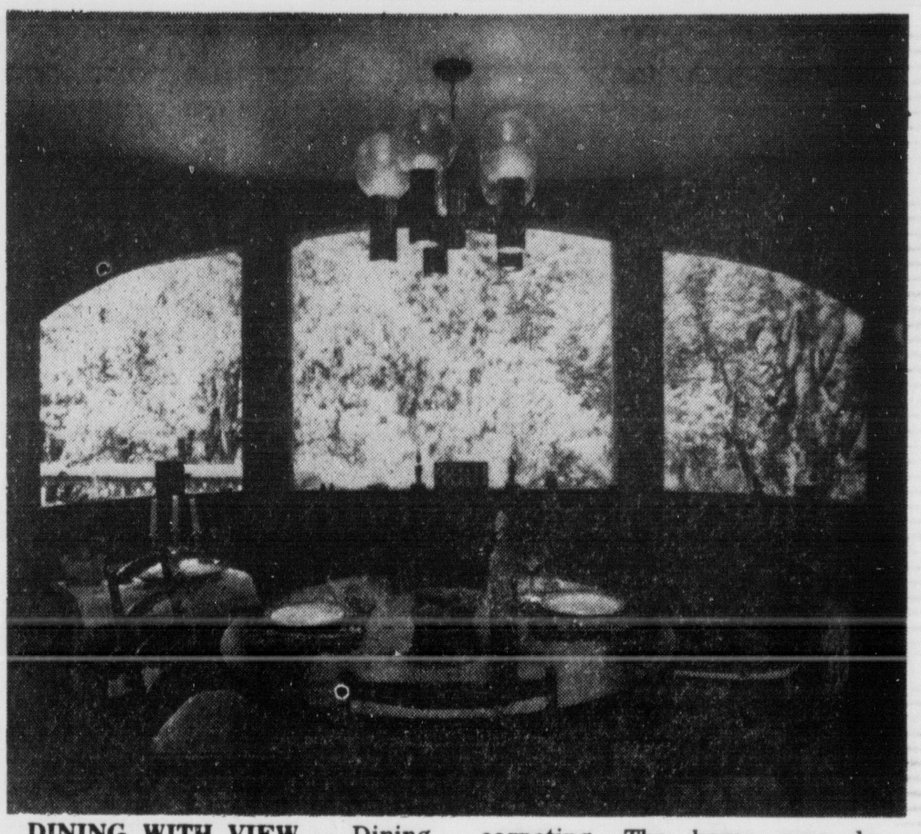
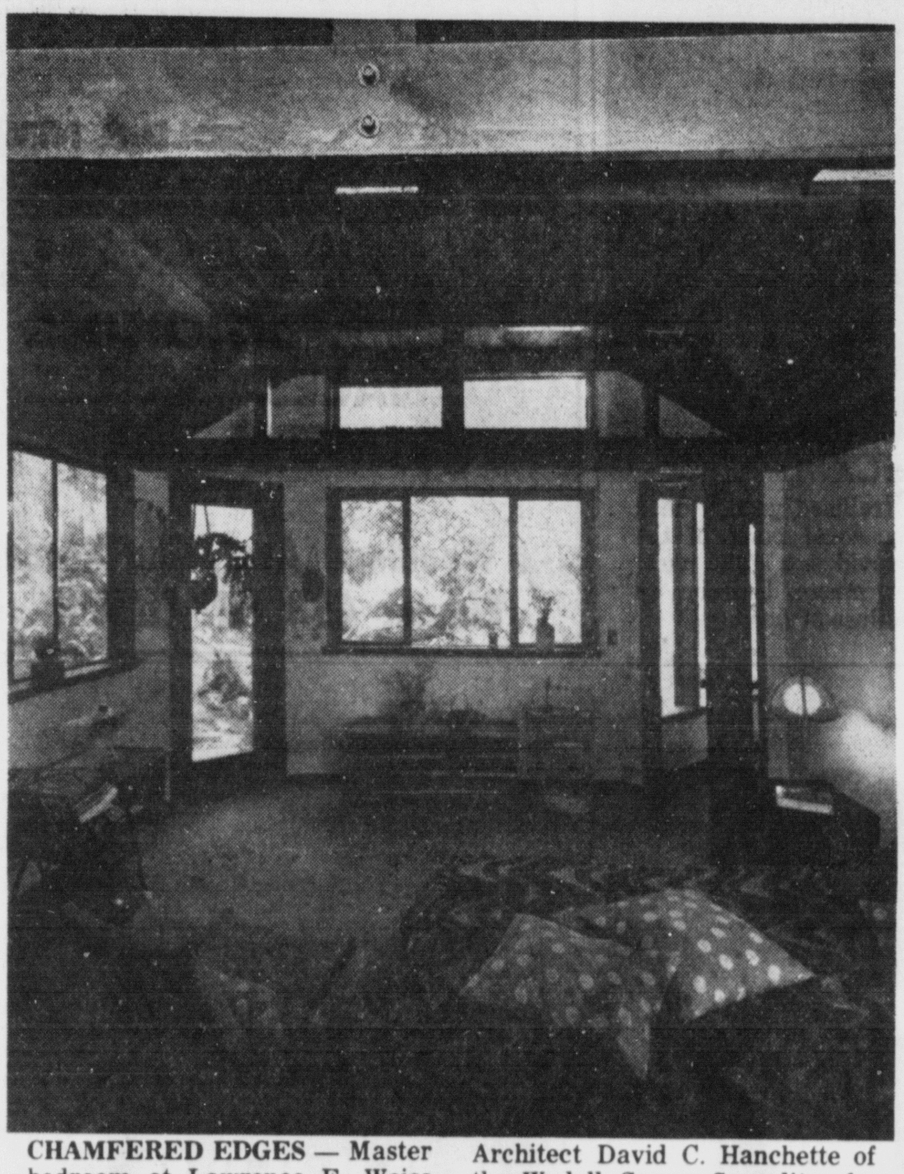
FLOOR PLAN

CUSTOM HOUSE IN WEST MARIN

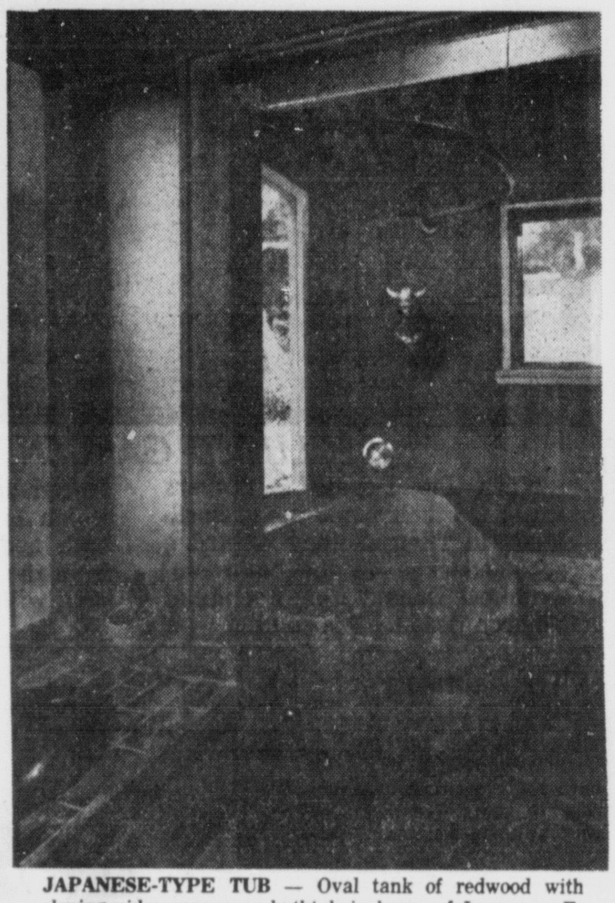
Floor plan shows how architect David C. Hanchette of the Wedell Group, Sausalito, added a bedroom and bath wing connected by a curved gallery to the original home of Lawrence E. Weiss in West Marin. It was designed primarily to wander through and to minimize removal of existing trees on densely wooded site.



DINING WITH VIEW — Dining area of Lawrence E. Weiss home has cantilevered bay window with clear view of dense woods outside. Walls are re-sawn walnut, the tables and chairs of rosewood, and the floor has wall to wall carpeting. The home was designed by David C. Hanchette of the Wedell Group, Sausalito, and built by Nauman & O'Hare of Larkspur. Photos are by Karl H. Riek of San Rafael.



CHAMFERED EDGES — Master bedroom at Lawrence E. Weiss home in West Marin has ceiling of re-sawn cedar and exposed fir trusses with chamfered edges. Architect David C. Hanchette of the Wedell Group, Sausalito, designed the home with corners clipped off at 45 degree angles to form octagonal-shaped rooms.



JAPANESE-TYPE TUB — Oval tank of redwood with sloping sides serves as bathtub in home of Lawrence E. Weiss in West Marin. The bathroom, designed by David C. Hanchette, has walls of re-sawn redwood, cabinets of re-sawn fir and cedar, and countertops of heath tile.

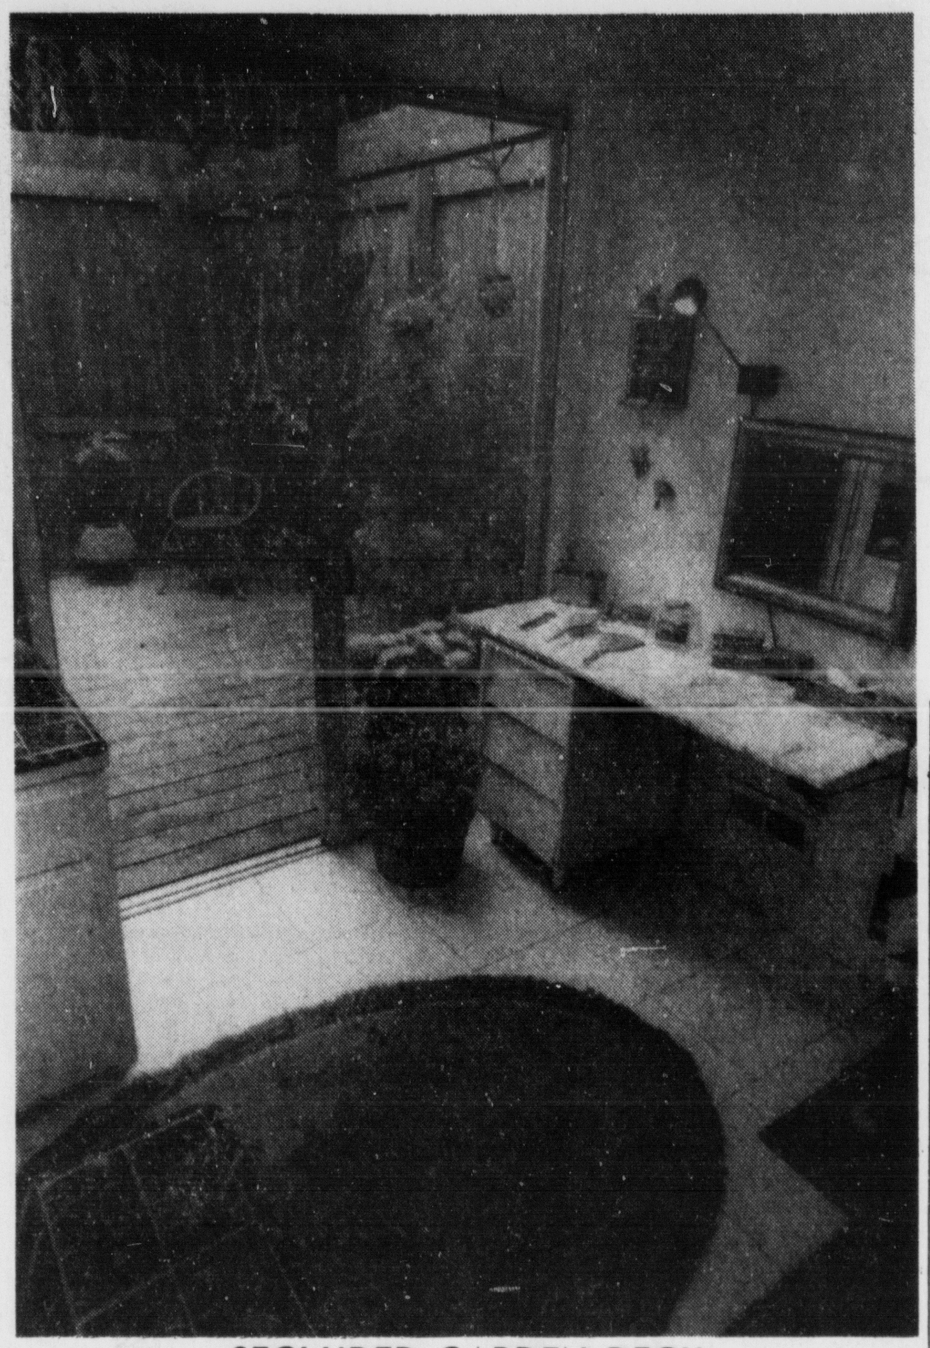
ELEGANT OUTDOOR LIVING

The contrast of circular concrete stepping stones and the rectangular redwood deck provides a beautiful level space for outdoor entertaining or sunning. Structure in the background contains the swimming pool filter and heater. This was designed by landscape architect Henry Cole for Paul Baker on Escalon Drive, Mill Valley.



SECLUDED GARDEN DECK

When the Donald S. Tayers expanded their home in the Reedlands in Tiburon, they wanted a secluded area off the bathroom. Architect Donald King Loomis of Tiburon devised this solution — a fenced and trellised garden deck which is the focal point of the bath and provides a quiet view from the new master bedroom as well, with no loss of privacy.

Try Heating Pool

If you have a backyard swimming pool, you can have a longer swimming season by having it heated. It is relatively easy to extend the piping of your hydronic (hot water) system to provide heat for the pool, says the National Better Heating-Cooling Council.

More Than 70 Townhouses Finished At Western Oaks

More than 70 townhouses have been completed at Western Oaks, the new townhouse community on Redwood Boulevard off South Novato Boulevard on the west side of Highway 101 north of Black Point cutoff.

The two and three bedroom homes feature all-wood exteriors, covered parking, wall-to-wall carpeting, and all-electric kitchens including built-in custom cabinets, deluxe appliances and garbage disposals.

Exclusive sales agent for Western Oaks is Frank Howard Allen & Co., with seven offices in Marin County. Bruce Pohoriles, project director of Western Oaks, announced that prices range from $27,250 to $31,750.

"These homes offer an unusual amount of floor space and luxury features," said Pohoriles. "Western Oaks is one of the few places in this price range where you can raise a family in a rustic, country environment nestled among old oak trees; yet commute easily each day to the city."

Supervising development of Western Oaks is Amfac Mortgate Corporation. Amfac and its subsidiary, Commenwealth Properties, expects to begin phase two of Western Oaks in early 1974. A recreation center and swimming pool will be completed during the second phase.

Enclosed patio areas provide privacy for each home, and underground utilities prevent any marring of the landscaped gardens, trails and picnic areas.

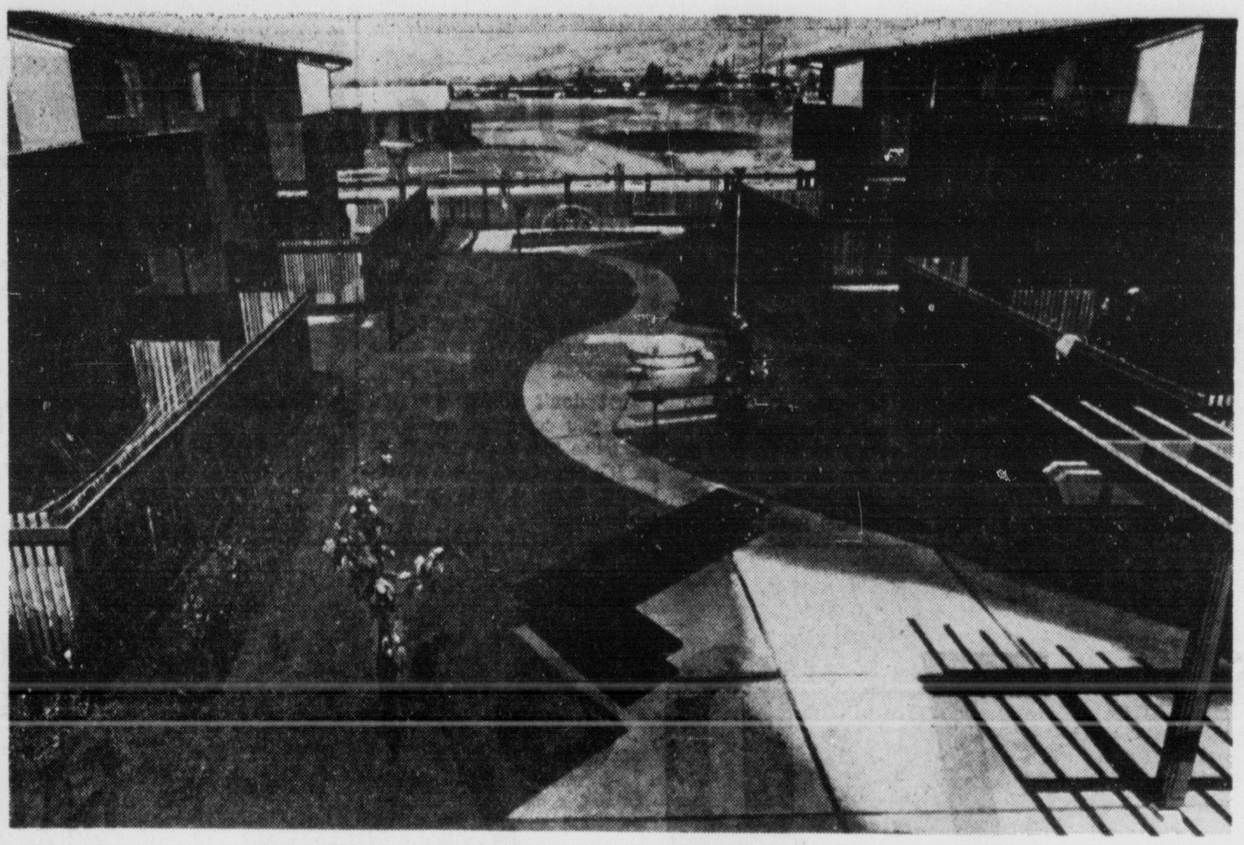
FRENCH ATMOSPHERE

Available space was extremely confining at the John Anderson home on Cazneau Avenue in Sausalito, but architect S. Robert Politzer managed to retain the French country cottage atmosphere in the modernization. Kitchen and breakfast area are re-done with ceramic tile counter top, oak floors and textured plywood to give the tongue and groove effect. Window over the sink provides view of garden. Note the old French bakery clock on the rear wall, with laundry and bathroom beyond.



CASA COLINAS APARTMENTS

Landscaped recreation area designed by William L. Kapranos of San Rafael serves the 28 apartment units at Casa Colinas Garden Apartments, 7359 Boris Court, Rohnert Park. In addition to adult barbecue areas are children's sandbox and climbing device, and several seating and paved areas so that a number of residents can be using their private "park" at the same time. Morris Finisy of San Rafael was architect for the apartment buildings.

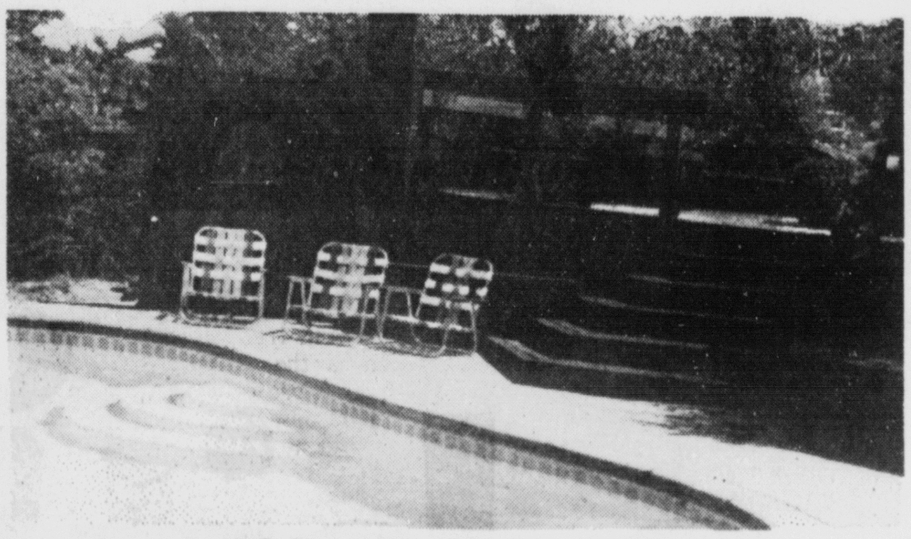
Should You Move Or Modernize?

In every homeowner's life there comes a time when he ruefully realizes that his home is no longer completely adequate for his family's needs. At this point, he has a vital decision to make — move or modernize.

For many the expenses entailed in moving plus the high price of a new house and the higher interest rates of current mortgages make the idea of home improvement extremely attractive.

If you are planning to add on to your present house, the National Better Heating-Cooling Council notes that you have three choices open. You can go up, down or out. "Up" means finishing the attic; "down" means completing the basement, and "out" means adding another room or wing to the house.

Whatever your decision, the Council urges you to include heating with your plans. If planned at the outset, you will be way ahead financially.



POOL AT LOWER LEVEL

When Mr. and Mrs. Don Schweitzer decided to build a swimming pool at their Peacock Gap home on Riviera Drive, they hired landscape architects Katy and Paul Steinmetz to design the pool and surrounding area. The pool was placed at the golf course level, which necessitated that stairs be built from the house level down. At one side of the pool, a built in seat-wall provides convenient seating while solving the problem of difference in elevation. Shrubbery provides privacy from the adjacent golf course. A small lawn (not shown) adds to the attractiveness.

Heating Change Is Vital When Modernizing Home

If you are planning any sort of home improvement project — the paneling of a room, finishing an attic or basement, adding a new wing — heating modernization must be a vital part of your plans, and you will be surprised at the options open to you.

According to the National Better Heating-Cooling Council, homeowners throughout the country are finding out that home heating is only one of the functions of their hydronic (modern hot water) heating systems.

In hydronic systems, water is heated in a trim, appliance-styled boiler and carried through a network of finger-size tubing to baseboard heating panels located on the outside walls of each room. The tubing can be extended, altered, and even removed without ripping apart floors or tearing down walls, and this is the secret of hydronic heating's versatility.

By extending the tubing of your heating system behind your bathtub, for instance, you will have a heated tub. When the thermostat calls for heat, the tub will get warm along with the room. Now when you take a bath, there will be no chill when bare skin touches cold enamel above the waterline.

This is basically the same way to heat an attached garage, a finished basement or a converted attic. Just extend the tubing from the present system and connect it to baseboard heating panels in the new area and reconnect it to the system.

There are other ways to use your hydronic system. The high price of vegetables today has brought about a "backyard greenhouse revolution." By adding heat to the greenhouse it is possible to grow fresh vegetables and flowers, in season and out, all year long.

During the day the greenhouse is heated by the sun; at night the heat is supplied by the home heating system. However, since the best blooms rarely require temperatures higher than 50 degrees, the strain on the capacity of the boiler will not be too great.

Adding heated water to a backyard swimming pool will add at least two months to its usage. With hydronics this is accomplished in much the same way as extending the system to other areas.

A most sophisticated function of hydronic heating is for automatic snow melting. Put a network of tubing under the sidewalk and driveway and connect it to the heating system. Add an anti-freeze solution to prevent freeze-up. When it begins to snow, the system goes into operation, the sidewalk is warmed and the snow melts on contact.

Chain Saw Has Good Many Uses

NEW YORK (UPI) — What can you do with a chain saw after you've brought down that dead tree and cut it up for firewood?

There are a surprising number of answers to that question. "It all depends upon how handy you are, or want to be," says Ed Wilk, chain saw buyer for Sears, Roebuck.

"Most chain saws are bought," Wilk said, "because a homeowner has a tree or two he wants to take down and he figures buying a saw is cheaper than renting one, particularly if he's going to be cutting up the tree for firewood."

Chain saws, he said, can be used to make patio blocks, garden steps and for building rustic picnic tables, chairs and benches, in addition to a variety of cutting and pruning jobs on trees and shrubs. They also can be used to build fences, carve art objects and build a tool shed, a tree house, or an authentic log cabin for the kids to play in.

"Even signs and animal figures can be carved with a chain saw, particularly with the smaller, electric models. They're lightweight and cut through big logs quietly and efficiently in a matter of seconds," Wilk said.

Chain saws are even a good tool to take along on a camping trip.

"There's a lot of wood in a tree," Wilk said, "and most guys can use just so much firewood. A fellow—or even a gal—who likes to work with his hands can do a lot with a chain saw." While there's no complicated technique for using a chain saw, Wilk advises, there are some tips that can make the job easier, safer and make your saw last longer, too:

Don't cut into the ground with the saw. This will dull the blade and eventually cause mechanical problems.

Keep the chain lubricated when cutting. You never can "over oil" it. Be sure the oil is evenly distributed around the chain before you start cutting and oil the chain after cutting.

Be sure the chain is sharp. The size of the chips flying from the saw will tell you something about sharpness. If they are large, the saw is sharp; is small, it's dull. Saw teeth can be sharpened by hand or automatically. Chain saws equipped with a power-sharpening system have a grindstone fitted into the housing and the saw chain running against the stone automatically sharpens the saw teeth.

To fell a tree, Wilk offers the following tips, and warns if you have any doubt at all of your ability, call in a professional. You must make sure the tree will fall in the direction you wish it to fall without danger to people, structures or utility wires.

Start by checking out the tree close-up and then from a distance. Close-up, inspect for rot. Rotten or dead trees are unpredictable and often are a job for a professional.

Looking at a tree from a distance, it it's straight with branches evenly distributed, you should be able to correctly position its fall. It it leans or has heavy limbs on one side, you may have problems that could complicate the fall. Again, it may be a job for a professional.

If the tree is sound, straight and seems to present no felling problems, cut a wedge-shaped chunk on the side toward which you want the tree to fall. Cut the diagonal portion of the notch first and then make the horizontal cut — penetrating about a third of the way through the trunk. Remove the wood from the notch. Next, make a straight saw cut on the back side of the tree about two inches higher than the horizontal cut. Don't cut all the way through. Leave a couple of inches of vertical wood standing to act as a hinge when the tree begins to fall and help guide it down. Wedges driven into the cut on the back side of the tree also will help direct its fall.

As the tree starts to fall, move at an angle away from the direction of the fall. Be sure you've plotted your path of movement in advance and that it is clear. Don't stand next to the tree or in back of it. A sudden gust of wind could throw it off course. For this reason, never try to bring a tree down on a windy day.

Remove limbs from a standing tree by making the first cut from the underside of the branch. Cut approximately one-third of the way through the limb. Then make the second cut from the top. This way the saw won't bind in the cut and the branch will break off without tearing the bark.

Needless to say, plan your pruning carefully. Use all safety precautions, and don't find yourself out on the end of the limb you're cutting.

Once a tree is down, the wood can be used for a variety of projects, as well as for the traditional firewood.

One of the most useful is for garden or patio steps. Wilk suggests:

Before making any cuts, prop the log so you won't run the blade into the ground at the end of the cut. Then, use a piece of chalk to mark off four-inch sections along the log. Make the cuts clean, parallel and uniform so the log end will be smooth. For variety, use logs of different diameter and make elliptical discs by cutting log sections at an angle.

When laying out the steps for a patch, use sections of varying diameter for the most pleasing effect. The discs must be treated with wood preservative as soon after cutting as possible, using liberal amounts of the preservative on all sides to prevent rotting. For best results place the discs in a bed of crushed gravel or sand and fill in between the steps with the same material.

Chairs, tables and benches also can be made with a chain saw. A simple chair, for example, can be made by cutting a 36-inch section of log from a tree at least 20 inches in diameter. Stand the section upright, make a slightly diagonal 15-inch cut for the seat. For the back rest, make another diagonal cut from the top down to the seat level. A bench can be made by cutting a log in half horizontally, drilling four holes for the legs and inserting smaller diameter sections of wood for the legs.

Just don't get so carried away you cut down any trees but those that absolutely must go. It's easy to cut down a tree, but it takes a long time to replace one.

How To Cut Cost Of Fresh Produce

The high price of produce getting you down? Grow your own in a backyard greenhouse, suggests the National Better Heating-Cooling Council.

If you have hydronic (hot water) heating, connect it to the greenhouse. The sun will supply all the heat it needs during the day, and keeping the temperature at 50 degrees during the night won't tax your heating system unduly, the Council says.

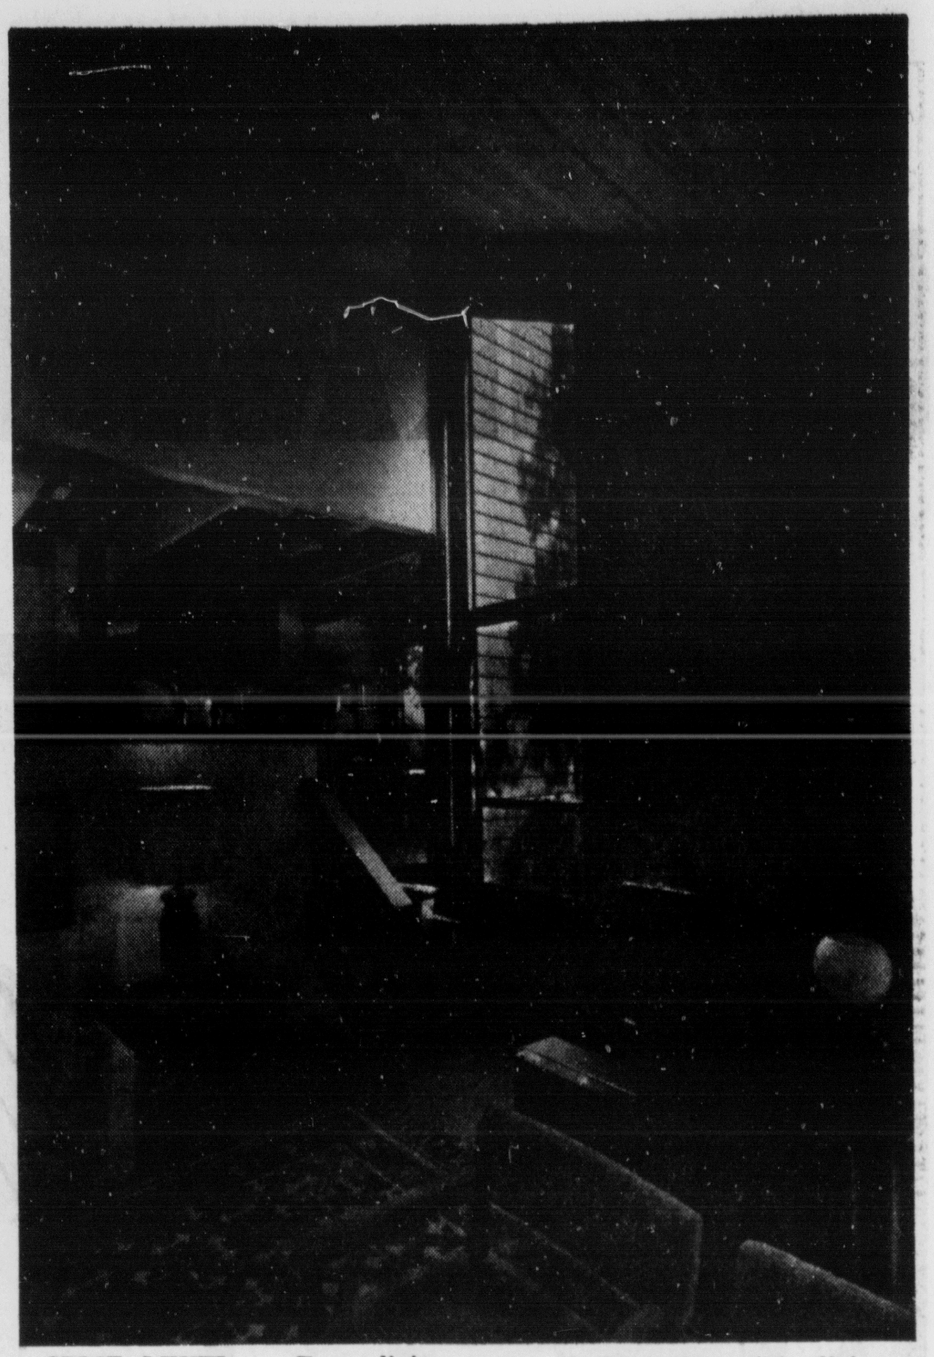
AMID OAK AND BAY

Home in Sleepy Hollow area of San Anselmo is built into sloping terrain, with native flora carefully preserved. Aggregate sidewalk and stairs led from cardeck through oak and bay trees to front entry. Builder was Janis Construction Corp. of Sausalito. Photos are by Philip Molten of Tiburon.



SPLIT LEVEL — From living room, stairs lead up to kitchen (on left) and dining room of this Sleepy Hollow home by Janis Construction. Enclosed rail of upper floor can be seen at top of photo looking down into living room. Custom-made redwood cabinets in kitchen form a special divider between kitchen and dining room.

UNUSUAL PLANTER — Old produce scale is used as hanging planter in kitchen of this Sleepy Hollow home. Kitchen is composed of ceramic tile counter top, vinyl flooring, and custom-made redwood cabinets.

Sometimes The Cellar Is The Key

In striving to find more space in their cramped homes, many homeowners are literally scraping the bottom and checking the cellar as a possibility for an added room or work and play area.

But does it pay to install expensive basement flooring, paneled walls, ceiling tiles and lighting if they are overshadowed by a bulky, massive fuel-eating heating plant.

The solution, advises the National Better Heating-Cooling Council, is a new, attractive compact boiler.

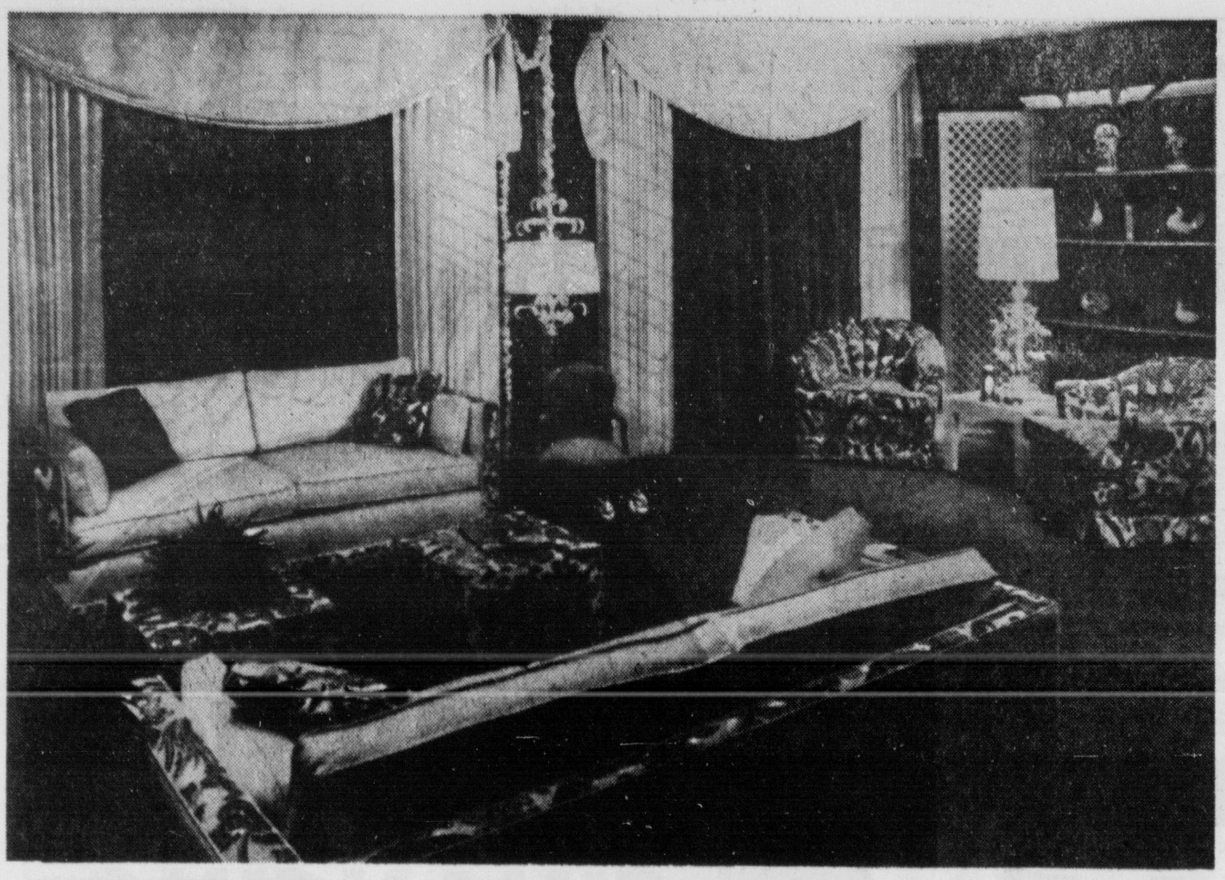
Older homes with hydronic (hot water and steam) heating will be vastly improved if they replace their gigantic boilers with today's boilers. If electricity is inexpensive in their area, they will find that the new electric boilers can be hung on a wall and take up as little space as a fuse box or medicine cabinet. Also, the gas and oil boilers of today are trim and appliance styled, taking very little floor space.

According to the Council, modern boilers provide greater efficiency and reduce fuel consumption by as much as 25 per cent. The saving in monthly fuel bills can eventually pay for the cost of the new boiler.

But more important, the new boiler's appearance will lend itself to the decor of a finished basement, and your cellar will be converted into a pleasant room for your family's comfort.

Remodel And Save

Although it costs money to modernize and renovate your house, it may lead to great savings, observes the National Better Heating-Cooling Council. Replacing old-style boilers with today's trim appliance-style hydronic (modern hot water) home heating plants can save up to 25 per cent in fuel costs.



MOBILE HOME LIVING — Spacious living and luxurious appointments are a part of mobile home living in the new Contempo-Marin community on Smith Ranch Road in San Rafael.

New Mobile Home Community Now Open On Smith Ranch Road

A new mobile home community called Contempo-Marin has been opened on Smith Ranch Road in San Rafael by U.S. Communities Inc. of Wichita, Kans.

John and Jackie Corneveaus of Napa will be transferring to San Rafael to become resident managers of Contempo-Marin, located about a half mile east of Highway 101 on Smith Ranch Road near the turnoff to Smith Ranch Airport.

The Corneveaus, who have been with U.S. Communities Inc. for three years, have managed mobilehome communities in Southern California and Arizona.

Contempo-Marin has a clubhouse with attractively-furnished social areas, large ballroom, and card and billiard rooms. Also included in the clubhouse are separate gyms for men and women, complete with saunas and therapeutic whirlpool baths.

Corneveaus explained that Contempo-Marin will be a closely-knit community where neighbors know each other and enjoy a village atmosphere and a sense of security. The husband and wife team of managers not only look after the physical aspects of the community, but also are available to help with the myriad of daily living problems.

We appreciate your help in making the first 9 months of 1973 our most successful. We hope you are enjoying your current home. If, however, you are considering selling, buying, or leasing, or know someone who is planning a move, please call us. We're eager to help.

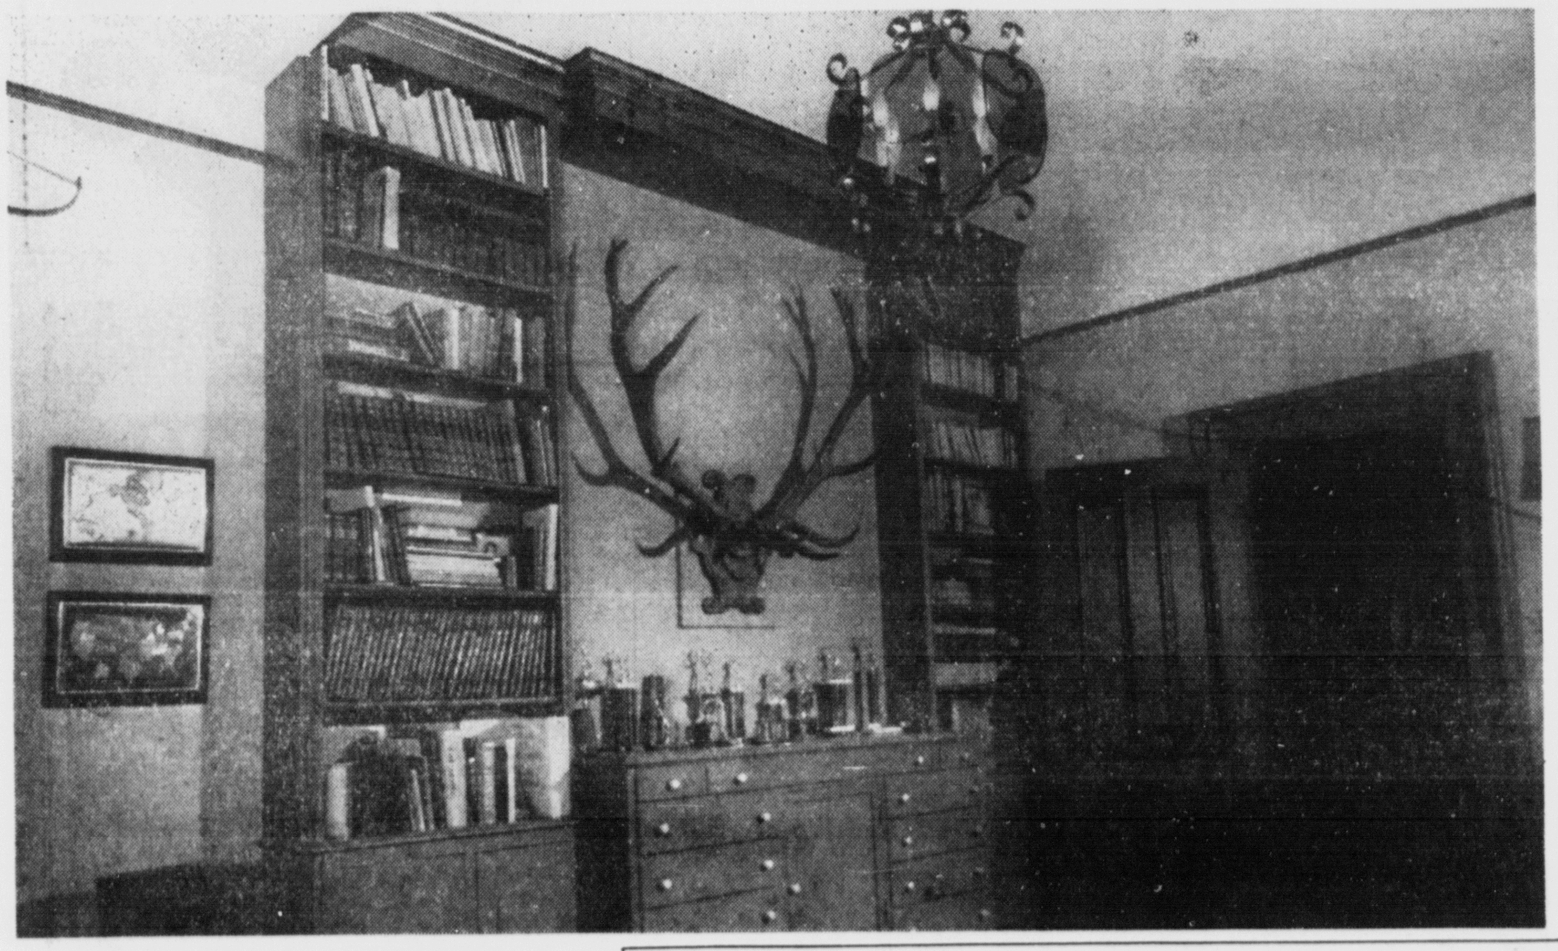
105-YEAR-OLD HOME

Contractor Jack Barone remodeled the old Tompkins Estate home on Park Way in San Anselmo, retaining the hand-grained wood used in the building that was erected in 1868. It was the home of the late Ethel Tompkins, founder of the Marin County Humane Society, and her brother, Phillip Tompkins, who died last year at age 99. The photo shows the entry hall, with a Kwan-Yin statue from China and an elaborate old bookcase from France. Floor is ceramic tile, and the candelabra chandelier is of antique brass.



HANDSOME BOOKSHELVES — Original bookshelves still remain in the study of the Old Tompkins home in San Anselmo built in 1868. San Anselm contractor Jack Barone and his partner, Jack Hanley, bought the building February this year and remodeled the mansion. Handgrained oak in the building are original; wall-to-wall carpeting and smoked glass chandelier are of more reccent vintage.

Bathrooms Become The 'New Frontier'

Bathrooms have become the "new frontier" in home improvement and remodeling.

A comprehensive survey by Cornell University's Center for Housing and Environmental Studies estimated two years ago that more than 16 million bathrooms in the country (including many in "modern" homes) were substandard in terms of facilities, space, storage and decor.

Since then, bathrooms have received considerable attention from designers, architects and builders. The result has been bathroom innovations ranging from wall murals and marble statuary to indoor lily ponds and outdoor patios.

In the process, there have been a number of practical improvements in facilities and designs which are well worth considering if you are building a home or remodeling the bathroom. Aming them are:

Compartmentalized toilet, tub and shower facilities, which permit the bathroom to be used by more than one person at the same time while maintaining the privacy of each.

Double lavatories, some of them scaled to his-and-her proportions. Height of the sink and countertop space is determined by the height of the person who will use the lavatories.

Convenient single-spigot faucets.

Recessed lighting over countertops and around mirrors.

Low-maintenance wall and floor coverings which resist moisture and humidity and can be washed clean.

Use of window styles which give the bathroom maximum light, ventilation and ease of operation. Casements are recommended by one leading window manufacturer (Andersen) for use over bathroom countertops and other hard-to-reach areas, because they can be easily operated without stretching.

For low-maintenance, casements are available with a rigid vinyl sheathing over preservative-treated wood cores which does not require painting. Welded insulating glass, standard with these units, eliminates the need for storm sash.

Luxury extras include such things as built-in sun lamps and wall scales, pull-out sprayers for hair washing, and built-in soap and tissue dispensers.

Panels Offer Uniform Beauty

For instance, to produce a walnut woodgrain design, as many as 150 walnut fliches are examined before the most attractive sections are chosen.

These sections are mounted on a 4-by-8 foot panel, photographed and etched on plates. Then they are printed on a special hardboard base panel.

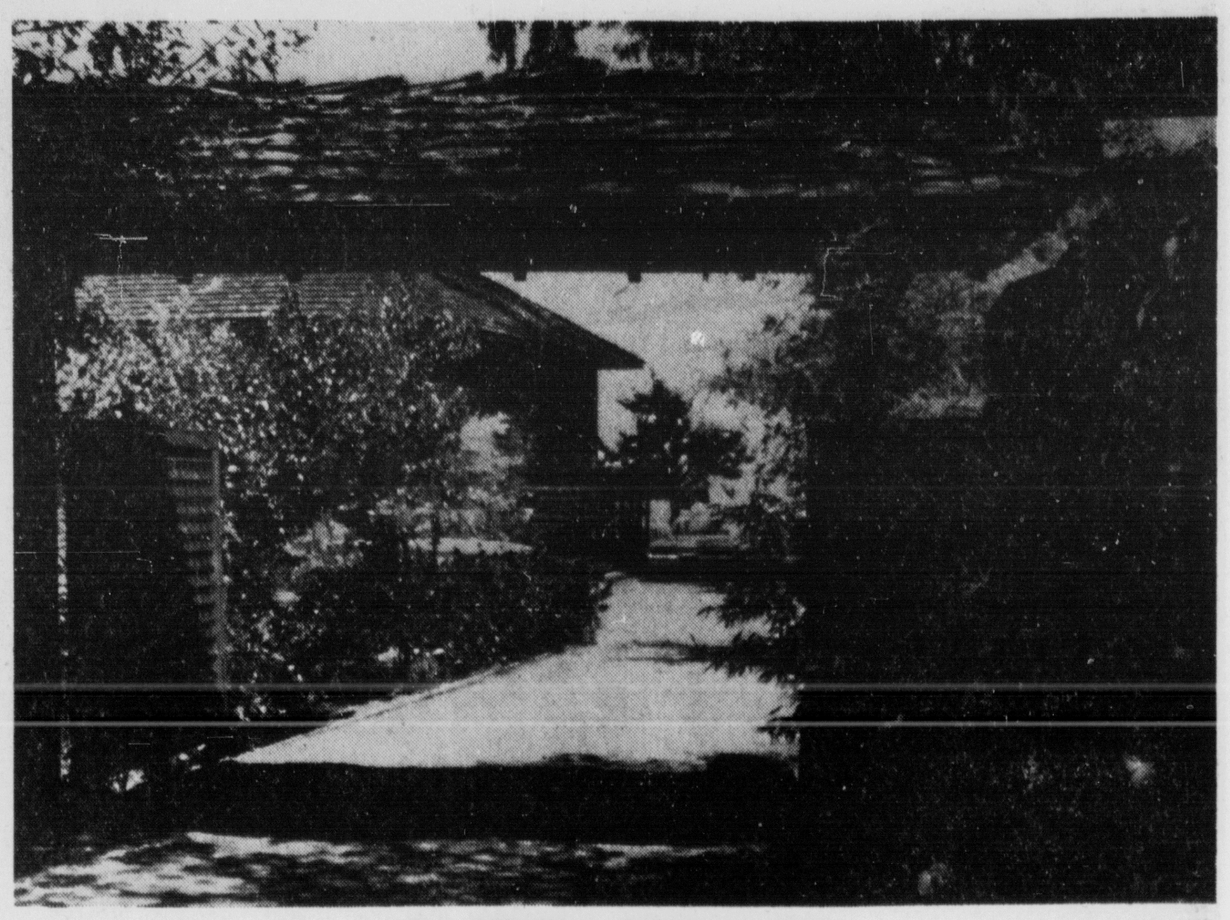
EASY ACCESS TO POOL

Long wide steps of exposed aggregate concrete provide space for seating as well as easy access to this irregularly shaped swimming pool at home of Dr. Bruce Anderson on Southridge West at the Reedlands in Tiburon. The redwood and bamboo fence is stained to match house. Landscape architect was Henry Cole of San Rafael.



GARDEN PRIVACY

Covered entrance gates frame a view of the bay as one enters this hillside garden home of Robert Mohrdick in Larkspur. The gates of redwood provide complete privacy for the garden when they are closed. Landscape architect was Henry Cole of San Rafael.

Study Heating Fuel Change Carefully

NEW YORK (UPI) — If your heating bills last winter were almost out of sight, and the cost of the fuel you use is increasing, you may be thinking of converting your heating system to another fuel.

If so, study the move very carefully.

According to the National Better Heating-Cooling Council, a host of fast talking operators in blue suede shoes are out in force. If your system uses oil, they'll paint beautiful pictures about the economies you can achieve with gas or electricity. If you are using gas, they'll glibly discuss the gains you can make with oil.

Before you make a move, investigate the comparable costs of each fuel. This is not always easy to understand because the fuels are sold differnetly. Oil, for instance, is sold by the gallon. Gas is priced by the therm and electricity by the kilowatt hour.

If heating oil costs 20 cents per gallon, what would be the equivalent cost in gas or electricity? Unless you know the conversion factor for each of the rates, you are certain to be confused.

To help out, the council has published a wallet-size Fuel Facts Cars reproduced below, showing the equivalent rates for the three fuels. Just circle the price you are paying for your present fuel and compare.

For example, if fuel oil is selling at 22.8 cents per gallon, a therm of gas should not cost more than 16.4 cents or electricity higher than 0.7 cents per kwh. If they cost less than these figures, they are a better buy than oil.

If gas is your fuel and it costs 18.8 cents per therm, heating oil should sell for 26.1 per gallon or less to be a better buy. If electricity costs more than 0.8 per kwh, then gas is cheaper.

The rates on the table take into account the varying efficiencies of the different fuels. Gas and oil are rated at 80 per cent efficiency and electricity at 100 per cent.

If, after checking the table, you come to the conclusion your present fuel still is the best buy in your area, the Council says you still can cut your fuel bill by cutting consumption.

It offers these suggestions — many of them things you can work on yourself during the summer:

At the outset, make sure your heating system is in top working order. Seomtimes, something as simple as cleaning the chimney or adjusting a few controls on your boiler of furnace will reduce the amount of fuel the system consumes. If you don't really understand your system, now is the time to find out about it. Write to the manufacturer for instructions if you've lost them, or ask your service man for a rundown.

On the other hand, if the heating plant is very old, it may pay to replace it. The new systems are attractive, resembling appliances, and they use about 25 per cent less fuel than older ones.

Go over the house thoroughly and repair any cracks in the foundation wall by filling them with steel wool. Replace any borken broken and caulking around windows which may be chipped.

Storm sash on windows and doors will cut heat loss in these areas by half. Added insulation in the attic will keep the house warmer in winter and cooler in the summer. Within two years, the cost of the insulation should be made up by lower fuel bills.

Check your thermostats and, if necessary, have them adjusted. It's a good idea to set them back at least 5 degrees before going to be.

And, if you plan to air a room in which the thermostat is mounted, set it all the way back. Otherwise you'll be trying to heat the great outdoors — a sure way to go broke.

Electricity	Fuel Oil	Gas
1.9	61.9	44.5

A wallet-size copy of the table is available for 10 cents from the Better Heating-Cooling Council, Dept. U, 35 Russo Place, Berkeley Heights, N.J. 07922.

Alleviating The Snoring Problem

Seeking new ways to alleviate snoring problems, mattress companies cite these suggestions from the British Medical Association:

Hold something firmly between the teeth (such as a wooden tongue depressor) for 10 minutes after going to bed. This will tighten the muscles which hold the mouth closed.

Then for two or three minutes press the fingers firmly against the chin and hold the jaw tightly against the fingers. Afterward, press the tongue firmly against the lower teeth for another three or four minutes.

Beauty Of Redwood

Redwood is a most useful material for outdoor redecorating. It can be bleached, stained or left to weather naturally. If you're planning to use redwood in the ground for a patio or walkway, it can be easily treated with preservatives for a long, beautiful life.

Built by Horst Hanf of San Rafael and Edward Ghirardo of Novato, the units will rent at about $245 a month. The architect is O. Robert Holm of San Rafael. The development includes a swimming pool, large landscaped green belt area and a children's recreation area and tot lot. Hanf and Ghirardo are also developing the Pleasant Valley condominium project of 44 units on Libra Drive at the end of Center Road in Novato.

LIVING ROOM ADDITION

Two-story addition to the living room of the Richard Odgers home on Eugene Street in Mill Valley was designed by Sausalito architect Rebecca Wood Watkin. It was originally a cottage with nicely paneled living and dining rooms but no entry and low ceilinged attic type rooms upstairs. The entire upstairs was removed except for the master bedroom which became a balcony studio for Mrs. Odgers' painting. The old brick fireplace was replaced, along with the original south wall, and the two-story window was installed for a view of trees.

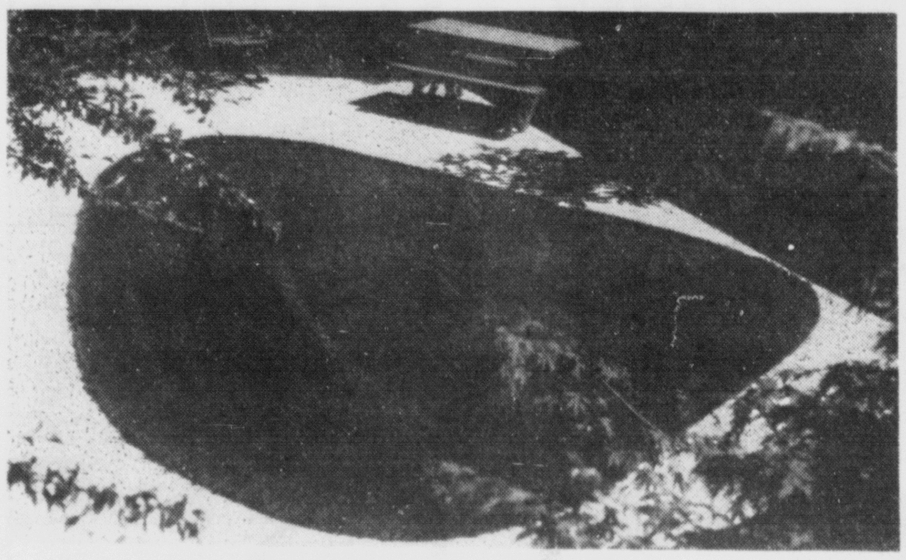
LIBRARY ADDITION

Extension to the living room at the Allan Littman home on Rolling Hills Drive in Tiburon provides magnificent views of the bay and San Francisco to the east and Mount Tamalpais to the west. The addition was designed by architect Rebecca Wood Watkin of Sausalito. Walls and cabinet are of Alaska white cedar, with filing cabinets and hi-fi built in. Fireplace is metal faced with Heath tile. Builder was Don Stevens; photo by Skip Stewart.

Before Decorating, Make A Floor Plan

Before decorating a living room, make a floor plan. It should be in quarter-inch scale, with each quarter-inch equalling one foot. Every window and door should be on the floor plan.

Then make quarter-inch scale drawings of each piece of furniture you plan to use. Cut them out and move them around on the floor plan until you find an acceptable arrangement that fits your needs, your exciting pieces, and the pieces you intend to buy.



SMALL BUT VERSATILE

Sometimes when a garden is small but is used for many things, a lawn is the best solution. Landscape architects Katy and Paul Steinmetz designed this postage stamp lawn for Mr. and Mrs. Paul Erickson of Mountain View Avenue in San Rafael. Surrounded by used brick, the lawn is used for ping-pong, croquet, putting and lounging.

Have You Ever Dreamed About Owning Your Very Own Ranch?

OWN A SHARE OF THE BIG COUNTRY.

On the colorful "fish-hook bend" of California's Klamath River lies a magnificent 5,119 acre country ranch in all its original beauty, virtually untouched by the march of civilization. This great spread of rolling hills, towering trees and sparkling streams nestles alongside the wild blue waters of this finest of steelhead and salmon rivers in all the world. Snow-capped Mount Shasta, crown jewel of the scenic Cascade Range, reaches for the morning sun to the south. The breathtaking, endless expanse of the Klamath National Forest adjoins to the west.

IT WILL NOT BE SUBDIVIDED INTO LOTS.

It is, perhaps, the most enticing recreational retreat for western-living, outdoor-loving families in all America. Already in and ready for use are ranch houses, swimming pool, rec-room, brand new stables, corrals, 76 horses, a large 56 room bunkhouse, another huge swimming pool complex complete with two teen centers, tennis courts, large lodge on the river, and 857 campsites with complete shower and restroom facilities. All are for the comfort and convenience of R-Ranch owners and their guests.

You can hunt deer, quail, grouse and pheasant, you can fish for steel head, salmon, bass and pan fish. You can swim, play tennis or volleyball, try your hand at archery, play baseball and horseshoes, hike, ride, or just plain loaf amid the peace and contentment of this vast stretch of nature's own wonderland.

Did you ever think that someday you'd like to own a completely equipped ranch? That you could have a place so you could say to a friend, with just a touch of pride, "Why don't you and the wife come up to our ranch for the weekend?" Did you ever think that you could do that this soon?

Well, you can. R-Ranch (Go ahead, say it aloud: "R-Ranch") can truly and honestly be "Our Ranch" in your family. You can be one of the limited number of owners of this fabulous scenic wonderplace, and receive a grant deed. You own everything on it, even down to the horses and saddles.

You can come and go as you like here. You can stay in a comfortable bunk house room or in the two large camping areas with ample restroom and shower accommodations — right on Klamath River or Cottonwood Creek. You can bring your camper or trailer, of course, and personal horse if you have one. As an owner, you can help run this great spread, if you like, through the owner's association, establishing policies and improvements for your lasting enjoyment and security.

R-Ranch is nature's convenant to man for the good life. And it's your convenant to ecology, to preserve in perpetuity the glory and greatness of mountain and river, of trees and flowers, and to keep this land — your land — in all its natural beauty.

More, R-Ranch is your promise to yourself, to have what man has always wanted . . . a piece of good green earth, with plenty of room and fresh air to spare.

TAILORED REDWOOD FENCE

Privacy for this side street garden in the Tiburon home of Rampton Harvey is obtained by the well-tailored redwood fence. Designed by landscape architect Henry Cole, the interior is paved with exposed aggregate concrete, and a redwood trellis gives shade and provides privacy from uphill neighbors.

STRIKING TILE WALL

Condominium Popularity Grows

NEW YORK (UPI) — Condominium. Not so long ago it was something you looked up in the dictionary: "individual ownership of a unit in a multi-unit structure; a unit so owned."

Today, it's a household work. What's more, an increasing number of households are condominiums.

New condominium units offered for sale this year are expected to account for more than 50 per cent of the total number of new dwellings, perhaps as high as 58 per cent. As recently as 1970, condominiums accounted for only 11 per cent of new home sales.

The condominium boom mirrors important changes in the composition of American society. The groups most attracted to condominiums, younger buyers and senior citizens, now comprise 55 per cent of our poulation.

Unlike some housing trends of the past, condominiums did not emerge quietly, slowly graining popularity. "Instead," says Robert W. Gaber, president of Conco Mortgate Co., San Francisco, "an explosion of demand reached, almost overnight, boom proportions."

Would-be owners are rushing to buy condominiums in all forms: townhouses and cluster homes; apartment — both the garden-type low-rise and high-rises.

On principle, the concept has much to commend it. In many ways it gives the condominium owner the equivalent of single family home ownership. He can tailor the financing, to a degree, to his own needs; has an equity interest which figures to give him a measure of inflation protection and gets the tax advantages of private home ownership — tax and interest deductions, deferment of tax on gain on sale within code limits, and long-term capital gain treatment if tax deferment is not availble. Normally, he is the absolute owner. And, if he wants, he can(qrent and take depreciation deductions like any other landlord.

From the Institute for Business Planning, New York City publisher of financial and real estate planning information, comes a checklist of some of the key items the potential buyer of a condominium should be aware of:

Lease of land: In many cases, the developer will retain ownership of the land and recreational facilities. He may thus collect rent for both from the condominium owners for longer periods, such as 99 years or possibly more. The rent may be way out of line.

Maintenance costs: The estimate given prospective purchasers may be very low. The developer may be able to defer costs while he's around. When he leaves, the actual costs show up.

Renting: Possibility for renting a unit often is used as an inducement to purchase. Glowing rent estimates are made. They neglect to take account of the actual market, rental commissions, screening fees, the IRS limitations on tax deductions, the fix-up expenses and other factors. Taken into account, all these things might require a rent far larger than the market would support.

Construction. The heating and cooling systems may be inadequate. The plumbing may not live up to expectations. Soundproofing may be thin. Room sizes may be smaller than the sale floor plans showed. The same may be true of parking spaces.

Voting control: The developer often will keep voting control of the management board of the project until all units are sold. This control serves the legitimate purpose of assuring proper operation and maintenance while the units are being sold. The danger is if there's no time limit on the developer's control and he finds it difficult to sell the units, he may be able to lower prices or start renting.

"I sold our house myself. But I'd never try to do it again!"

"You know how it is. You hear you can save money if you sell your home yourself. Well, I tried it, and learned a painful lesson the hard way.

I ran an ad and before I knew it, my family's life was turned upside-down. Our phone rang at all hours and total strangers appeared at the door demanding to be shown through. Our flowers were trampled and one day, as we came home, people were sitting on our doorstep.

I thought I had the house sold, but problems of the escrow-impounds, closing costs, title insurance, pre-payment penalty, termite work, eliminating deed encumbrances—delayed everything. (How can this stuff be so complicated!)

Then after all this, the buyer couldn't qualify for a loan. The house was finally sold, but while we were suffering by doing it ourselves, our neighbor's house across the street was sold for 15% more than ours. And it was essentially the same house! His sale was quick, smooth and professionally handled through a Realtor, who knew the true market value of the house. Sell your own home yourself? Take my advice and use a Realtor. You'll be glad you did."

LUXURY TOWNHOUSES — These homes at Greenoaks in Terra Linda sell for $44,950 and up. Each unit has wall-to-wall carpeting, fireplace and an all-electric kitchen. Fox & Carskadon Realtors are the exclusive sales agents.

SPACIOUS LIVING — Townhomes at Greenoaks in Terra Linda are enhanced by wall-to-wall carpeting and other conveniences of modern living. The two and three bedroom homes were designed by Wurster, Bernardi and Emmons. Photograph by Craig Buchanan.

Greenoaks Is A Luxury Development

Greenoaks, a 107-unit townhouse development at the end of Manuel Freitas Parkway in Terra Linda, offers luxury two and three bedroom homes designed by the award-winning architectural firm of Wurster, Bernardi and Emmons.

Fox and Carskadon Realtors are the exclusive sales agents on this $5 million development, being built by Terra Linda Development Company. Prices at Greenoaks begin at $44,950.

The spacious rooms are enhanced by wall-to-wall carpeting. Each home has a wood burning fireplace and an all-electric kitchen with a Hotpoint built-in oven and range. The exteriors are of redwood.

Of the 27 acres of land on which the project is constructed, 15 acres will remain as a permanent greenbelt. A private recreation center includes a large swimming pool, squash courts, a sauna, exercise room and indoor activities for the exclusive use of homeowners and their guests.

The homeowners association takes care of all outside painting, landscaping and general maintenance and relieves homeowners of that responsibility.

Parkhaven Townhouse Prices In Novato Start At $26,500

Parkhaven townhouses on Novato Boulevard in Novato, developed by Young America Homes of Santa Rosa, are selling for prices starting at $26,500.

Parkhaven is nestled in the rolling hills of the hsitoric Oliva Ranch, where a total of 180 townhouses will be built by the end of this year. The first phase, already completed, includes a pool, recreation clubhouse and facilities for activities such as basketball, badminton, volleyball and special teen programs.

The two and three bedroom Parkhaven models have full carpeting and kitchens with dishwasher, disposal, and Microwave Range by Litton which can bake potatoes in four minutes. All units have their own private patios, and residents can enjoy the maintenance free aspect of Parkhaven living and take advantage of the many homeowner tax benefits.

Parkhaven model homes are open daily except Wednesdays from 1 to 5 p.m. To reach Parkhaven, take Highway 101 to Novato, turn west one block on Diablo to Novato Boulevard, and then head north for a mile and a half.

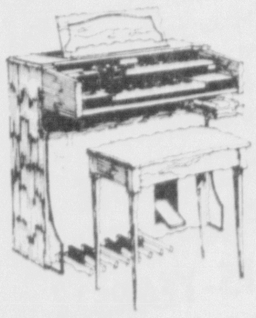
MAY WE INSTALL THE "HEART" IN YOUR HOME?

The happy family sings and swings together. The heartbeat is the family piano or organ. Today any family can own one. We would like to help you enjoy the many happy hours that can come from music. We can play, show you how to play, select styles suited to your home . . . models suited to your needs. We can help arrange financing and we do our own installing and delivering. We have gotten a lot of satisfaction from bringing music into Marin homes. How about yours?

BALDWIN ORGANS

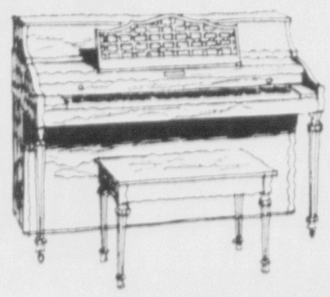


Chosen by most Marin organ owners. Easy to play you can master in a few days . . . and perfect at your leisure. WonderChord helps you start, Auto Rhthem is another assist. Add a symtha-sound and your range allows you to do everything from bullfrogs to Bach.

FOR YOUR CHURCH, TOO

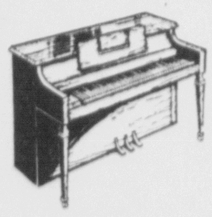
We'd like to show your church committee the Baldwin 711, especially designed for smaller churches and chapels. We think you'll be impressed both with the organ and with our plan devised just for church groups. Many now have the Baldwin 711.

BALDWIN PIANOS

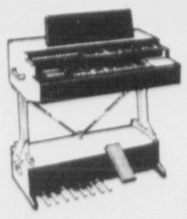


Chosen by the world's leading artists, the Baldwin piano should be your choice, too. You'll enjoy the supurb tone, responsive action and unmatched dependability. Excellent in promoting concentration, creativity and self expression in children with the rich reward of entertainment and accomplishment.

USED PIANOS AND ORGANS



Because of our high volume in new piano sales . . . we have a greater selection of trade-in pianos. All are reconditioned to a like-new performance.
Organs, especially, are excellent buys. New models have made excellent instruments obsolete. So, if you don't demand all the new gadgets . . . we have some great buys for you.



IT MAKES A DIFFERENCE

where you buy and Marin prefers our professional and personal approach. We insist that you be perfectly satisfied and our extra services go as far as to arrange lessons for you if you desire.

CONN

You, too, can sit at the mighty console of a Conn theater organ. Recapture the days of the silent movies with music background for villians and heros. This counterpart of the old-time theater organ (in scope not size) will bring endless enjoyment.

YES, THEY COME SMALLER

The complete Conn line presents all sizes . . . suitable for any room. They all have the grand, great sound. Come in and hear for yourself.

Remodel Without Littering Your Home

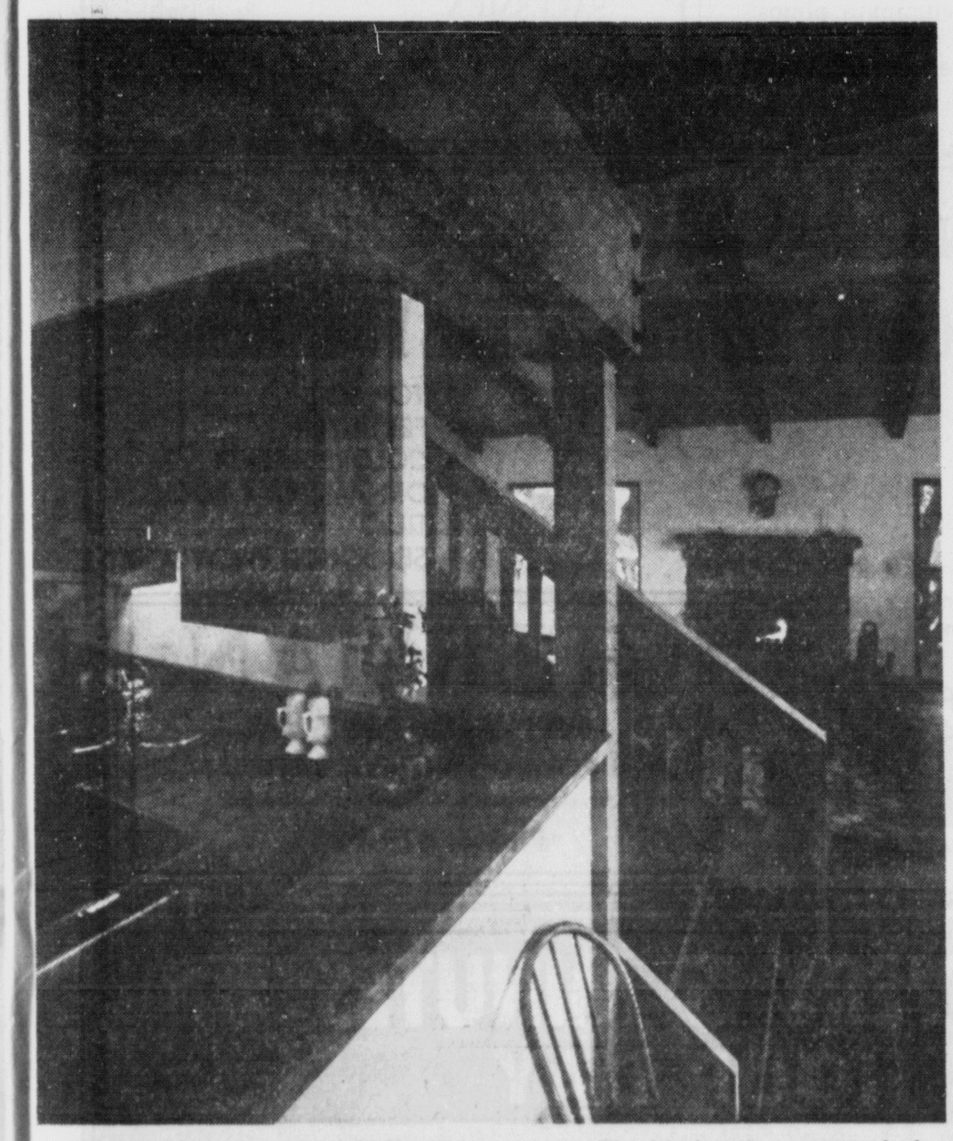
Don't let your remodeling project turn your home into a litter-bug's paradise.

Any remodeling job, whether inside or outside the house, produces as a by-product a surprising amount of trash and rubbish that becomes litter if allowed to get out of hand.

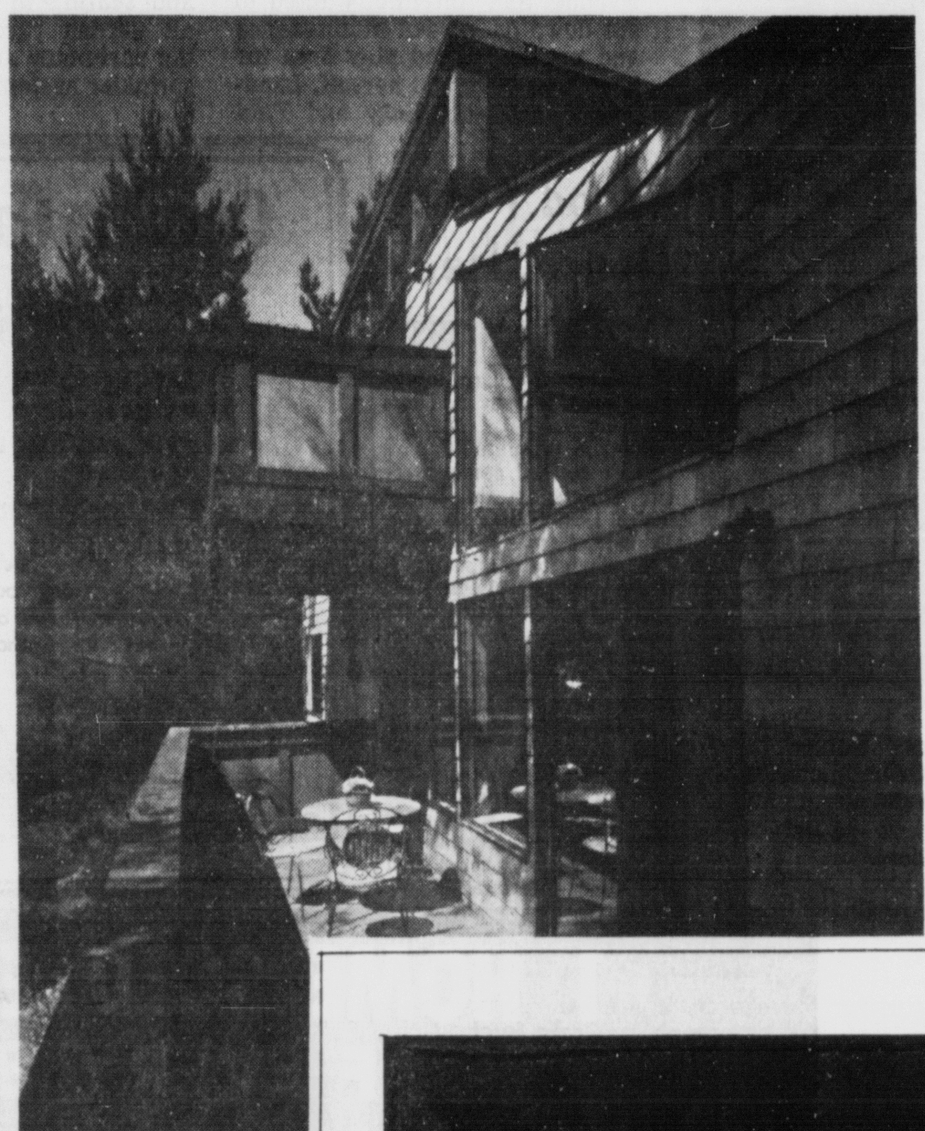
Allen Seed Jr., executive vice-president of Keep America Beautiful, Inc., points out that the danger of home renovation becoming a litter problem is greater when it is a do-it-yourself project. He added, "The job islikely to drag out over a long period and the homeowner may not have as much time to clean up the mess he creates, as a professional contractor, or he may seek to save work by leaving the cleanup job to the very end."

Litter around a home that is being remodeled may blow into neighboring yards and streets. This not only annoys neighbors, but if left over a period of time, detracts from the appearance of the neighborhood and can even depress real estate values.

The easiest way to control litter during remodeling is to keep a large litter receptable — a barrel, bushel basket or even an old carton — on the job site at all times so litter can be properly stashed as it is created.



KITCHEN AND LIVING ROOM — Douglas fir beams and columns frame the open side of the kitchen and span the sloped living room ceiling at Murray Park home. The kitchen is composed of custom made redwood cabinets which line three walls, ceramic tile counter tops and vinyl flooring.



SUNNY BALCONY — Southeast exposure of house in Murray Park shows enclosed deck running the length of dining and living rooms.

Your Next Move Double-Check

Your home is probably the biggest purchase your family will ever make. So make doubly sure that your dream house is as nice as it looks.

Take the advice of consumer protection experts and get two professional inspections before you close the deal. First, get your own, independent Structural Pest Control Inspection and read the report carefully. And second, have the home checked from top to bottom by a licensed General Contractor.

Hinkley & Gordon offers both of these sensible measures in one package—our exclusive Double-Check inspection for homebuyers. When you find the dream house or condominium that fits your other requirements, give us a call. Within a day or two, we'll perform your Structural Pest Control Inspection, as described above. And we'll also perform a general contractor's inspection.

Within two days, we'll give you a detailed written report on the type, age, and quality of the house's construction and materials. We'll report on the type, condition, and adequacy of the heating, plumbing, and electrical systems. We'll look for signs of problems in the roofing, gutters, flues, and paint. We'll try and find signs of drainage problems. We'll check for leaks in major appliances. And much, much more.

You'll have an expert, impartial rundown on the general condition of the home and the seriousness of any specific problems we discover. Or you'll have expert assurance that everything is just fine.

Only Hinkley & Gordon offers the Double-Check homebuyer's inspection package. Again, we're the only firm in Marin fully licensed and experienced in both fields. The cost of the Double-Check is just $95 for most homes (the general contractor's inspection is available separately for $50 for the average home). And that's not much to protect the biggest investment your family will ever make.

LIKE ORIENTAL CASTLE

Large, three-story home of David Hall on Belvedere Island overlooking Sausalito and the Bay was designed by Steinau & Kurtzman Architects & Planners of Belvedere. It has a separate guest house. Owner wanted the house to have an Oriental character and yet fit into the terrain and preserve as much of the natural vegetation as possible.

EASY MAINTENANCE

Mrs. Carol Gerbic of Calleta Avenue, San Anselmo, wanted to cut down on garden maintenance and provide useful play area for her three boys and herself. Landscape architects Katy and Paul Steinmetz designed pool, deck, and seating to eliminate almost all garden care. Plants around the perimeter are watered with a sprinkler system.

Construction Of Housing Slows Down

NEW YORK — Construction of new housing units started during the second quarter of the year was down 3 per cent to 619,666, compared to the same period in 1972, it was reported by the F. W. Dodge Disivion of McGraw-Hill Information Systems Company.

An authoritative source of construction market date, the firm is widely known for its Dodge Reports on construction activity and Sweet's Catalog files of building product information.

After adjustment for seasonal variations, the second-quarter housing unit figure showed a 13 per cent decline over the first quarter of 1973, according to Dodge. Said George A. Christie, vice president and chief economist of Dodge: "The spring drop of homebuilding is only the beginning of a succession of declines still to come over the next several quarters.

The following 10 standard metropolitan statistical areas were the nation's top housing producers in the second quarter: Chicago, 20,921 units; Los Angeles-Long Beach, 11,283 units; New York, 9,864 units; San Francisco, 9,389 units; Washington, D.C., 9,381 units; Miami, 9,021 units; Atlanta, 8,541 units; Detroit, 8,446 units; Houston, 8,410 units and Denver, 8,380 units.

Wood Patio Doors Use 'Safe' Glass

Studies estimate that a "glass" accident occurs every two minutes in the United States. Most victims are under 15 years of age.

To eliminate one source of possible danger, 30 states are considering legislation which would require use of safety glass in large glass areas such as patio doors. Eighteen states already have such laws.

Manufacturers of wood sash patio doors have long urged consumers to choose safety glass for patio doors and large glass area windows. In stock patio doors made of ponderosa pine, safety glass is now offered as a standard feature.

The Novato Red Carpet office is owned by Virginia Russell, Realtor. This office was formerly known as Associated Developers which has been active as a general real estate brokerage office in the community for over 15 years. Our office is conveniently located at 957 Front Street, across the Highway from Denny's Restaurant.

MRS. GLORIA OPFERMAN, REALTOR, has been active in Real Estate Sales since 1957 and has owned her own firm, formerly Northgate Realty, since 1962. As an original resident of Terra Linda, she has taken a part in the tremendous growth of the Terra Linda, Marinwood, and Lucas Valley areas. Mrs. Opferman has been active in the Marin County Board of Realtors and is presently a Director on the Board. She is also a member of the National Institute of Real Estate Brokers, NAREB, CREA and the Women's Council of Realtors.

Now with newly expanded and modernized facilities at the same location and her association with the RED CARPET, REALTORS . . . she pledges to you, continued personalized service and the assistance of a competent, professional staff.

THE RED CARPET STORY

In 1953 Anthony Yniguez, now president and chairman of the board of Red Carpet Corporation of America, was operator of a multiple-office real estate company in Contra Costa County in Northern California. As a growing independent Realtor and noting the increased participation of large corporations in real estate, Yniguez set the objective of creating some means for an individual Broker to meet these competitors at their level, without each Broker losing his independence.

Tony Yniguez developed a personal motto . . . one he gleaned from reading Victor Hugo. As Hugo stated it, "No army can withstand the strength of an idea whose time has come." (This was to become the Corporations' motto.)

Mr. Yniguez came up with the concept of a complete program which gave Broker members the answers to their pressing problems.

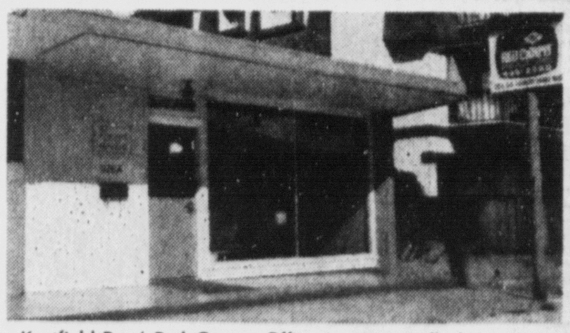
Anthony Yniguez said of this concept:

"Today's transportation, communications and computerized living cause every city to become a suburb of your community. The RCR concept of modern marketing techniques is the long awaited assistance to the individual professional."

The name "Red Carpet" was selected to identify the organization to the public as offering the ultimate in service. The organization was formed around a nucleus of 20 Realtors in Northern California. At the present time there are approximately 465 offices in seven states: California, Oregon, Arizona, Texas, Florida and Connecticut.

Red Carpet, Realtors expanded into Marin and Sonoma Counties, covering an area from Sausalito to Santa Rosa, approximately 5 months ago starting with 8 offices between the two counties. There are now 11 operating offices with 4 more slated to open in the very near future. These Brokers have joined together under the Red Carpet banner. They are independent Brokers who have combined their resources to provide marketing advantages not available to individual offices.

Red Carpet, Realtors uses mass advertising, a public relations program, a referral system, a license preparation school and a continuing sales training program to achieve its business goals and ever growing success.



Kentfield-Ross' Red Carpet Office is strategically located on Sir Francis Drake Boulevard to service all of Marin. Formerly James Harvey Hendrick Realtor before being invited to join Red Carpet, Realtors; this Red Carpet Office is headed up by Jim Hendrick and D. Ralph McClurg. Hendrick started in real estate in 1957, active in Marin since 1966. McClurg was a Trust Office with one of the nation's leading banks before joining the firm.

Red Carpet of San Rafael Central, the only Marin County office to start from scratch, did just that. Two months of extensive remodeling converted the front portion of the Greyhound Bus Depot into an attractive Spanish motif office now boasting a staff of ten capable people to serve our customers' real estate needs.

Red Carpet in Sausalito. Serving Both Sausalito and Tiburon. The Red Carpet office specializes in Condominium Conversions, Commercial and Residential Properties. We are qualified and equipped to serve you.

COVE APARTMENTS ON BEACH ROAD

Project designed by Steinau & Kurtzman Architects & Planners of Belvedere contains 12 units — six two-story town houses on top of one-story apartments. Although the building is three stories tall, it has the feeling of a lower building because of the landscaping and the use of stucco on the first floor, vertical redwood siding on the second floor, and sloping shingle roofs at the upper floor. Slightly tapered chimney stacks add to the character of the building.

ESTHETIC, PRACTICAL — Attractive iron gate at home of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Erickson of Mountain View Avenue, San Rafael, permits free vision but stops intruders. The gate, designed by Katy and Paul Steinmetz, is hinged on one side, permitting the entire structure to swing out of the way. To prevent sagging, the three-inch pipe post was filled with concrete before the cap was welded into place. Besides being light in appearance, the gate is well balanced and swings easily.

POOL IN A WOODSY SETTING

San Rafael landscape architects Katy and Paul Steinmetz worked around existing shrubs and trees to design this pool in the spacious estate garden of Mr. and Mrs. Mason Flemming on Hillgirt Avenue in Ross. The pool fits graciously into the landscape without intruding. A large concrete deck around the pool is surrounded by a spacious lawn, which contributes to the elegance of the estate garden.

It's not big enough.
Well, instead of resigning yourself to cramped quarters, come to our Ethan Allen Gallery and let us show you how to make the most of the space you have.
Our expert home planners can show you how to use mirrors and glass tables to add depth to the smallest living room. How the right lamps and lighting fixtures can create a whole new feeling of spaciousness. How to use color, patterns, fabrics, even accessories to make any room look a lot more roomy.
We'll also show you an ingenious modular system called the Custom Room Plan. With it you can turn a few feet of empty wall space into an office, a library, a home entertainment center or a much-needed storage area that's as beautiful as it is functional.
And of course, we have a complete collection of furniture that cleverly saves space by combining two jobs in one. Like discreet drop leaf tables that open up to seat 8 for dinner. Or beautiful living room sofas that turn into comfortable full size beds at night.
Stop by our store and bring a floor plan if you like. There are dozens of ways to give any apartment or condominium a new feeling of spaciousness and comfort.
And at our Ethan Allen Gallery, we know them all.

We can help you have the home you want.

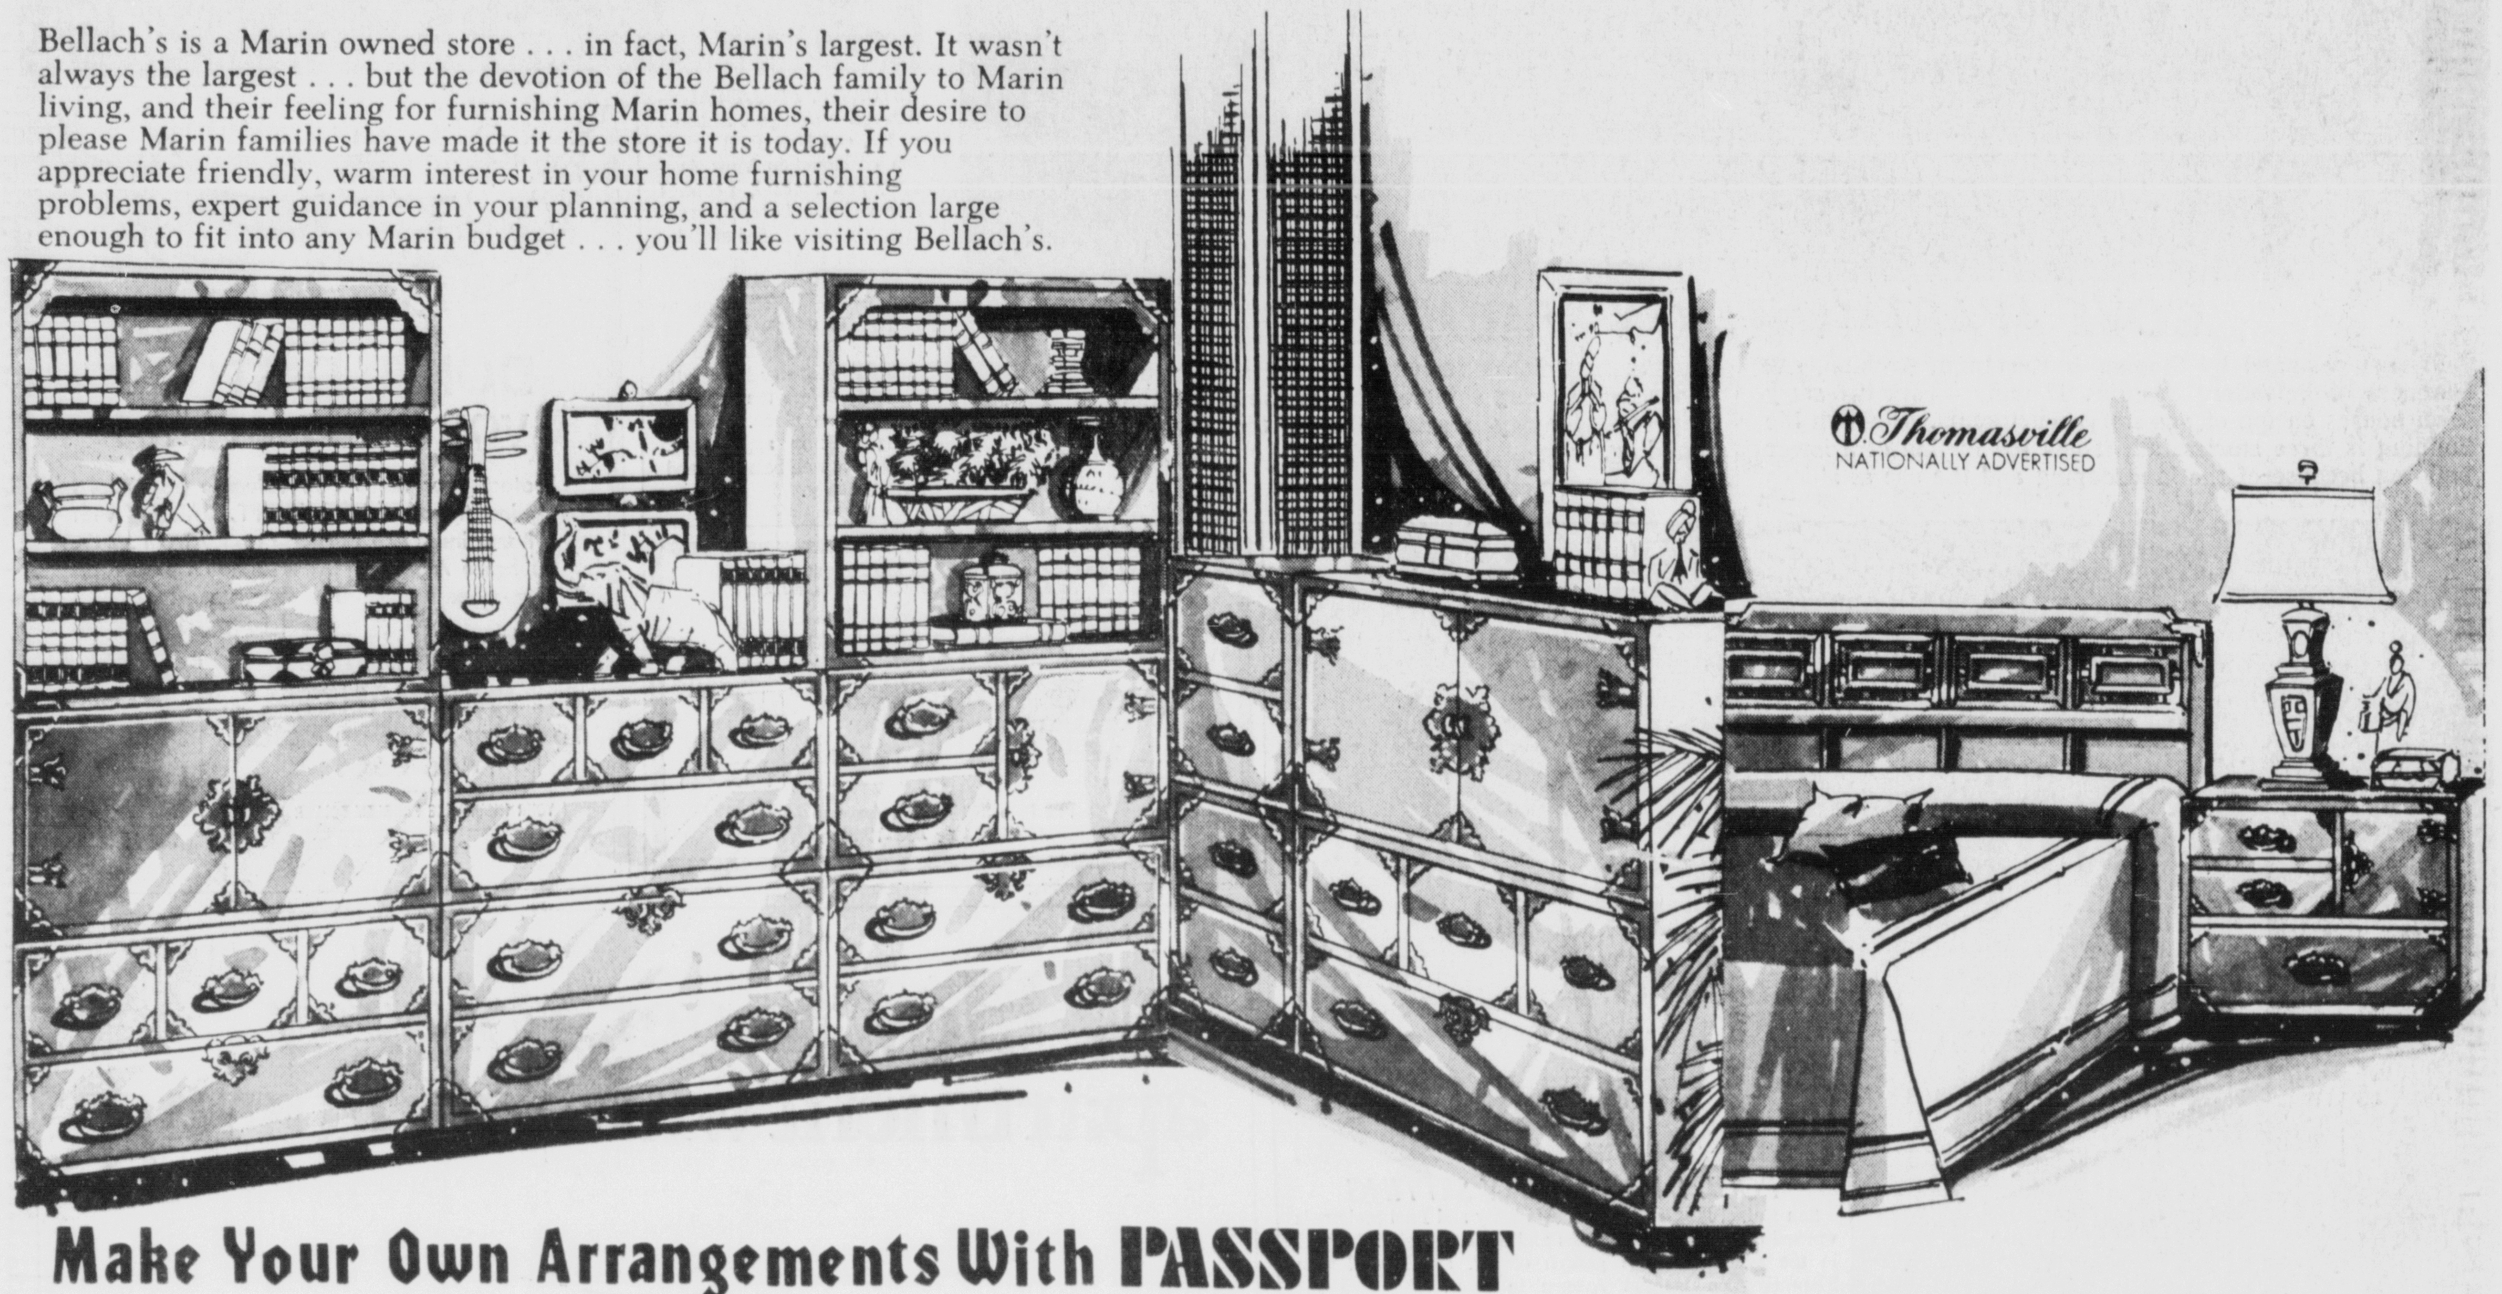
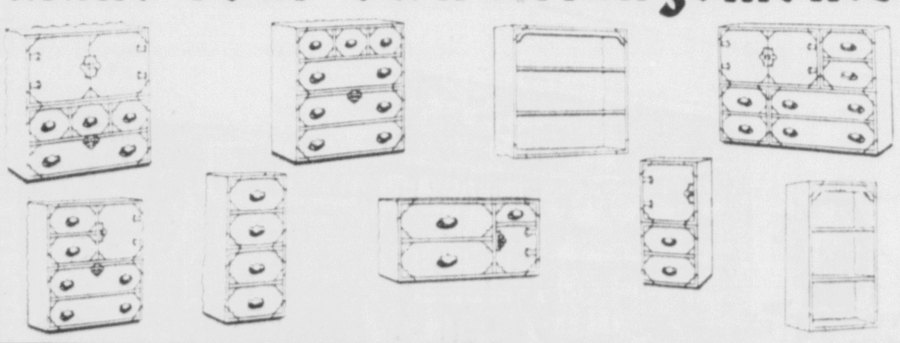
PASSPORT... A Touch Of The Far East

There's something exciting going on at Bellach's. It's the arrival of Thomasville's new collection of Oriental styled furniture — called PASSPORT. Having traveled extensively in the Orient, Charles and Viola Bellach are most enthused with this concept of Oriental design and it's adaptation for every room in the house. You, too, will be excited when you view this new collection. There is such a great selection that you can furnish a complete home, a room or add a piece to contrast with your present decor. For example — the authentic tea chest can double as a night stand . . . the functional storage unit is a bookcase in the den and a handsome dresser in the bedroom. Shown on this page are just a few of these fine items.

Bellach's is a Marin owned store . . . in fact, Marin's largest. It wasn't always the largest . . . but the devotion of the Bellach family to Marin living, and their feeling for furnishing Marin homes, their desire to please Marin families have made it the store it is today. If you appreciate friendly, warm interest in your home furnishing problems, expert guidance in your planning, and a selection large enough to fit into any Marin budget . . . you'll like visiting Bellach's.



Make Your Own Arrangements With PASSPORT



As you view this new idea from Thomasville, called Passport, notice the different modular cabinets shown. You'll see that as your needs change, these and other Passport designs move right along with you. They can be compacted for smaller spaces . . . used separately and satisfy many roles for the home decorator. Completeness and adaptability are key words for Bellach's. This is why they show you Passport . . . and why their store is completely stocked for everything in the home including draperies and carpets.

TIMELY AND TIMELESS...
